FLINN IN PHILADELPHIA.

In Conference With Democrats and Insurgents On New Party.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Senator Flinn was in the city today. He declined to be interviewed. His friends say he was in conference with Democratic and insurgent leaders. The "Ballot Reform" party, which Flinn is trying to float, was the subject discussed.

Republican leaders assert that Flinn's bolt on the Republican state ticket had been anticipated, also discounted, and that it will not lose Pennypacker any votes.

ZOLA BURIAL TO BE GIVEN ARMY HONORS

Funeral to Be Attended By an Imposing Demonstration.

CAPT. DREYFUS SEES REMAINS

WIFE OF AUTHOR IS SERIOUSLY ILL

[ASSOCIATED PRESS CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

Paris, Sept. 30.—The remains of Emile Zola will be interred in Montmartre cemetery on Friday. The funeral will be a civil ceremony, though probably the body will be accorded military honors, to which the deceased is entitled as an officer of the Legion of Honor. The League of the Rights of Man is organizing an imposing demonstration at the funeral and has issued an appeal for subscriptions to erect a monument to the dead novelist.

The body of Zola has been embalmed and this evening it was placed in an oak coffin in the center of the drawing room of the Zola residence. The room is already filled with wreaths and flowers.

Among the numerous telegrams of condolence, was one received Monday evening from former Capt. Dreyfus. This message was couched in affectionate terms and expressed M. Dreyfus' gratitude to the deceased. M. Dreyfus called at the house today and was admitted to see the remains. He manifested great emotion. Mme. Dreyfus, his wife, called subsequently and brought a handsome wreath of flowers. M. Dreyfus says he will attend M. Zola's funeral.

Among those who signed the register at Zola's house or sent condolences were Premier Combes, a majority of the cabinet ministers, M. Waldeck-Rousseau, Maitre Labori, Col. Picquart and M. Millerand.

Jules Clarretie has written for the Temps an eulogistic appreciation of Zola's literary labors, in which he says the name of the dead novelist "will resound in the history of French letters; his name and work will live for centuries," and concludes by recalling how the votes for Zola at the elections for members of the Academy dwindled until the last time there was only one recorded, "and," M. Clarretie says, "that vote was mine."

The autopsy on the remains of Zola has resulted in an official declaration that he died from asphyxiation, caused by carbonic oxide fumes.

A crowd of people, drawn there by curiosity, has remained in front of Zola's house since morning and his tragic death continues to be the chief topic of conversation here.

A medical bulletin issued today says: "Mme. Zola is progressing as satisfactorily as possible, in spite of the terrible shock caused by the news of her husband's death. Complete rest and isolation are indispensable. She had a heartrending fit of anguish when told of his death, which was only communicated to her this morning. It was followed by a state of torpor. She is now calm, but is unable to utter a word or make a gesture.

HENRY PHIPPS TALKS OF HIS GIFT TO BOERS

Asked Joseph Chamberlain if There Was Any Objection Before Sending His Check.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Henry Phipps, Jr., of the Carnegie Steel Company, who gave $100,000 to the relief fund for destitute Boers, arrived on the steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse today. Mr. Phipps was reluctant to talk about his gift, but said:

"I sent Arthur White, the author, to see Mr. Chamberlain before I decided what to do and the answer came back that the gift would be all right. If the situation had been changed and England had been the suffering country I would have given her the money."

MISS ALICE E. HAY WEDS.

Secretary's Youngest Daughter Bride of James Wadsworth, Jr.

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Miss Alice Evelyn Hay, youngest daughter of John Hay, secretary of state, was married this evening to James Wadsworth, Jr., son of Representative Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y. The ceremony was performed in the spacious amusement hall of The Fells, the summer residence of Mr. Hay, in Newbury, on the shores of Lake Sunapee.

The maid of honor was Miss Daisy Wilson of Washington, D. C., and the bridesmaids Miss Harriet Wadsworth of Genesee, sister of the groom; Miss Evelyn Rumsey of Buffalo, Miss Ruth Pruyn and Miss Gertrude Said, of Albany; Miss Ethel Greenough of Cleveland, Miss Catherine Eddy of Chicago, and Miss Frances Griscom and Miss Lilly Rhodes, of Philadelphia.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. C. Hayden, D. D., of Cleveland.

STAGE IS HELD UP IN NEW YORK STATE IN WESTERN STYLE

Three Masked Men on Horseback Cover Driver and Use Pistol Persauders.

PASSENGERS ARE ROBBED

Middletown, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The stage coach "Pioneer," which makes daily trips between Warwick and Goshen, was held up and robbed by three masked horsemen late this afternoon.

The coach was bowling along the road two miles from Florida and at a lonely spot on the road Clinton and Horatio S. Wisner, who own the coach and were on it, saw three horsemen suddenly emerge from the dense woods which lines the highway. Clinton was driving.

The robbers ordered him to pull up his horses. This he refused to do and the highwaymen opened fire with revolvers. None of the shots took effect, but the shooting compelled the whip to bring his horses to a stop.

Inside the coach were Mrs. J. A. Chamberlin, Mrs. Fred Webster, Mrs. James Fuller, Mrs. Hart and Mrs. Ed Johnson, all of Florida. While two of the highwaymen covered the Wisner brothers with their revolvers, a third, using many threats, compelled the passengers to give up all their money and valuables.

After the robbery had been completed the robbers spurred their horses and escaped.

When news of the hold-up became known posses of armed men were hastily formed and started a search for the highwaymen.

POPE EXHORTS CLERGY.

Priests in Philippines Asked to Use Their Influence to Re-Establish Peace.

ROME, Sept. 30.—A papal bull issued today on the subject of religious affairs in the Philippines, concludes with inviting all the clergy to use their best endeavors to bring about the re-establishment of peace and order, helping with their influence the authorities working to the same end.

The document exhorts the clergy to hold aloof from politics and to devote their attention to religion and to promoting, by every means, the welfare of the people under the new regime.

VICTIM OF STRIKE.

New York Coal Merchant, Embarrassed by Anthracite Troubles, Attempts to Kill Himself.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—In financial difficulty as a result of the coal strike, Henry C. Scheel, a coal merchant of this city, tried to kill himself today by shooting. The doctors say there is little hope for him.

Scheel is 45 years old. He lives with his wife and three children in a handsome residence and generally has been thought to be prosperous. A relative of Mr. Scheel said he had a large sum of money—about $200,000—tied up in litigation and that his business was his source of revenue.

The disturbance in the coal market had affected his business seriously, causing him to become despondent.

LIEUTENANT COMMANDER BRONAUGH VICTIM OF SUICIDE EPIDEMIC IN NAVY

New York, Sept. 30.—Lieut. Commander William V. Bronaugh of the United States navy committed suicide today on the battleship Kearsarge at the navy yard by blowing out his brains with a revolver. Friends believe he was very much worried over the manifold duties of his position as executive officer, which are considered to be more arduous than those of any other position in the navy. Purnell F. Harrington, captain of the Brooklyn navy yard, said:

"There is an epidemic of suicide in the navy, as surely as there was ever an epidemic of fever. Such a thing may occur and can be explained. The man has probably been thinking of the other suicides, which are very sad affairs, and then, in an unguarded moment, the desire to try it seized him and it was all over in a minute."

Commander Bronaugh was born in Kentucky and entered the naval academy in 1873.

MINERS' BEST TERMS GIVEN TO OPERATORS

Mitchell Has Secret Talk Over Telephone to Man in New York.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WILKESBARRE, PA., Sept. 30.—President Mitchell is still silent on his visit to Philadelphia Monday. He says he is not in a position to speak, but declares that the man he was in conference with did not represent the coal operators. Mr. Mitchell would not deny that indirectly the persons he represented might be authorized to speak for the coal company. The impression at strike headquarters is that the mysterious man in the case is one of J. P. Morgan's financial agents. It is also believed that the man who conferred with the miners' chief got his best terms for a settlement of the strike, and that those terms are now being discussed by the mine owners.

This evening President Mitchell talked over the telephone to New York. It is rumored that Mr. Mitchell may go to New York at almost any time now.

The mysterious John Smith of Wilkesbarre, who was in Pittsburgh with President Mitchell, did not arrive here today as expected. There is much speculation as to the actual object of the man, but none of the miners' officials or operators will acknowledge relations with him.

Just before he left Pittsburgh Smith tried to reach Senator Quay at his home in Beaver over the long-distance telephone, but was unsuccessful.

BRITAIN MAKES TERMS WITH MORGAN COMBINE.

Government's Announcement of Its Arrangement on Shipping Takes London By Surprise.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]

(Copyright, 1902, by the New York Herald Co.)

LONDON, Oct. 1.—The British government is making terms with J. P. Morgan. This unexpected condition of affairs in the steamship world is revealed by Gerald Balfour, president of the board of trade at Sheffield. It was probably the only safe course for the government to pursue.

While the Cunard company, by means of a loan and subsidy, is put in a position to fight for its share of the business of the North Atlantic, the government also has entered into an agreement with Mr. Morgan, by which, for 20 years, British ships in the combination will continue to fly the British flag, be manned by a given proportion of British men, and will be available on an emergency for the British government, while at least half of the future orders of the syndicate shall go to British yards.

Mr. Balfour's announcement of the arrangement was a big surprise. While the air has been full of rumors concerning an arrangement between the government and the Cunard company, there was apparently no suspicion that any deal was being fixed up with the Morgan syndicate.

The Daily News says: "If things develop on the present leviathian lines, Mr. Pierpont Morgan may yet be in a position to ask us all to move to 'Far Cathay' or some other region outside the sphere of his Olympian influence."

DYING BY THOUSANDS.

Filipinos Flee to Mountains, Leaving Cholera Victims Without Burial or Treatment.

MANILA, Sept. 30.—It is announced that 5,124 cases of cholera and 2,740 deaths from that disease were reported in the province of Iloilo, island of Panay, on Monday. This is the highest record for any district since the outbreak occurred and exceeds the total of Manila and many of the provinces since the commencement.

The town of Miago, in the province of Iloilo, was the worst sufferer, 1,173 cases being reported there Monday. At Cabatuan there were 939 cases and at Dumangas 395 cases were reported Monday. The people are fleeing to the mountains, leaving the dead unburied and the dying uncared for.

The government has ordered additional doctors and medicines to be sent to Iloilo. The number of victims makes ordinary sanitary measures impossible. The totals for all the provinces Monday were 5,390 cases and 3,091 deaths.

Fall Resulted in Death.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Lewis P. McFarland of this city who fell from a second-story window at his home Sunday evening, died this morning. He is survived by his widow and five children.

CAPITOL CONTRACT HAS BEEN AWARDED AT LOWER FIGURES

By Alterations, the Cost Will Be Reduced More Than $200,000.

PAINTINGS ARE ASSURED

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Sept. 30.—The contract for the construction of the state capitol by George F. Payne & Co. of Philadelphia was executed at a meeting today of the capitol commission. Architect Joseph M. Huston of Philadelphia said after the meeting that work would begin at once on the building and that it would be completed inside of 34 months.

The contract price of the building has been reduced from $3,710,000 to $3,505,656 by alterations and omissions made in the specifications by the commission. This saving of nearly $205,000 will enable the commission to carry out its contracts with Edwin A. Abbey of Philadelphia for mural decorations; George Gray Bernard of New York for sculpture, and paintings by Miss Violet Oakley of Philadelphia.

The appropriation for the building made by the last legislature is $4,000,000, and with the changes that have been made the commission is confident the structure will be completed within this amount. Architect Huston and B. W. Green of Washington both advised the commission that the changes which have been made would make no material alteration in the character of the building.

All meetings of the commission are secret and the members would not disclose tonight the alterations and omissions made in the specifications and provided in the contract. The contractors were at the meeting and the contract as prepared by ex-Representative Robert K. Young of Wellsboro, special attorney of the commission, was signed by both parties.

The board of public buildings and grounds has abandoned its scheme of erecting temporary buildings in Capitol park for the departments occupying the buildings that are to be torn down to make room for the new capitol. A large brick building, in East State street, near the park, has been leased and will be fitted up for temporary occupancy by these departments.

THREATEN TO BREAK SENATOR HILL'S SLATE

SARATOGA, N. Y., Sept. 30.—For governor, Bird S. Coler, Kings; lieutenant governor, Charles N. Buiger, Oswego; comptroller, C. M. Preston, Ulster; secretary of state, Frank H. Mott, Chautauqua; attorney general, John Cunneen, Erie; engineer, Richard W. Herman, Oneida; treasurer, D. J. Van Aukan, Ontario; judge court of appeals, John C. Gray, New York.

This is the ticket promulgated tonight from the headquarters of Senator Hill. The announcement was received quietly by the throngs in the hotel corridors, and later rumors were circulated that when it got before the convention it might not stand. One of the rumors was that Kings county was preparing a bolt. Senator McCarren said:

"It is useless to disguise the fact that several members of our delegations are not heartily in favor of Coler. We still believe that Judge Parker would accept if confronted with the fact that the convention wanted him by acclamation."

The committee on platform decided to declare for a 1,000-ton barge canal. It is reported that the committee on credentials, to avoid further trouble, will seat the delegation headed by Devery.

Toledo to Discuss Coal.

TOLEDO, O., Sept. 30.—Mayor Jones has called a mass meeting for October 2 to discuss the coal strike and encourage the citizens of Boston, who have applied for the appointment of receivers for the anthracite coal companies.

Acquitted of Murder.

CLARKSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The jury in the murder case of Edward Bone, for killing Maurice Sehon at New Martinsville, returned a verdict this afternoon of not guilty.

TRIED TO BRIBE A JUSTICE FOR TWO THOUSAND

Lawyer Who Held It Supposed to Represent the Biggar Plot.

HIS APPROACH VERY CAUTIOUS

Hoboken Magistrate Slow in Understanding and Slower in Biting.

THE ACTRESS' NURSE CANNOT BE FOUND

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
Herald Building, Herald Square,
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.

Lawyers and detectives who are gathering evidence bearing on the alleged Biggar conspiracy to appropriate the fortune of Henry M. Bennett have found two Hoboken police justices to whom overtures were made by a mysterious caller, who tried to induce them to "stand for" Millionaire Bennett and Laura Biggar. To one of these justices the suggestion was made boldly that if he could find a record of such a marriage among his papers it would be worth $2,000 to him.

Ex-Justice Adam Van Wyck, who professes to be a distant relative of the former New York mayor, told in detail today how he was approached. He is a hotel proprietor in Hoboken.

"It was some time last July," said he, "though I cannot remember the exact date. A stranger came in here and asked me if I could not recollect having married an old man to a much younger woman in the winter of 1898. As a matter of fact I had married such a couple about that time, and I told him so. I found the record of the couple I had in mind and immediately told him it was not the one he was looking for.

Bribe Not Suspected At First.

"He urged me to try to find the Bennett-Biggar record, and remarked that it would be made well worth my while if I could find such a record. I did not then suspect he intended anything wrong, as lawyers often have occasion to make such

CARNEGIE GAVE AWAY $45,000,000 IN A YEAR

He Averages About Eight Libraries a Day—English Borough Declines Gift.

LONDON, Sept. 30.—Andrew Carnegie, according to his own computation made to a friend, has recently given away nearly $45,000,000 per annum. He averages about eight libraries a day, giving an average of $15,000 to each. Apparently he does not anticipate a cessation of his daily donations.

The committee of the Marleybone borough council has drawn up a report recommending that the council thank Andrew Carnegie for his offer of $150,000 for the establishment of free libraries, "which they can not see their way to accept." The refusal is based on the objection of the borough to the increased tax rates which would be entailed by acceptance of the libraries.

NON-UNION NEGROES SENT FROM LEBANON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LEBANON, PA., Sept. 30.—The American Iron & Steel Manufacturing Company tonight sent away in a special train the 300 negroes who had been employed in its works as strike breakers. The negroes were loaded on the train in the works, at the eastern end of the city, under guard of two companies of the Twelfth regiment, and the train dashed westward through the city at top speed.

The departure of the negroes was not expected, and there was no demonstration. It is expected that the battalion of the Twelfth regiment on duty here will be ordered back to Shenandoah.

It is authoritatively stated tonight that the American company will move its mills to Pittsburgh. No further effort is to be made by the company to settle the strike. The company, however, will continue to operate its factory here, manufacturing chiefly bolts and nuts.

Roosevelt Able to Hold Conference.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—No bulletin was issued from the White House to-day, but it is was said the president's condition was satisfactory. He passed a comfortable night and participated today in the conference over the coal situation which was held at the temporary White House.

MINERS AND MANUFACTURERS AGREE TO CONFER ON STRIKE

Detroit, Sept. 30.—President D. M. Parry of the National Association of Manufacturers tonight received from President John Mitchell of the United Mine Workers, the following telegram in answer to one sent to him asking if the mine workers would be willing to appoint a committee to meet with a committee from the association and discuss a means of ending the coal strike:

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Sept. 30.

D. M. Parry, President National Association of Manufacturers:

Shall be pleased to appoint committee to confer with committee of National Association of Manufacturers. Should prefer meeting in the east.

JOHN MITCHELL.

Upon receiving President Mitchell's telegram Mr. Parry sent another telegram as follows:

John Mitchell, President United Mine Workers:

Telegram received. Your committee should represent those in full authority, including yourself. We suggest Buffalo as place of meeting, any day of this week you may designate. Advise number of your committee. Telegraph me here, in care of Hotel Cadillac, full particulars.

CABINET SEEKS MEANS TO SETTLE MINERS' STRIKE

President Calls Advisers to Discuss Situation With Him.

NO LAW IS FOUND THAT COVERS CASE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.—The good offices of the administration will be offered to end an intolerable situation which threatens great danger to the people of the United States. Moral suasion will be exercised by the government to settle the differences between the operators and miners in the Pennsylvania anthracite region. President Roosevelt is concentrating his attention on this grave problem.

If the moral suasion efforts of the administration meet with no success, efforts will be made whereby legal action may be taken to force a settlement. At the present time, however, there appears to be no course open to the government except to throw its influence toward a settlement.

At the temporary White House a conference was held with three cabinet officers, Attorney General Knox, Secretary Moody and Postmaster General Payne. Gov. Crane of Massachusetts was also present.

The gentlemen met with President Roosevelt first, and after the subject had been considered for some time they adjourned to another room and conferred together for an hour.

Second Conference Held.

They returned later in the day and held another conference with the president and the strike situation was discussed further.

President Roosevelt is deeply concerned over the situation. The approach of winter with a coal famine imminent, and the distress and suffering that must ensue unless coal becomes available, presents a situation which he thinks should receive the attention of the administration if there is anything that can be done by the government. Many appeals have been made to him, and many suggestions have been received, and it was with a view to ascertaining what power the federal authority could evoke that caused the conference to be held.

During the conference every phase of the situation was discussed. The general opinion of the advisers of the president was that the situation did not present a case in which there could be federal interference by any warrant of law. There has been no interference with federal au-

JUDGE ATTEMPTS TO KILL WIFE AND SELF

Had Brooded Over the Evidence in a West Virginia Murder Trial.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PARKERSBURG, W. VA., Sept. 30.—Crazed by brooding over the evidence in the Samuel Shepherd murder trial, Lewis Full, president of the county court of Wirt county, who had been a witness in that trial, this morning beat his wife over the head with a chair until she was unconscious, and then cut his own throat. He was found bleeding and trying to drown himself in a stream near the house where he and his wife were visiting.

Friends came here several days ago to have him treated for mental aberration. Full will recover, but his wife is in a critical condition. He was arrested.

SALT TRUST GOES UNDER.

Placed Under Receivership On Application Which Declares It Is Hopelessly Insolvent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—With a deficit of almost $300,000, the salt trust, legally known as the National Salt Company, went to the wall at Trenton today. Nathan Beardslee of Warsaw, N. Y., and Frank P. McDermott were named by Chancellor Magie of New Jersey as receivers.

The assets of the company when the last inventory was made, June 30, 1902, were $658,418, and the liabilities $1,150,136. Chauncey I. Strickland of New York, who holds 263 shares of the stock of the trust, applied for the appointment of the receivers, and in his petition he declares that the company is hopelessly insolvent. He says the company has more than 1,000,000 barrels of salt in storage for which it can find no market.

BODIES ARE FOUND.

Were Pennsylvania Victims of City of Pittsburgh Wreck on Ohio Near Paducah.

PADUCAH, KY., Sept. 30.—The bodies of L. L. Hunter and L. B. Magill, who were lost in the burning of the City of Pittsburgh last April, 30 miles below Paducah, were today found four miles below the wreck, and had apparently been covered with sand.

They were wealthy manufacturers of Tidioute, Pa., and several thousand dollars had been spent by relatives in the effort to find the bodies.

DEMOCRACY EVER BEHIND REPUBLICANS

Pennypacker Shows That Parties Differ Most in Matter in Time.

OCEANS NO MORE BARS TO GROWTH

Elkin Successfully Defends Party's Admistration of State Affairs.

GREAT ENTHUSIASM SEEN IN HUNTINGDON

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Huntingdon, Pa., Sept. 30.—A reunited Republican party, the elimination of factional lines and a confident prediction by leaders of both old factions of a Republican majority here of from 1,800 to 2,000 was a cheering feature of the hearty welcome accorded the Republican candidate for governor, ex-Judge Pennypacker, by the Republicans of Huntingdon county tonight. With practically no local fight on hand; with Republicans determined in their opposition to the election of any man to the legislature who would vote for a Democratic United States senator, Huntingdon county, like her sister county of Bedford, tonight emphatically served notice of her intention to remain immovably anchored in the line of loyal Republican counties.

There was also a flattering welcome to Attorney General John P. Elkin, who made a strong appeal to the Republicans of Huntingdon county to stand by the party of protection and prosperity and to emphasize their Republican loyalty with an old-fashioned Republican majority.

Undaunted By Bad Weather.

It was raining when the gubernatorial party reached here. It rained off and on all afternoon, and it rained harder than ever tonight; but Republicans of both former factions crowded the hotel all afternoon to meet the gubernatorial candidate and the attorney general, and a splendid audience, which filled the big court house to overflowing, braved the elements, earnestly listened to the speakers and accentuated their intelligent appreciation with frequent applause.

There was no attempt to whoop up enthusiasm, no parade to draw a crowd; but there was a spontaneous gathering of the people to register their disapproval of fake reform under a Democratic mask.

Just before leaving Everett this morning Judge Pennypacker was given a demonstration of his popularity which is not often accorded to one on such short acquaintance. It was the announcement of Dr. Miller that he had been called upon an important case last night.

"Yes," said the doctor, with a smile. "It was a bouncing boy, and we named him Samuel."

The gubernatorial candidate blushed, then smiled, and made a memorandum of the name, "Samuel Pennypacker Welshons, Everett, Bedford county," as some one remarked, "Rather rapid popularity, judge."

The Welcome at Huntingdon.

After a hearty Godspeed by the people of Everett, the party, on reaching Huntingdon, was accorded a rousing welcome. Ex-County Chairman H. E. Butz was chairman of a thoroughly representative reception committee, including Judge George B. Orlady, Surveyor Perry M. Lytle, J. M. King, ex-Prothonotary S. M. Steel, B. F. Goddard, Jerome Nophsker, J. Hall Miller, John A. Port, J. G. Isenberg, L. M. Beers, J. F. Schock, George D. Bert, Jack McCahan, John S. Bare, William Reed, Sr., G. W. Sanderson, G. Charles Port, K. The meeting in the court house was opened by County Chairman A. S. Welch, who introduced Hayes H. Waite as chairman. In a brief speech Mr. Waite said he considered it a cause for congratulation that the Republican party of Huntingdon county is reunited; that there is no longer Quayites and anti-Quayites, that all Republicans are ready to firm hold on the standard of Republicanism and march forward to successive victory.

Always After Republicans.

Judge Pennypacker was given a rousing ovation as he was introduced by Chairman Waite as the next governor of Pennsylvania. In the course of his remarks he said:

It has always seemed to me that the differences between the two parties are not so much differences with principles as they are with respect to the time at which those principles should be accepted as correct. When the Republican party came into control in 1861, there was great opposition to the theory of national unity and to the conduct of the war for the maintenance of that theory; and before a quarter of a century had elapsed even the defeated, as well as the Democrats of the north, were willing to concede that the overthrow of the Confederacy and the institution upon which it was based, was well worth the struggle and the sacrifice.

Nobody now disputes the wisdom with which the national credit was maintained by the payment of the national obligations in coin rather than in greenbacks. Few there are left now, except Mr. Bryan and the distinguished nominee of the Democratic party for the governorship of Pennsylvania, to contend for the unlimited issue of silver and for the necessity for two different standards of value; and even as to the tariff, he would be a hardy Democrat who, contrasting the conditions of the country under the presidency of Mr. Cleveland (when it became necessary to borrow money to meet the national expenditures) with the prosperity which followed the election of McKinley and has since continued, would insist upon any very radical change.

These measures that I have indicated, carried forward to successful fruition, are the promontories which mark in the past the pathway of Republican management of national affairs. May we not, then, entertain with some confidence the hope that 25 years hence, when the trade of the world is rushing through the canal completed across the isthmus, under Republican auspices, our Democratic friends will look back then, even though they do not so regard the matter now, with some pride to Manila bay and San Juan hill and with some complacency, to the Amer-

Oceans No Longer Barriers.

When viewed rightly, what an inspiring spectacle it is to see even an effort made to give to the millions of Malays, savages, half-breeds, outcasts and Spaniards in the Philippines a form of self-government to have the American idea of life set out where the whole world may view it, even under what might be regarded as unpromising conditions.

We are now confronted with the time when steam and electricity have dissipated the seas as barriers to human progress. Who seeks to limit the influence of a progressive and virile people by pointing to the shore line of the ocean, does an idle thing.

I am told our Democratic friends are picking up heart and growing more cheerful, that they entertain hopes of reducing the normal Republican majority in Pennsylvania down to the comparatively insignificant figure of 100,000 or 125,000. Last evening we had a meeting at Everett, in the heart of what is regarded as a disaffected region. If you could have been there and seen the thousands of people, the street filled for half a square from side to side with an interested audience, and if you could have heard the plaudits of that great multitude, your hearts would have gone out in sympathy for our Democratic friends and those newspaper fledglings who have been sent out with instructions to belittle these meetings.

A whirlwind of applause greeted Attorney General John P. Elkin when, in introducing him, Chairman Waite predicted for him a reward more exalted than the office of governor. Attorney General Elkin spoke at length upon the general issues of the campaign, reviewing many of the Democratic arguments.

Democratic Charges Answered.

In answer to the charge of mismanagement and extravagance on the part of the state administration, he said:

These charges are recklessly made and are not warranted by the facts. The truth is that the financial condition of the state was never so good as it is at the present time. All the money in the sinking fund could be applied to it, the remaining indebtedness of the state would be entirely wiped out.

It must not be forgotten in this connection, that the indebtedness of the state was inherited from the Democratic party and has been steadily reduced by Republican administrations. When the present administration was inaugurated there was a current deficiency amounting in round figures to about $3,500,000; that is to say, if all of the money in the treasury had been applied to the payment of the current indebtedness of the state, including appropriations of all kinds, there would still remain outstanding and unpaid an amount equal to that of the deficiency I have mentioned. This condition came about by a failure to raise sufficient amount of revenue to pay the ordinary expenses of the executive, judicial and legislative departments and the appropriations made to penal, charitable, eleemosynary and other institutions receiving state aid.

The first message sent by the present governor to the legislature called the attention of that body to the unfortunate condition of affairs, and immediately the governor and all of the state departments set about to provide a remedy. Some new revenue measures were passed by the legislature and a well-directed effort was made by the auditor general, state treasurer, attorney general and all other heads of department to collect a sufficient amount of revenue to make up the deficiency and improve the financial conditions of the state. The administration in this has been successful beyond its fondest expectations.

The Record Rounded Out.

At the present time every dollar of that deficiency has been made good, and the whole amount paid off. The state treasury is full to overflowing. The school appropriations were never so promptly paid as they have been during the past three years. This year the state treasurer is anticipating the payments, and in a very short time the school appropriation will be paid off in full.

But it has not been many years since the payment of the school appropriation was delayed for a whole year because there was not sufficient money in the treasury to make the payments. It is also true that all appropriations to charitable and other institutions are paid as soon as they are due. The credit of the state was never better than now. It is readily susceptible of proof that no state, from Maine to California, is in better financial condition at this moment than the commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

We are not only in position to pay all of the expenses of the state government and the appropriations made to its many charities, but we have laid up a fund with which to defray the extraordinary expenses which have devolved upon the state in the building of a new capitol. The $4,000,000 set apart by the last legislature for this purpose will be paid out of the ordinary revenues, and no additional taxation will be required to meet this expenditure.

In connection with this, the state has relieved the localities of the heavy taxation for the rebuilding of bridges destroyed by fire, flood or other casualities and has itself assumed those burdens. The act making this charge was passed in 1895, and under its provisions several bridges have been rebuilt.

The auditor general and state treasurer have been most diligent in the collection of all claims for taxes against delinquent corporations, and as a result of their systematic and painstaking efforts there are at this time scarcely any corporation upon the delinquent list.

Penrose to Join the Speakers.

All through his remarks Mr. Elkin was vigorously applauded, and when the meeting closed with an address by Gen. Latta three cheers were given for Judge Pennypacker and Attorney General Elkin.

The gubernatorial party will be joined by Senator Penrose, who will take Attorney General Elkin's place, at Montoursville tomorrow afternoon and at Williamsport tomorrow night.

Attorney General Elkin, who is compelled to leave the party for a few days to attend to pressing business, will speak at the Harrisburg meeting next Saturday night and at Williamstown on Saturday afternoon.

MANY CITIES ACCEPT.

Meeting in Detroit to Discuss Coal Strike Promises to Be Immense Gathering.

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—The telegraphic invitations sent out last night by Mayor Maybury to governors and mayors asking them to send delegations to a national conference on the coal strike, have met with a great number of acceptances and the proposed conference bids fair to be a tremendous gathering.

In answer to the message from Mayor Low of New York, asking for further particulars, Mayor Maybury sent the following telegram:

"Conference is expected to take up coal situation as it exists at date of meeting. Then will discuss best and most practicable means of obtaining that to which we are fairly entitled, viz., a coal supply. The plan to be pursued to enforce our demand must be governed by the wisdom of the conference and should be such plan as will be most effectively and promptly applied. Representation from the metropolitan city of the country would be most helpful."

Few messages were received that did not indorse the proposed conference.

MILWAUKEE, Sept. 30.—Gov. Robert M. La Follette opened the campaign for the Republicans of Wisconsin in this city tonight before an immense audience.

"I believe that not only all Republicans, but all citizens independent of political consideration, would concede that tariff revision can not effectively grapple, indeed, would be but a feeble, inadequate and uncertain remedy for the trust evil, which confronts us today," said Gov. La Follette.

RUSH FOR GAS.

Time for Free Service Connections Extended to October 15.

There was such a rush for free service connections at the office of the Philadelphia Company yesterday and Monday that it was decided to extend the time for making connections and setting meter free of charge, until October 15. After that day present non-consumers of gas who want the ideal fuel this winter will have to pay $5 or more for service lines. Because of the miners' strike hundreds of hard coal users are changing burners in house furnaces to allow the use of gas. Costs little to do it. Make application now for free service connections.

No danger of a scarcity of gas in the coldest weather. The Philadelphia Company has enough gas in sight to last the greater Pittsburgh 30 years. With proper fixtures gas is cheaper than a hard coal furnace. No ashes to haul out or dust to spread. And it's safe.

MUST USE BONDS WHILE THEY LAST

Secretary Shaw Says Bankers Misunderstood His Relief Measure.

HELPS WHOLE COUNTRY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 30.—Secretary Shaw gave out the following statement today:

"The department is in receipt of a large number of requests from banks, showing that the statement given out last night was misunderstood, or, rather, that it was not carefully read. That there may be no misunderstanding the following statement is made:

"No new deposits will be made on any security other than government bonds so long as government bonds can be secured. For the present banks seem to be able to obtain, frequently by borrowing, bonds other than 2 per cent consols. They can obtain the use of these bonds for a limited period, and they are as desirable as any for security for deposits. They are not as desirable as security for circulation, for the reason that circulation based thereon is taxable at 1 per cent, while circulation based on the 2 per cent consols is taxable at only ½ of 1 per cent.

Bonds Must Be Purchased.

"The banks cannot obtain, except by purchase, any bonds as a basis for circulation, because when deposited for circulation they cannot be released until the circulation is retired, and it may take a year before the circulation can be retired, and the price of bonds is so high that bank circulation is maintained at considerable loss to the banks. They must be encouraged or circulation constantly contracts.

"Therefore the department has decided to release, for such banks as have deposits and are not maintaining their limit of circulation, a portion of the bonds now held by the government, taking in lieu thereof other satisfactory security, on condition, always, that the bonds released will be used for the immediate use of additional circulation. This provision does not apply to those banks that already have their maximum circulation, neither does it apply to banks that do not have any deposits.

"The sole purpose of the offer is to increase circulation that is already printed and ready to be issued, and by banks that already have the bonds on deposit. These deposits being scattered throughout the entire country the relief offered, it is believed, will be national, rather than local, for it applies to all sections of the country, and to every state in the union."

Relief to Be General.

That the secretary has intended all along that the relief should be general and for the west as well as New York, was shown by a remark he made in explaining how the effect would be immediate in New York. He explained again how relieving the banks of the necessity of carrying reserve immediately gave them the opportunity to extend credits to four times the reserve released.

"You see," he continued, "your New York banks down here don't care anything for cash—they do their business by means of credits. Their loans and deposits are in the form of checks and bookkeeping, and all they want of cash is to maintain their reserves."

"Then what is the use of increasing circulation?" was asked.

"Oh," replied the secretary, instantly, "your banks here do not do all the business. When it comes to the western banks, when they want to make a loan for the purpose of paying for cattle or grain, they have got to pay out the actual currency. They don't do so much of their business on books. That is where the cash is needed, and they call on the banks here for it."

His Action Is Commended.

Secretary Shaw, during the day, received telegrams from bankers in various sections of the country commending his action.

Ex-Secretary of the Treasury Fairchild was one of those who met Mr. Shaw. Their talk was in private. Before going to the sub-treasury Mr. Fairchild had been asked his opinion of Secretary Shaw's action.

"It is a radical departure from precedent," said he, "but it is a good thing—it is just what is needed in the present circumstances."

Secretary Shaw was an early visitor at the sub-treasury. He came to the financial district to discuss the situation with bankers. His early callers included President Baker of the First National bank, Francis L. Hine, vice president of that bank, and Vice President Vanderlip of the National City bank. Chairman Elbert H. Gary of the United States Steel Corporation and James Stillman of the National City bank called in the early afternoon.

Russian Pianist Says They Are More Potent Than Money to Attracting Foreign Artists.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—"It is not so much American money as the American audiences that brings so many foreign artists to America," said M. Onsip Gabrilowitsch, Russian pianist, who arrived in New York today on the steamship Friesland.

M. Gabrilowitsch had broken engagements for a season that would have taken him through the continent and back to Russia to come to America under the management of Daniel Frohman.

"There is undoubtedly something that comes to the artist from the audience, even when there is no applause," he said. "I have felt it often after only a few bars had been struck. Sometimes the audience carries the artist. On my previous tour I found the American audiences so receptive and so eager to be pleased that it was an inspiration to play for them. Others have told me the same."

THE WEATHER.

According to the report of the Washington weather bureau the wet weather will end today. The forecast sent out last night states that there will be rain during this morning, with a general clearing up in the afternoon. For tomorrow the prediction is for fair and warmer conditions in Pittsburgh. Yesterday's maximum temperature fell 6 degrees behind that of the preceding day, the highest temperature recorded being only 67 degrees. The minimum was 45.

REV. DR. F. W. SNEED HOME FROM EUROPE

AMERICA'S PROGRESS IN A RELIGIOUS WAY.

Dr. Sneed Found It Even Greater Than Her Commercial Progress Compared With That of Europe—Benefits of Travel.

"America's advancement from a religious point of view over the whole of Europe, is even greater than it is from a commercial standpoint," said the Rev. Dr. Frank Sneed, pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, at the Hotel Kenmawr last night. Dr. Sneed returned yesterday from a three months' vacation in Europe. Continuing he said:

"The church abroad does not have the same influence that it does in America. In this country the church is a separate power and does a great good. The church in America is kept up by voluntary contributions of the people, while in nearly every foreign land the church is maintained by direct taxation of the people.

"Foreign churches are state affairs. They are controlled and governed by those in authority. My observations in Europe were that the masses do not want to be taxed for the support of the church, yet at the same time the taxpayers do not rebel, on account of the government leaders.

"Abroad, it seems to me, the people fear the church rather than love it. Here again it is quite different. This is a free country. A man is not compelled to accept any religious belief. To my mind it is far better to have the church separate from the state, and the great religious freedom enjoyed by American people is solely on this account."

The Rev. Dr. Sneed left Pittsburgh July 2. He spent some time in England, and was in London 10 days. He visited Ireland, Scotland, Germany, Austria, Holland, Belgium and France. He spent a week in Paris and was at Carlsbad for some days.

"Carlsbad is the universal resort for persons troubled with liver complaint," he said. "While at that resort I met many Americans. Among others Secretary of War Root, who had been at the resort for some time. Mr. Schwab had not yet arrived when I left, but he was expected in a short time. When I left Carlsbad I thought of the saying, 'What is life without a liver?'

"My idea on this tour of Europe was to get merely a birdseye view of the country, and rather impressions than a minute view. I took great delight in coaching through the continent. By this manner of travel one gets a fine chance to study rural life.

"It has been an exceedingly cold summer abroad. The nights, especially, in nearly every point I visited, were cool and the weather was sometimes unenjoyable. The number of Americans I saw abroad impressed me. One feels more at home in a strange land where there are English-speaking people.

"When it is possible, I believe every minister who has charge of a city church should spend his vacation abroad. Of course I do not mean to say he should go every year, but once every few years. Travel is a great education to anyone. It is instructive and a pleasure. But people should travel wisely. City pastors should also travel a great deal in America. There is nothing quite so helpful as a thorough knowledge of your native land, and this can only be correctly acquired by extensive travel and study."

Deserted Husband Advertises His Grievances by Publication of Jingling Verses.

YORK, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Ichabod Glassmayer, a deserted husband of this city, is either of a fervid poetical fancy or takes his desertion lightly. In the advertising columns of the local papers he airs his grievances in these lines:

Nancy, my wife, has grown quite rude,
She has left me in a lonesome mood;
She has left my board and taken my bed,
She has given away my meat and bread;
She has left me in spite of friends and church;
She has carried with her all my shirts;

Since she has cut this luckless caper,
I will not pay one single fraction
Of any debts of her contraction.

MUNICIPAL ACTS VALID.

Ohio Supreme Court Holds City Governments Valid Until New Code Becomes Operative.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—The supreme court in passing upon a case brought from Springfield, today announced its determination not to recognize any petition questioning the acts of city governments, on the ground that the laws providing for such governments are unconstitutional in accordance with the court's decision in the Cleveland charter case.

All city governments affected by the decision in the Cleveland case will be regarded as de facto governments, and their acts as valid until the new municipal code shall become operative.

New York Ferry Strike Averted.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—George Abler, national president of the Marine Engineers' Benevolent association, announced tonight that the ferry engineers had been granted an advance in wages of from $100 to $120 a month, a 56-hour working week and $1 an hour for overtime.

BIG REPUBLICAN MEETING

Charles Emory Smith States Three Issues in the Pennsylvania Campaign.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Over 1,500 people assembled in the opera house tonight in spite of a hard rain to hear Charles Emory Smith of Philadelphia refute the statements of Ex-Gov. Pattison. He was introduced by County Chairman John B. Brown.

Mr. Smith said three great questions for Pennsylvania voters are whether men are to be elected to support the protection policy begun by McKinley and continued by Roosevelt; whether a Republican legislature is to be elected which will stand for the enactment of an honest election law and ballot reform, and whether Pennypacker is to be governor. He closed with a tribute to the integrity and character of Judge Pennypacker.

He will address meetings in several cities, try to induce the Poles to return to their own country, arrange for those remaining to receive some economic training and organize Polish associations.

WENT AWAY LEAVING WORD THAT HE HAD A JOB ON AN AIR-SHIP.

"Dear Annie—I have secured a job as conductor on an airship. You may go your way and I shall go mine. Yours, Harry."

This is the substance of a letter Mrs. Harry Howell received the morning after her husband failed to appear as usual at the close of the day's work. The Howells had roomed for two months at No. 814 Church avenue, Allegheny. The husband's disappearance took place about six weeks ago, according to Mrs. Margaret Ramsey, the woman at whose house the couple roomed. Mrs. Ramsey was not very well acquainted with the Howells, she says. Harry Howell was a traveling salesman for an Allegheny leather house. He and his wife had been married for about six years, they said. After Howell disappeared Mrs. Howell told Mrs. Ramsey that this was the fourth time he had deserted her.

Now Mrs. Howell has begun a systematic search for the missing husband. She has sent to the Philadelphia Public Ledger a photograph and description of him and asked for the paper's help in locating him. Apparently she has reason to believe that he went to that city.

For about three weeks after her husband's leaving Mrs. Howell remained at No. 814 Church avenue. Later she went to a boarding house in Sandusky street, Allegheny, but afterwards left there and it is not known now where she is.

TO SEE IF CITY CAN BORROW IT

Possible Way to Raise Money for Techincal School Site.

MEANS WERE DISCUSSED

Reported at a Meeting of Committees That a Supreme Court Decision May Permit a Loan Without a Vote of the People.

The technical school site is again up to City Solicitor Carnahan. The joint committee yesterday again appointed a committee to confer with that official regarding the power of city councils to borrow money to buy a site without asking the consent of the people. Mr. Carnahan will meet the committee this morning and will tell it that, under a decision of the supreme court announced a month ago, councils have a right to increase the indebtedness of a city to 2 per cent of the taxable valuation without the consent of the people, provided the 7 per cent limitation is not exceeded.

The councilmanic committee on site met with the plan and scope committee and the committee of municipal relations and spent two hours in discussion, without deciding upon anything. W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees of Carnegie institute, who is looked upon as representing Mr. Carnegie, made a strong speech against the park site, saying it was undignified of Pittsburgh to ask Mrs. Schenley to consent to it. W. E. Sankey, W. D. Zahniser, W. L. Scaife and others made speeches against the park site.

W. N. Frew Entered an Objection.

At the opening of the meeting, Chairman Gebhart Sahner of the councilmanic committee explained that his committee had decided that the park site is the best but that the city solicitor had ruled that this site could not be used without the consent of Mrs. Schenley.

Mr. Frew, in his speech, said: "I still think that it would be better to take the 11-acre tract, if there is any way in which it can be bought. The street car facilities recommend the 11-acre tract to me very much."

W. H. Stevenson submitted a motion that Solicitor Carnahan be sent to Europe to make the following proposition to Mrs. Schenley: That the city use the $860,000 of bond money which it has to buy the 11-acre tract, and add it to the park, that, in consideration of this, Mrs. Schenley give her consent to locate the school in the park, as it would thus add to the park just as much land as would be taken away if the park site were used. After a great deal of discussion, Mr. Stevenson withdrew his motion, as a number of speeches had been made concurring in the view of Mr. Frew.

Will Consult the Solicitor.

Col. S. H. Church then said he had been informed by a high legal authority that the supreme court had recently held that a city could issue bonds up to 2 per cent of its taxable valuation, without the consent of the people.

Mr. Stevenson moved that a committee of three be appointed to confer with Solicitor Carnahan relative to the power of the city to increase its indebtedness to 2 per cent of its taxable valuation without the consent of the electors. This motion prevailed and the following committee was appointed: Henry Fitzpatrick, D. F. Crawford and W. D. Zahniser.

The supreme court about a month ago, in a case in which the city of Scranton was interested, ruled that that city had the right to increase its indebtedness to 2 per cent of its taxable valuation without the consent of the people, providing that the 7 per cent limitation is not exceeded.

$1,800,000 to Go On.

The net indebtedness of Pittsburgh is about $4,200,000. Two per cent of the taxable valuation is about $6,000,000. This city has the right, under that decision, to increase its indebtedness $1,800,000 more than at present. Under that decision of the supreme court, it is not a question of issuing bonds, but simply one of borrowing money.

D. F. Crawford served notice yesterday that he would not vote for an increase of the indebtedness without the consent of the people.

CODE BILL PASSED.

Ohio Senate Finally Agrees on Municipal Measure—House Outlaws Ping-Pong.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 30.—The senate spent the forenoon discussing amendments to the governor's code, which relate to the regulation of liquor traffic by council. Senator Harding offered an amendment giving council power to regulate the traffic, but not the power to prohibit and protect the Beal law against repeal by implication. This amendment was adopted. It leaves the Beal law stand on its own merits, subject to attack upon constitutional grounds.

In the house an amendment to the code bill outlawing ping pong was sustained.

A vote on the code bill was reached by the senate late in the afternoon. The bill was adopted with but few changes.

COWBOYS WILL RACE.

Notwithstanding Roosevelt's Objection They Will Ride to Chicago.

LA CROSSE, WIS., Sept. 30.—James Brady of the Black Hills, who is here, announces that notwithstanding President Roosevelt's opposition to the cowboy race from the Black Hills to Chicago, the event will take place October 26. The amount of money wagered is over $50,000. Horse owners and those who are betting on the race will follow the broncho in a special train, to leave at the same time the race is started and run on slow schedule, so as to arrive at Chicago at the same time as the racers.

NEW GAS PIPE LINE.

Its Projectors' Aim Is to Supply Northern Ohio Towns.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 30.—The Northern Ohio Natural Gas and Pipe Line Company of this city was incorporated at Columbus today to pipe natural gas from the central part of the state to cities and towns in northern Ohio. Ultimately the concern will be capitalized at $1,000,000 or more.

The intention of the new company is to supply natural gas to such cities as Elyria, Lorain, Norwalk and Sandusky.

CABINET SEEKS TO SETTLE THE STRIKE

thority in the mining region. It was pointed out that there was no occasion for the use of federal troops, as Gov. Stone had not called on the government for assistance.

Discuss Receivership.

The question of the right to seek appointment of receivers for the mines, in order that they might be operated, was discussed, but neither in the constitution nor in any known law could any legal warrant be found for such action, though the discussion on such lines even went so far as the consideration of how the properties could be relinquished and control surrendered, after the object of supplying coal had been accepted, assuming the federal government could intervene through receivers.

Gov. Crane's presence naturally brought into prominence the proceedings begun in the Massachusetts court to secure the appointment of receivers for the coal properties, but the opinion was expressed that the situation could not be met successfully by this method.

During the day advices were received that the strike might be settled by the operators and the miners themselves, and it was suggested that hasty interference of any kind by the federal government might prevent the consummation of the plans for strike settlement, if any such were maturing.

Seeking Proper Means.

While recognizing the futility of efforts to end the strike that could accomplish nothing, it was stated that the president was anxious that the end of the strike should be brought about at the earliest possible moment and that, if the attorney general or any other member of the cabinet could devise a method by which the president could proceed, that he would not hesitate to adopt it, unless meanwhile assurance of a settlement were received.

The conference will be resumed tomorrow, at which time Secretary Root, who spent today in New York, will be present. It is understood that the visit of Secretary Root to New York was for the purpose of consulting prominent business men on the subject.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—Mayor Samuel Ashbridge today made asignificant statement bearing on the coal strike. He had been asked by the mayor of Detroit to appoint a committee of 10 to attend a peace meeting to be held in Detroit October 9. Mayor Ashbridge made public his reply, which was a declination based upon the assumption that the strike would be over before the date fixed for the Detroit meeting. Beyond this bare statement Mayor Ashbridge declined to be quoted, but an impression obtains that he is cognizant of negotiations which promise an early settlement of the labor trouble.

Petrified Body in River.

EVANSVILLE, IND., Sept. 30.—While a sand digger was at work in the river here, today, the petrified body of a man was brought to the surface. Indications are that the victim was a white man who had been murdered. The arms had been pinioned. A hole, seemingly made by a bullet, appears in the chest.

TOO GREAT EXPENSE

Not the Reason.

It is not because Pyramid Pile Cure is so expensive that many people decline to give it a trial, but because they find it too great a tax on their credulity to believe that the published letters bearing testimony to the merit of this remedy are genuine and bona-fide; especially to those who have realized the suffering incident to piles is it incredible that anyone who has been afflicted twenty-five and thirty years with the worst forms of protruding and bleeding piles should be cured by the application of a simple remedy, when their physician has assured them that the only relief is in a surgical operation. This is rightfully viewed with dread by all those afflicted, as it means at the least a great shock to the nervous system, with more than a possibility of utter collapse and death; in the majority of cases, too, there is a return of the complaint, owing to the fact that the cause is not removed.

The proprietors of Pyramid Pile Cure agree to forfeit one thousand dollars to anyone who will show a single published testimonial to be not genuine and unsolicited; this latter feature is most gratifying, inasmuch as these letters are written solely out of gratitude, and with the hope that those who are afflicted as the writers have been may learn that relief is at hand, at a comparatively trifling expense. Pyramid Pile Cure is for sale by druggists at fifty cents a package, or will be mailed by the makers to any address upon receipt of price.

Mr. Wm. Lichtenwalter, head of the largest printing house in Canton, Ohio, says: It is with the utmost pleasure and satisfaction that I can say I believe I am cured of protruding and bleeding piles, after suffering more than twenty-five years. I have been in bed for two weeks at a time. I have not suffered in the least for over a year, and I used only three fifty-cent boxes of Pyramid Pile Cure. I advise every person suffering with this distressing and painful complaint to give this remedy a trial. I have every confidence in it." Write the Pyramid Drug Co., Marshall, Mich., for their book on the causes and cure of piles.

researches. I continued to look through my record book, and finally closed it, saying to my visitor:

"There is no such record here. I never performed a ceremony between the persons named."

"Don't be hasty," said he. "It's a pity you cannot find it, because there would be $2,000 in it for you if you could."

"As he said this he looked at me narrowly, and then for the first time I understood that he was offering me a bribe. I told him that $2,000 could not alter the facts, and that as I had never married such persons, that was final, so far as I was concerned. He wanted to know if I did not think I could be mistaken, and I had to almost order him out before he would leave.

"When I went down stairs I said to my wife that I could have made $2,000 since I went to my office if I had been willing to be a crook. She laughed and asked me how, and I told her about it."

Another Justice Approached.

It was not until wide publicity was given the Biggar-Bennett scandal that Mr. Van Wyck associated the incident with that alleged conspiracy. Similar disclosures were made by Justice of the Peace Frank O'Keefe.

Despite diligent effort, nobody has been able to find the nurse, who, according to Dr. Hendrick's sworn testimony, on September 19 attended Laura Biggar during the birth of her child and afterward cared for the infant. Under cross-examination Dr. Hendrick gave the woman's name as Mary Hanson and her address as 64 Division street, New York.

Massive Slow-Combustion Building Now Being Erected.

TO COST OVER $150,000

Is Designed to Carry Enormous Weight on Each Floor and Will Be Practically Fireproof—Stairways on Outside.

Massive foundations are about completed for the heaviest building of slow-combustion mill construction ever erected in Pittsburgh. The building is being erected in West Carson street near the Point bridge for W. W. Lawrence & Co., paint manufacturers, after plans and under direction of William Glyde Wilkins, engineer and architect. The floors are to be built to sustain a weight of 400 pounds to the square foot. The heaviest grinding machinery of the works will be on the top floor, the process of manufacture to run down to the lower floor and the storage department will be in the basement. The building will ultimately be 10 stories and basement. The cost of construction, outside of equipment, will be over $150,000.

The building will extend from West Carson street to the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad tracks, a depth of 170 feet. It will be 100 feet wide. On the Carson street side has been erected a retaining wall 60 feet high and 18 feet wide at the base. Along the side walls and on the railroad front the supports of the structure are 109 concrete piers, from 28 to 40 feet deep, put down from 36 to 40 feet. Above the piers and foundations the walls of brick graduate from a thickness of 36 inches to 18 inches at the top.

The walls will be of red stock brick with stone trimmings. Resting on heavy columns of Oregon fir some 28 inches square and girders of the same material will be the solid wooden floors made of 2x10-inch joists of yellow pine set on edge and with heavy maple flooring on top. There will be two freight elevators and one passenger elevator in the building, one of the freight elevators to carry 6,000 pounds and the other 8,000. These will be operated within bridge shafts. The general plan is to obviate a possible fire from being communicated from one floor to another. To make the fire scheme more complete the stairways of steel will all be on the outside of the building.

The building will have a water plant of its own, besides being connected with the city supply. There will be water storage tanks on the roof, one supplying the automatic fire system running throughout the building and the other to hold the supply for the building.

The Drake-Stratton Company has nearly completed its contract on the foundations and the George Hogg Company will erect the superstructure.

MET VIOLENT DEATHS.

Out of a Total of 84 Reported, Seven Resulted From Murder—Other Coroner's Cases.

The total number of cases reported at the Allegheny county morgue for September was 84. Of this number nine persons were unclaimed and buried in the Highland cemetery. Four of these were unidentified. The causes of deaths were as follows: Eight committed suicide, 7 murdered, 36 killed on railroads, 10 killed by street cars, 12 killed by falls, 14 burned, 5 crushed in mines, 1 electrocuted and the rest died of heart disease and alcoholism.

Carmine Liberatore, 18 years old, a laborer, employed by the Pittsburgh Construction Company, was instantly killed yesterday morning by falling 90 feet from a trestle near Shaleryville. Liberatore was riding in a "dinkey" train used in carrying dirt and rock from the excavation being made for the West Side Belt line, and when near the middle of the trestle lost his balance and rolled off the car. He was dead when picked up.

Conrad Lippold, 23 years old, employed by the Pittsburgh Construction Company, while returning home from work yesterday morning fell in front of an engine on the West Side Belt line and his head was cut off. He lived in Shalersville.

An unknown man about 30 years old was instantly killed at Pitcairn last evening by a Pennsylvania train.

Police Looking For J. Furman, Who Is Said To Have Defrauded Steel People.

The Pittsburgh police have been asked to look for J. Furman, formerly of this city, who is wanted in Syracuse, N. Y., on a charge of grand larceny. Furman was in the steel business and during the last five months is supposed to have defrauded various steel firms out of $60,000. In Syracuse he is charged with swindling a local firm out of $500. He represented himself as the buyer for the American Steel and Iron Company of Lebanon, Pa., and on September 26 contracted for a lot of junk iron.

The junk was turned over to him and shipped to Lebanon, but the money was not forthcoming. On investigation it was learned that the steel company in Lebanon had bought the scrap from Furman and had paid him.

He is described as being a very businesslike looking man, about 30 years old, with dark hair and eyes. At one time he was employed in Pittsburgh.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION.

Opening Session of Christian Church Society Held in Braddock.

The annual convention of the Western Pennsylvania Missionary society of the Christian church opened yesterday in the First Christian church, Braddock. Each of the 48 churches in the society was represented by a delegate.

The Rev. E. W. Thornton of the Hazelwood church opened the afternoon session with a sermon. He denounced sectionalism in the pulpit. Other addresses were made by Robert S. Latimer, president of the association, and half a dozen delegates, who talked on the best manner of further mission work in Western Pennsylvania. Reports on membership and collections were read by the Revs. C. Phillips, W. R. Carter, C. R. Smith, F. Lee Perry, E. A. Bosworth, T. Campbell, R. J. Bamer, W. N. Arnold, W. S. Kidd, N. D. Wells, J. M. Davies and Harvey S. Stoner.

The report of the financial secretary, the Rev. J. A. Joyce, showed that during the year $2,000 had been collected. The membership of the association is 2,349, the Sunday school membership being 11,156. A special praise service was held last night, conducted by the Rev. Albert Yuell, and the annual convention sermon was delivered by the Rev. J. T. Kerns of the First Christian church of Allegheny. It is expected that four or more delegates will be present at today's session.

PLAY FOR GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

TOURNAMENT BEGINS TODAY AT SEWICKLEY.

Professionals and Amateurs of Local District Will Begin Their Competition.

The Western Pennsylvania Golf association's fourth annual championship tournament will open this morning on the Allegheny Country club course, back of Sewickley, with 36 holes of medal competition for the open championship. In this event the professional coaches, as well as the amateur players of the clubs belonging to the association, are eligible, the first prize being $25, the second $15, and the third $10.

If won by an amateur the first prize will be awarded in plate, but the second and third are open only to professionals. This event has never yet been taken by an amateur, the winner last year being Arthur Smith, then the professional of the Edgewood Golf club, but now employed at Washington, D. C. John Dingwall, the Allegheny professional, who will be playing over his home course; Nichol Thompson of Edgewood, and Ernest Way of Pittsburgh, are the professional favorites for today's event, while E. M. Byers, George Ormiston and John E. Porter are the amateurs likely to return the lowest scores for 36 holes.

The play for the amateur championship honor, now held by E. M. Byers, will start on Thursday with 36 holes of qualifying play, a bronze medal being offered for the lowest score. The eight lowest scores qualify for the championship cup now held by the Allegheny Country club, the second eight qualify for the second cup offered by the association, and the third eight for a cup offered by F. X. Barr. Two 18-hole rounds of match play will be decided in each eight on Friday, with the final 36-hole matches on Saturday. The new amateur champion receives a gold medal and the runner up a silver one. On Saturday an 18-hole handicap will also be decided for a cup offered by John Moorhead, Jr. Special conveyances will meet the trains, leaving Allegheny at 8 and 8:30 a. m. and 1:45, 2:45 and 6:10 p. m.

The contestants for the open championship today will play as follows: 10:20, B. S. Horne and J. C. Thaw; 10:35, W. C. Fownes, Jr., and H. R. Rea; 10:40, C. B. Fownes and W. N. Murray; 10:45, W. C. Fownes and J. E. Porter; 10:50, W. J. Patton and W. C. Robinson; 10:55, F. X. Barr and F. H. Denny; 11, John Dingwall (professional, Allegheny C. C.); 11:05, E. M. Byers and Ernest Way (professional, Pittsburgh G. C.); 11:10, L. G. Walker (professional Country club) and G. A. Ormiston; 11:10, John Moorhead, Jr., and George Keddie (professional, Edgewood club); 11:20, Nichol Thompson (professional, Edgewood) and C. D. Thompson.

LOCAL WOMEN DID NOT QUALIFY AT GOLF

Miss Curtis and Miss Wells Tied For Leadership Among the 80 Starters in Championship Tournament.

BROOKLINE, MASS., Sept. 30.—Through fog and mist and over the soggy turf of the Country club, plodded today 80 of the best women golfers of the country in the qualifying round of the national championship. Miss Margaret Curtis of the Essex County club, Manchester, Mass., and Miss Louisa A. Wells of the Home club tied for the first place, with scores of 80 each. Miss Ruth Underhill of the Nassau Country club, Glencove, Long island, and Miss Georgianna Bishop of the Brooklawn Golf club of Bridgeport, Conn., tied for third place, with scores of 90 each. Thirty-two players, with scores ranging up to 107, are in the running for the first round of match play tomorrow.

The following qualified for match play: Miss Margaret Curtis, Essex County club, Manchester, Mass, 80; Miss Louisa A. Wells, Country club, Brookline, 80; Miss Ruth Underhill, Nassau club, Glen Cove, N. Y., 90; Miss Georgianna Bishop, Brooklawn Golf club, Bridgeport, 90; Mrs. E. A. Mrs. Elliott Rodgers and Mrs. R. P. Nevin, Jr. of the Edgeworth club of Sewickley and Miss Bessie M. Howe of the Pittsburgh Golf club were entered, but failed to qualify.

Golf Events Postponed.

The match play competition for the members championship trophy of the Pittsburgh Golf club, has been postponed until next week, owing to the play this week for the more important championship trophy of the Western Pennsylvania association. The final match in the women's handicap match play tournament at Sewickley, was prevented yesterday by rain.

STRIKE FEVER INFECTS BOYS

Sons of Miners Refuse to Attend School With Sons of Non-Union Men.

ALL QUIET IN REGION

Sheriff Knorr of Columbia County Arrests 127 Men at One Time Without Assistance—Col. O'Neil's Troops at Mt. Carmel.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 30.—Sixty boys from the Poderly school in Carbondale township went on strike today because seven children of non-union miners would not be turned out. They then marched with banners and drums to the Mayfield school and induced the boys there to strike. A majority of the pupils at No. 11 school in this city struck this morning because coal which was being delivered at the school was reported to be mined by non-union men.

Perfect quiet reigned throughout the Lackawanna region today. The Thirteenth regiment had but one call, and that proved to be a false alarm.

SHENANDOAH, PA., Sept. 30.—Sheriff Knorr of Columbia county arrested 127 strikers at Centralia this afternoon. They were charged on warrants with rioting and inciting to riot.

The sheriff attended a special meeting of the Centralia local union of United Mine Workers at which the 127 men were surrendered. Hearings in the cases will be held at Bloomsburg tomorrow. No deputies were with the sheriff when the arrests were made.

MT. CARMEL, PA., Sept. 30.—Six companies of the Fourth regiment, commanded by Col. O'Neil, arrived here this morning. When they alighted in the Reading railroad yard, northeast of the town, over 2,000 strikers assembled, but made no demonstration. The soldiers are now distributed along the Reading railroad until Gen. Gobin, who arrived here on a special train from Shenandoah, selects a permanent encampment site. Everything is quiet here at present.

TAMAQUA, PA., Sept. 30.—After a lapse of several days troops were again sent through the Panther creek valley this morning. This action was taken because the turbulent element has been acting in a boisterous manner in their effort to intimidate non-unionists on their way to work. The presence of the soldiers had a quieting effect, and although strikers' pickets were out in force there was no disturbance.

FOUL PLAY FEARED.

Harry Wechter, Trusted Collector For Nelson Morris & Co., Mysteriously Absent.

Police Supt. McAleese was asked yesterday to search for Harry Wechter, a collector for Nelson Morris & Co. of Liberty avenue, who disappeared on September 26. Members of the firm suspect that he met with foul play while making his collections.

Wechter had collected about $365 when he disappeared. This was a comparatively small amount, for he usually had a much larger sum with him after making a collecting trip. He was a trusted man and had been in the employ of the company for many years.

In addition to Pittsburgh, Wechter made collections in Wilkinsburg, Homestead and McKees Rocks. It was his custom after making the trip to the East End to go to McKees Rocks. It was first supposed that he had committed a fraud and stolen the company's funds. The firm does not believe he did this.

BLOCK SIGNAL TO DO WONDERS

Could Transform One-Millionth Volt to a Million Volts.

THIS, WITHOUT A RELAY

Cohen Automatic-Electric Block Signal Company, with $1,000,000 Capital, Completed Its Organization Yesterday.

The Cohen Automatic Electric Block Signal Company, which promises to revolutionize block signalling practices on the railroads, completed its organization in the Allegheny Trust Company offices yesterday. The head of the company and the inventor of the new system, George W. Cohen, has devised an important improvement, for which patents have been applied, and which will become the exclusive property of the company. Under this improvement, Mr. Cohen stated last night, the machine can take the one-millionth part of a volt from the track circuit, if necessary, and transform it into 1,000,000 volts.

The organization of the company effected yesterday is with the following directors: George W. Cohen of Allegheny, the inventor; W. C. McElheny, Pittsburgh manufacturer; George F. Neale, vice president and general manager of the Standard Plate Glass Company, Butler; John B. C. Wheeler, paint manufacturer, Allegheny; C. L. Stevens of the Stevens Chair Company, Pittsburgh, and George H. B. Martin of Camden, N. J. Mr. Cohen was elected president and general manager of the company, W. C. McElheny vice president, Charles Schneider, treasurer of the Allegheny Trust Company, treasurer, and George F. Neale secretary.

Work of 15 Years Completed.

The Allegheny Trust Company is the register of the stock of the Cohen company. The issue is $1,800,000, all common. Headquarters of the company are at No. 109 East Lacock street, Allegheny.

The company was launched to install the systems of block signalling, which the inventor has completed after a work of 15 years. Demonstrations under this system have been made for many signal engineers of leading railroads, and the inventor has stacks of statements from these engineers pointing out the advantages of the new system. The new improvement will much enhance the operation of the system, while at the same time the mechanism will be no more complicated than with the machines used before. Only four small pieces of electrical machinery are employed.

The scheme under which the minutest fraction of a volt may be transformed to as high as 1,000,000 volts, involves the use of no relays or step-ups. The inventor said last night of the system:

Relay is Done Away With.

"We obviate all of the many dangers attributed to the use of the relay, which is now used in connection with all other railway signaling systems in this country and in Europe. We do away with the relay entirely. Dangers arising from the use of the relay, both in telegraphy and railway signaling, are found in the corrosion of platinum points and from the dust which accumulates on these points and insulates them, thereby preventing the current from passing through. With other systems, either pneumatic or electro-pneumatic, there is always danger of some of the parts freezing and rendering the system useless when it is most needed. There is absolutely no possibility of our machines freezing.

"Our machine is notably free of superfluous parts. I have made this one of the principal studies in perfecting the system, because complicated mechanism threatens the working of the machine.

"Another important feature is that with our machine it is absolutely impossible in case a train should break in two while in the block and when the engine and a part of the train passes on, that it throws the signal block of the portion left behind at safety.

Danger Always Indicated.

"As long as any car or portion of the train remains in the block the signal back of it shows danger. The locomotive and portion of the train in the block ahead may be backed into the block where the other portion of the train has been left and still the signal at the rear will show danger. It does not matter how often the signal ahead is passed, the one at the rear will show danger so long as there is anything on the track in that block."

Mr. Cohen expects to have one of the improved machines ready for demonstration about November 1. There will be a large gathering of railway signal engineers to witness it.

Washington Bonds Sold.

WASHINGTON, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The Washington borough council last night awarded the entire issue of $150,000 bonds for street improvements, authorized at the recent special election, to W. J. Hayes & Sons, of Cleveland, O., at a premium of $1,540.50.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains the linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it, or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

You may have a sample bottle of Swamp-Root and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail. Address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention that you read this generous offer in the Pittsburgh Daily Gazette. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

First Fall and Winter Millinery Opening

Today, Thursday and Friday

THIS being the first Fall and Winter opening of the season, you may rest assured that its importance has received proper consideration. The various displays are worthy of a visit from every woman who takes pride in her appearance and who likes to know what the leading fashions are.

You will observe that the pattern hats and hats produced in this store's own workrooms are superior to any heretofore shown. They will captivate you. There is a perfect collection of fancy dress hats and outing hats, as well as a remarkable variety of children's millinery.

Every fashionable accessory is here, too—all the desirable veilings, birds, wings, flowers, etc. Nothing is omitted.

It Is a Perfect Millinery Display

Those interested in millinery are naturally interested in fashionable garments also. So all who come to the millinery opening are cordially invited to visit the cloak room. The display here is noteworthy from the fact that it includes the very newest things pertaining to the line of women's tailor-made suits, jackets, skirts, waists, capes and furs. The department gained its enviable reputation by offering the best things at all times and it is now better prepared to serve you than ever before.

CONGRESSMAN GILBERT PRAISES ZEMA-CURA.

ZEMA-CURA CURED HIS DAUGHTER OF ACNE, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, AFTER PROMINENT SPECIALISTS HAD FAILED.

Nothing is more distressing to a bright, beautiful girl, just budding into womanhood, than Acne. Red pimples on the face—irritated skin—sometimes a red nose—what could be more annoying or disagreeable? Not only annoying and disagreeable, but dangerous. The pimples may leave, but in their stead remain scars and other disfigurements. Read Congressman Gilbert's letter:

"Dr. Harris:—My daughter, Marvie Gilbert, had been troubled with Acne for about five years. She had tried eminent physicians and specialists of different cities, but received no benefit until she begun your treatment, and after two months' treatment I am gratified to say she is entirely well."—G. G. GILBERT, Member Congress, Shelbyville, Ky.

Why should you allow your face to remain a distress to yourself and your friends, when Zema-Cura will promptly cure you? Zema-Cura will make your skin clear and beautiful. Applied externally. Brings instant relief. 50 cents and $1.00.

ZEMA-CURA

is a liquid, applied externally. It has none of the disagreeable features of a salve or ointment. It is the only CURE of skin diseases yet discovered. Zema-Cura will positively cure Eczema, Acne, Heat, Herpes, Lupus, Erysipelas, Uricaria (Nettle Rash), Barber's Itch, Mosquito Bites, Blackheads, Pimples and Blotches on the face, Hives, Burns, Cuts, or any itching condition of the skin or scalp. All druggists sell it. 50 cents and $1.00.

Remember! ZEMA-CURA is not one of the many "patent medicines" of the day. It is a doctor's prescription—a scientific compound that has been used for years by its discoverer, Dr. Harris, in daily practice. It has restored thousands of sufferers from torturing skin diseases to perfect health. If you will write to-day Dr. Harris will advise you fully and carefully regarding your case, and charge you absolutely nothing.

Address: Dr. M. M. HARRIS, The Zema-Cura Co., No. 3 West 22nd Street, New York City.

During the treatment of all skin diseases with ZEMA-CURA, externally, U-AH-MA, Dr. Harris' Blood Purifier, taken internally, will be found of great benefit. By acting on the excretory glands U-AH-MA eliminates the poison virus, and hastens and completes the cure. $1.00. Druggists, or express prepaid.

ERIE DEMOCRACY THE THIRD PARTY

EFFORT FOR ASSEMBLY

Larger Part of the Old Ranks Have Gone Over To the Socialist-Labor Movement—Rural Districts Largely Republican.

By WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

Erie, Pa., Sept. 30.—In Erie Democracy occupies the third seat in the political band wagon. Republicans, Socialist-Labor party and Democrats taking their places in the order named.

In the hope of aiding the party to scramble into a better position the Democratic spellbinders invaded the town tonight. After having played to three country audiences this afternoon, two meetings were held. Although both were well attended, Erie county is as safely Republican as ever, and the Crawford-Erie district will return Arthur L. Bates to congress.

It was not in the hope of wresting this city from Judge Pennypacker that Pattison and Guthrie came here tonight. The municipality of Erie is a separate legislative district and elects one assemblyman. There is a battle on for the place, and the Democratic bosses are more desirous of getting members of the next assembly than they are to elect a governor, especially when it is a foregone conclusion that a third term in the gubernatorial chair is not within the grasp of Pattison.

Effort To Reclaim Deserters.

The Democracy is in sore distress here. Erie is one of the strongholds of the Socialist-Labor party, an organization made up almost entirely of men who have grown tired of Democracy. In this city at least 80 per cent of the members were once Democrats. Pattison was brought here in the hope that he could reclaim enough of the deserters to make possible the election of Frank Schultz, the Democratic candidate for assemblyman.

The Auditorium, where Pattison made one of his speeches tonight, is in the First ward, and it will give a majority for the Socialist-Labor candidate, George R. Ward. The hall was not filled. C. B. Aarons is the Republican nominee for assemblyman. Those familiar with the political conditions here figure a majority for him. It will not be large, but sufficient.

Outside of Erie, in this county, there is no dispute about what will happen in November. The country districts are overwhelmingly Republican. The nomination of Judge Pennypacker was pleasing to the Republicans of the county. Men who have been independent in their voting for years announce that they will gladly support the Philadelphia jurist. A majority of 2,000 is predicted for the entire Republican ticket.

Dynamite Draws a Crowd.

The Pattison party left Oil City at 7:15 this morning. The first stop was at Rushville. In order to put a little life into the reception, a few sticks of dynamite were touched off. A. J. Palm, candidate for senator in Crawford county; S. Lowrie Humes, who wishes to be district attorney, and M. J. Heywang, one of the campaigners at Oil City and remained with them through the part of Crawford county traversed today.

The explosion of the dynamite awakened the 200 or 300 people who hurried down to the opera house to learn the cause of the disturbance. They heard speeches by Pattison, Guthrie and A. B. Sorne of Erie, Democratic candidate for congress. Pattison is a Methodist and Guthrie is an Episcopalian, but neither one is playing favorites in religion just now.

At Spartansburg they held their meeting in the Spiritualists' temple, and the audience was a success. The whole town turned out. C. H. Gabriel presided, and the candidates made speeches.

A hurry was reached just before noon. The managers of the matinee thought it would be a good idea to have a parade before dinner. The band led off and the three candidates followed. Back of them were 50 or 60 Democrats.

After going several squares Pattison saw a barber shop and made a dive for it. The band was inclined to follow.

Band Break by a Band.

Mr. Pattison is particular about band selections. There are two things which cause him especial annoyance. This year he detests the mule, because it is too much like a real Democratic issue. He might put up with the mule, but he refuses to tolerate the playing of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here." Just before he started his speech in Corry, in which he abused what he terms the "Republican gang," the band played the piece he would suppress. It was a trifle embarrassing. In the future bandmasters must submit their program to the Democratic machine censor.

Four or five hundred people found shelter from the rain in the Corry armory. Manly Crosby presided at the meeting, and Pattison, Guthrie and Osborne did the talking. Osborne attempted to show that there were no national issues in the fight, though he is a candidate for congressman.

Pattison did not wander from the constitution, except when he slipped away from the truth and misquoted Lieut.-Gov. Gobin. He made Gobin say that in 1901 the United States senatorship was placed upon the auction block. Gobin never made this assertion.

Crosby told the people of Corry that he had challenged Congressman Bates to a joint debate, and read the telegram he had sent him. Tonight Crosby received a wire from Bates in which he declined to accept the invitation. Bates says he has made his engagements for the campaign and cannot break them.

Bait For Former Democrats.

The candidates addressed small meetings at Union City and North East, and reached this city in time for the two gatherings tonight. The one in the Auditorium was presided over by ex-Mayor R. J. Saltzman and the other by ex-Representative John B. Brooks. About 400 of the men named as vice presidents have been voting the Republican ticket since 1896, and it is said that they will not forget their new habits this fall. The bait offered them tonight to return to the party of empty dinner buckets was not accepted.

The whole force of spellbinders was put to work tonight, joining in one great wail of distress and pathetic appeal for a chance to hold office.

Tomorrow night Charles Emory Smith and Congressman Bates will make addresses here. The Republicans are expecting one of the largest meetings in the history of the city.

Soon after daylight the candidates will continue their scramble for votes. Their pathway runs through Crawford county, with a night meeting at Meadville.

Coal Traffic Men Meet.

A meeting of the Ohio Coal Traffic association was held yesterday at the Hotel Schenley. This association is composed of the railroads entering the coal regions of Ohio and fixes the rates charged for the transportation of fuel. A committee was appointed to confer with the operators on the matter of a change in the rate for railroad fuel.

Three Dead, Another Dying.

Three young children of Peter Lersch, a truck gardener of Penn township, have died within a week from diphtheria and the fourth and last child of the family is now hovering between life and death.

School Boy Missing.

Anthony Daugherty of Bessemer Terrace, near Braddock, is anxious about his son, Martin, 11 years old. The boy started two weeks ago from home to go to school and has not been seen since.

Stole Mother's Pocketbook.

The South Side police are looking for Christ Powell of No. 1022 Brownsville avenue, South Side, the 12-year-old son of Mrs. J. Powell, who reported that her son had taken her pocketbook containing $22.

Saved Wife's Life.

Charles Ackerman is confined to his home in Stanton avenue, suffering from badly burned hands received while saving the life of his wife Monday night. When Ackerman handed his wife a lamp it exploded, scattering oil over her clothing.

Employment Agent Arrested.

Detectives Kelly and Waggoner arrested J. Muchler, an employment agent of Seventh avenue, yesterday, on a charge of false pretense, made by Max Lebovitz. He alleges he paid Muchler for a job he did not get.

May Use X-Rays.

G. F. Muller of Sewickley, who shot himself a week ago, was yesterday brought to Mercy hospital. He has been improving and it is announced that in a few days the X-rays will probably be used to locate the bullet.

Church People Appeal.

The session of the Mt. Lebanon United Presbyterian church has appealed to the officers of the law in Scott township to suppress the Sunday desecration carried on in the vicinity of the church since the extension of the West Liberty car line.

Robbed the Cash Drawer.

A burly negro yesterday morning robbed the cash drawer in a Wylie avenue lunch room of $70. There were four employes in the place at the time, but the negro managed to escape after dealing one of the waiters who tried to stop him a severe blow in the face.

Wrecked Millinery Shop.

Somebody broke into the millinery shop of M. M. Thompson, in Penn avenue, Turtle Creek, on Monday night. When the proprietor got to her store yesterday morning she found the floor covered with scraps of women's hats. More than $100 worth of hats had been destroyed.

Horses Jumped Overboard.

While being taken across the Ohio river in the short-cut ferryboat, about 8 p. m. yesterday, two horses belonging to the Patterson Builders' Supply Company of Allegheny became frightened, jumped overboard and were drowned. Arthur Diggs, the driver, tried to rescue the horses and was also nearly drowned.

Laundry Wrecked.

The West Braddock laundry, owned by Alexander Bros., was wrecked yesterday by a tank containing 500 barrels of water bursting. Besides flooding the building, the tank pulled down a smoke stack, which wrecked the engine and boiler rooms. Thomas Brenneman, watchman, was injured by being struck by a brick.

Struck on Grade Crossing.

A laundry wagon and team of horses owned by Barnes Bros., of this city, was struck by a freight train on the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston railroad at Amity street, Homestead, yesterday afternoon. The wagon was wrecked and one of the horses so badly injured that it was shot. The driver escaped by jumping.

Missionary Women's Meeting.

The semi-annual meeting of the Women's Missionary society of the Monongahela presbytery of the United Presbyterian church will be held tomorrow in the Mt. Washington United Presbyterian church, Prospect street. At the afternoon session an address will be made by Miss Nannie J. Spencer, a recently returned missionary.

J. Rainey Hoon Attacked.

Deputy Sheriff J. Rainey Hoon of Butler and Detective W. H. Edmonds of McKees Rocks were set upon by a crowd of foreigners Monday night at Schoenville while attempting to arrest an Italian wanted in Butler for assault and battery and surety of the peace. With the aid of revolvers the officers succeeded in securing their man.

Foreign Visitors Invited.

The board of trustees of the Carnegie museum has authorized Director Holland to invite foreign delegates, who will attend the International Congress of Americanists in New York this month, to visit the museum. Dr. Holland, who is a member of the committee of arrangements for the New York meeting, left for the metropolis last night.

Mortality Statistics.

Ten cases of typhoid fever and five of diphtheria were reported to the Pittsburgh board of health yesterday. There were 138 deaths in Pittsburgh last week, the principal causes being typhoid fever 10, diphtheria 3, pneumonia 16, consumption 8, heart disease 6, and violence 11. During the week there were 41 cases of typhoid fever, 21 of scarlet fever and 24 of diphtheria.

To Evade Coal Famine.

The coal famine likely to result from the present strike in the hard coal region is not going to affect the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company if the latter's plans prove successful. The company is drilling gas wells on its property between Turtle Creek and East Pittsburgh, and will substitute the product of the wells for coal. The Pittsburgh Motor Car Company is pursuing the same course.

Church Fight in Court.

In an attempt to decide whether the St. Casimir society, a South Side Polish church organization, should meet as before at St. Adelbert's church, in South Fifteenth street, or at St. Josaphat's church, there arose a disagreement among the contending parties that reached its climax last night when two of those interested gave bail for their appearance at court to answer charges of assault and battery. The men arrested are Casimir Matuschak and Frank Yonkofski.

Dedicated a New Church.

Bishop Whitehead of the Protestant Episcopal church, assisted by the Rev. Dr. E. J. McIlvaine and the Rev. D. L. Ferris of Calvary church, the Rev. Dr. Grange of the Church of the Ascension, the Rev. Dr. L. T. Cole, archdeacon of the diocese; the Rev. L. W. Sikes of St. Mary's church, the Rev. T. J. Danner of St. John's church, and the Rev. V. T. Richards of Meadville, on Monday evening dedicated the new Church of the Redeemer in Wightman street, Squirrel Hill.

Boy's Plan Failed Him.

Arthur Jennings, 16 years old, colored, of Sixth street, Braddock, was committed to jail by Justice G. H. Jaquay of Rankin, on a charge of larceny made by Joseph Goldburg, a grocer, of Braddock. Jennings went to Goldburg's store and gave a boy clerk 5 cents to go out and get him some fruit. In the absence of the clerk Jennings is said to have rifled the money drawer of $18 and was caught by Goldburg as he was about to leave the store.

Church Is Without Elders.

Members of the Allegheny presbytery are facing a perplexing problem. Through death or removal the Allison park church is without elders, and, according to the government of the church, it is really no charge at all and can have no representation in the presbytery or synodical meetings. The Rev. Dr. George N. Johnson is endeavoring to induce some Presbyterian elder to move into Allison Park before the next presbytery meeting, so that the church may retain its standing and representation.

COLONY LIFE.

Effect of Climate Overcome by Proper Food.

The necessity of pleasant, nutritive and proper food is highly appreciated in the Philippines, particularly by Americans unused to climate and native custom in cooking.

One of our soldier boys writes: "In this land of bad food and disordered stomachs, a nearly fatal attack of malaria left my digestion for many months in such a state that food of any kind distressed me terribly. I suffered from the effect of drugs, but dared not eat. It was simply misery to live. The so-called remedies only seemed to aggravate my sufferings.

"Some friend suggested Grape-Nuts Food, and I gave it a trial. To my surprise and pleasure, it did all and more than was claimed for it. I am now, after using the food for 18 months, in good health; my digestive apparatus in perfect order, and I have long lost all feeling of pain or discomfort after eating. In fact, I live again. I would not be without Grape-Nuts for the world. It is not only the excellent effect of your food that renders it valuable; it is also delicious to the taste, possessing flavor of its own, and can be prepared in many ways to suit many palates." Two Murderers Given That Pleasure Before Their Execution.

BRONSON, FLA., Sept. 30.—Theodore Smith and Thomas O. Faircloth, young white men who killed the aged Lewis couple one month ago, were hanged today. Both men had their coffins opened, and inspected and commented upon them, and both addressed the immense crowd. Faircloth was baptized in the box which was to contain his coffin, this morning. The sons and daughters of their victims witnessed the execution.

FOURTEEN PAGES.

Senator Quay's Birthday.

Senator Quay's birthday is an event of interest to thousands of his friends, though the annual celebrations are usually confined to the family circle. Yesterday was his sixty-ninth anniversary, and many were the congratulations on his attainment to that age in vigorous health. Col. Quay's life has been a busy one—at times strenuous, yet he carries his years and cares more easily than many younger men.

It is more than 40 years since Senator Quay entered public life. As soldier, statesman and leader he has won such distinction as has been accorded to few. There is probably nothing that draws as heavily upon physical and mental resources as managing a political campaign. Senator Quay has borne the brunt of many, local, state and national, is acknowledged everywhere as a master, and has never shown any sign of breaking under the strain.

The public services of the man will appear more clearly in the future when viewed without partisan prejudice. They are known to and recognized by many now. They are numerous and great. His whole career, in fact, has been one long service to the public, though his political enemies charge to him a hundred misdoings of which he never was guilty. His crime has been to wring victory out of difficult situations, and for that he is cordially hated, though more loved for the enemies he has made.

The Apostle of Realism.

Zola was not only the most prolific author of the age, but his work possessed an original quality that will always make it celebrated in literary history whether or not his expectation shall be fulfilled that it will contribute the chief document for the elucidation of the spirit of our times. He was like Balzac in his prodigious faculty for work and in the vast scope of his literary plans. Balzac aimed to depict every phase of social life in a series of novels together constituting a complete portraiture of contemporary manners and morals. Zola's aim was the analysis of human nature in all its phases as molded by French civilization. A connection was given to the separate works devoted to the theme, by making them relate to the experiences of the Rougon-Maquart family, and by following the fortunes of the various members he dealt with by turns every part of the organization of society and explored every stratum of civilized life from the lowest to the highest.

He was intensely realistic, striving above all things to be authentic in his description, and in the works dealing with the poverty, squalor and vice of the under world his method produced an impression of brutality that was almost revolting, so that a suggestion of offensiveness became attached to the very name of realism in art. In fact, however, there are works of Zola which are unexcelled in purity and sweetness, and these qualities too were results of the realistic method when applied to the description of the noble and exalted phases of human nature.

Unfortunately the works which described morbid conditions were the ones most frequently translated and circulated outside of France, so that his genius has never been fully appreciated by the English-speaking world. In this country Mr. Howells has labored to secure just recognition of Zola's merits, but has never been able to secure general acceptance of his own high estimate. At present popular taste all over the world has turned against the cold-blooded method of the realistic school and demands the warmth and glow of romanticism. Probably the experiment of making the novel the vehicle of scientific analysis of humanity will not be repeated. The novel is a form of art and loses its vital quality when it surrenders idealism.

Dealing With the Freight Problem.

Announcement that the management of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad intends to make additional effort to secure a more rapid movement of freights in and out of the Pittsburgh district will be welcome to shippers, but more welcome will be a demonstration that the effort has been successful. The B. & O. plan is to establish here temporarily a representative of the general transportation department in closer touch with conditions and requirements in Pittsburgh, to the end that orders may be issued more freely and promptly to expedite the freight movement. This, to the man unfamiliar with railroad management appears much like a mere elaboration of clerical detail, and some doubt will be felt as to whether it can produce results that most people consider due to a real lack of physical equipment—a lack that the railroad management is, it should be said, endeavoring to remedy. Hope, however, continues strong, and the transfer of another official to this region to grapple with the situation is at least an evidence that the railroad managers are alive to the necessity of keeping things moving.

Necessary Improvement.

A very much needed improvement is contemplated by the bill prepared under the direction of the underwriters for a better water supply. As outlined in advance, the chief feature of the ordinance is provision for 10-inch mains throughout the downtown district. This change is absolutely essential to the proper protection of property and should not be delayed a moment longer than is necessary.

Here is an application of the recent decision of the supreme court concerning the increase of municipal debts that is to the point. Pittsburgh is now not very far from the legal limit of indebtedness and its power of increase ought not to be frittered away while so many things of vital importance remain undone. First and foremost among the duties of the city to its people is an adequate supply of better water. Then there are improvements of the parks and pleasure grounds that will enable the people to enjoy them fully. These things will cost something, but will make a return upon the investment.

Always there are many things for which public money may be spent. But there are certain things for which expenditure should be made first. These come broadly under the head of protection to life and property. They include police and fire protection, cleanliness, wholesome food and drink and healthful recreation. After these have been amply provided for the surplus revenues or credit may wisely be used to secure conveniences. At this juncture the motto should be necessities first, or we shall discover some day the borrowing power of the city has been exhausted while some highly necessary things have not been done.

New York State Democrats.

Bird S. Coler, formerly controller of the city of New York, has been slated to head the New York Democratic state ticket. This is in line with the policy of excluding unpopular Democratic national policies from the state platform and confining the campaign discussion, as in Pennsylvania, to "state issues" as far as possible. As City Controller, Coler was anti-Tammany and a reformer.

It cannot be expected, however, that New York Republicans will concur in the Democratic wish to avoid national issues. Those issues are as pertinent there as in this state. The convention was under the control of David Bennett Hill, who has national political ambitions, and the campaign will be conducted in his interest, however his lieutenants may strive to conceal the object. A Democratic victory on "state issues" would suit Mr. Hill's purpose far better than a defeat upon the national policies of his party. So in Pennsylvania a Democratic triumph on "state issues" would forward Mr. Pattison's ambitions in the Democratic national arena, while a defeat on a free silver, free trade platform would consign him to lasting oblivion.

From a Democratic point of view the "state issues" dodge is clever, but the people will have themselves to blame if they are deceived about it. The records of Mr. Hill and Mr. Pattison are well known.

St. Louis Boodle Trials.

This week witnessed the opening of the trial of Snyder, one of the alleged St. Louis boodlers. The case will attract attention both on account of the wealth of the defendant and the sensational character of the charges that have been printed. Nearly everybody has read of the operations of the "combine" of municipal assemblymen, who "held up" every franchise bill for all they could make the corporations and capitalists pay. The public is familiar with the clever work done in trapping the boodlers, their flight to other localities, and finally the disclosures made by a member who returned from Mexico to become a witness for the state.

Public interest in the trials will be stimulated by the knowledge that this class of crime is prevalent. In almost every city there are complaints that measures for the public benefit are neglected; that franchises are granted for the private enrichment of whoever will pay the highest price to municipal legislators; that every bill is held up in regular or special committee, while it is determined whether those interested in it can be "sweated" and for how much. Naturally citizens everywhere want to see the testimony produced against these men. They hope it may lead to the detection of other boodlers and that the punishment administered will discourage others from following a bad example.

A Ring Answer to Robertson.

In answer to Chairman Robertson's query as to whether the people have been robbed, the ring, through Max Leslie, introduces a resolution in councils authorizing the city treasurer to borrow money to run the municipal government. This may not indicate robbery as defined in the dictionary and as contemplated by the statutes, but it is another reminder of the painstaking manner in which a ring government has made municipal administration come high to the people without giving value for the money taken to be expended. Previous to the beginning of the municipal year, and for a hoped for effect on the result on the city election, a millage was determined upon that would produce a sufficient sum to run the city departments, economically administered, throughout the year, but there was no intention, it is now quite plain, to do business in a manner that would hold expenditures within the revenues. It is the same old story of a treasury shortage, made familiar to the taxpayers through many years of repetition. The present raid may not be statutory robbery, but the people are just as tired of it as if it had been judiciously interpreted so to be.

Favorable Signs.

There are signs that a settlement of the anthracite miners' strike may be impending. The conference here of President Mitchell and Vice President Wilson with the mysterious John Smith is one straw. The meeting arranged between Vice President Loomis of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western and some of the miners is another. These incidents, at least, have excited the hope that something will be done, and it is high time.

No struggle between labor and capital in years has attracted so much public attention. One reason is that consumers of anthracite coal are widely distributed and are suffering from a quarrel in which they have no part. They have as much right to be considered as the miners or operators.

During the past 10 days the interest of the consumers has been manifested by a dozen public meetings in several states and a suit in the courts at Boston. This suit looks ineffective, at least to the non-legal mind, but as an evidence of public sentiment favorable to putting an end to the strike it is worthy of attention. What it cannot accomplish in a court of law it may assist in bringing about in the court of public opinion. The operating companies and miners' organization may withstand the pressure of popular sentiment, which they certainly feel, but the longer they hold out in this particular strike the more certainly will they assist in crystalizing public opinion into legal measures to prevent such struggles in the future.

The World Is Interested.

"Pittsburgh is becoming the convention city of the country." This sentiment was expressed by a business man in connection with the approaching meeting of the National Live Stock association. Conventions come to Pittsburgh because the delegates are interested in this city and what it is doing. The live stock men come here because this is one of their best markets and they have heard of the tremendous industrial developments here that have surprised the world.

Interest in Pittsburgh is not confined to convention delegates. A few days after the live stock men come the crown prince of Siam is scheduled to arrive with suite and members of the Siamese legation. He wants to see where Aladdin's lamp was made and most of the lamps of modern commerce. His visit to the United States is believed to be the prelude of an opening of Siam to western trade and influence similar to that of Japan years ago. Naturally Pittsburgh is a principal object of interest.

Princes and potentates are powerful in their way. But visits that are even more complimentary to Pittsburgh are those paid by European manufacturers, who come to see the latest improvements in machinery and methods and who go away wondering at the marvelous energy of the people who have made Pittsburgh famous. These things which interest our visitors are old to Pittsburghers, though the interest, astonishment and compliments are rather new to them. The world has been a good while about discovering Pittsburgh, but exhibits a commendable desire to improve its acquaintance with it.

The Moros of Mindanao are both by nature and religious belief addicted to fighting and it will require some sharp lessons to convince them of the inexpediency of attacking American sovereignty. These our troops are now giving them, but when we can persuade them to let us alone, we should be careful to let them alone. They are not to be civilized and will perish rather than submit to civilization.

Secretary-Treasurer Wilson of the U. M. W. declared that President Mitchell's visit to Philadelphia had nothing to do with politics. It is therefore suspected that it may have been connected in some way with the anthracite coal strike.

Now that the girls of St. Paul insist that the young men can't come to see them unless they have union cards, the interests of the Federation of Labor and of the marriage license clerk ought to improve.

If Mr. Wainwright succeeds in having Fourth avenue changed to Wall street will money go up to 35 per cent?

September slipped out with a gloomy enough aspect, but October will bring some bright, frosty mornings.

At this season of the year the secretary of the commonwealth looms up almost as large as the weather man.

It is understood that when Hon. Andy Robertson took another look at his hand he concluded not to bet.

President Roosevelt can't kick on what the doctors are doing to him. At least he can't do it standing.

The secretary of the treasury seems impressed with the truth of the old saying that money talks.

Though Bryan has made a lot of noise in the Democratic world, Hill wears better.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

Strongly Marked Vessels Only for Dangerous Acids.

To the Editor of the Gazette:

I am astonished to see that the coroner's jury brought in a verdict of accidental death in the West Penn hospital carbolic acid case. If the mistake had been made by a young drug clerk working 18 hours per day the verdict would no doubt have called it criminal carelessness.

Years ago I manufactured a syrup for infants' use and also a veterinary wash containing a large percentage of carbolic acid. Both preparations were made in the same room, but we never had an accidental exchange of one preparation for the other. We simply had blue vessels for our carbolic acid solutions, blue pails, blue china cups, blue pitchers, blue funnels. These blue vessels were used exclusively for carbolic acid. In time the packing girls grew so accustomed to the rule that they would never dream of using a blue cup or pitcher for anything else.

The same rule could be enforced in the hospitals; then an orderly or nurse, whose smelling organs are so defective that they cannot note the oder of carbolic acid, will not be liable to make mistakes in handling the poison.

AN OLD PATENT MEDICINE MAN.
Pittsburgh, September 29.

DEVERY TASTES GALL OF DEFEAT

He and His Braves Find the Convention Door Slammed in Their Face.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU,
NEW YORK, Sept. 30.

Devery is in hard luck. To think that, after all his labor and generosity in the Ninth district, he was frozen out of the convention! He was a much surprised man, by all accounts. How hard it was to swallow the fiat of the powers, that the recognized delegation from the Ninth district was made up of Goodwin, Noonan and Talley, instead of W. S. Devery, Garvey and Francis Sullivan, perhaps the "Big Chief" may tell when he gets back to Twenty-eighth street. At Saratoga he had only incoherent remarks to make, in which profanity was implied, if not actually uttered. When the state committee met this afternoon, the list of delegates to the temporary organization was read and Devery's name was not in it. He was mentioned as a contestant, however, which must have been cold comfort. When it is remembered that Devery and his cohorts left New York yesterday with more pomp and circumstance than ever had attended the departure of a delegate to a state convention in the memory of the city the chilly treatment he received in Saratoga is the more dramatic. Devery, with his men, went to Saratoga to take possession of the convention and everything else. The reality was that the door was shut in their face, and they were told to make a contest if they thought it worth while. Worth while? "Big Bill" could hardly wait for the chance to say that he would defy the entire convention, and get his seat in spite of them all. Of course, he does not acknowledge defeat, nor does anyone seriously believe he is beaten. A setback such as he got at Saratoga today was only the fortune of war, and will hardly have any effect upon the irrepressible William S. when he gets time to pull himself together. He made himself heard this afternoon in convention, and seemed to be endeavoring to carry out his threat, to "tear things apart." What will happen when the convention resumes business tomorrow morning, no one can safely predict; but Devery is not out of consideration yet, by a great deal.

Pittsburgher's Theatrical Success.

Fin Reynolds dropped into New York today for a few hours. He is playing an important part in the New England comedy, "At Cosey Corners," with Adelaide Thurston as the star, and found himself in this city in the course of a "jump" from New London, Conn., to Easton, Pa. He told me that his attraction was doing business everywhere. He also remarked that his brother, John B. Reynolds, had been successful with his new star, Thomas W. Ross, formerly a Pittsburgh favorite, in William Collier's old play, "On the Quiet." Tommy Ross has made a big hit, and his company will play return dates all along the line and at better terms than at first. Both Ross and Reynolds have so many friends in Pittsburgh that this new of their success will be welcome indeed.

Shaw a Popular Man in the Street.

When a pleasant-faced, business-like looking man stepped from a cab in Wall street this morning, and then, after hesitating a moment, disappeared into the sub-treasury building, he was recognized by a score of persons as Leslie M. Shaw, secretary of the United States treasury. He has been in Wall street before, and, besides, was well known through being seen often elsewhere. It was well for Secretary Shaw that the sub-treasury building was so near. If he had not taken refuge there at once, he would have been compelled to shake hands all the way along the street. As it was, he received bankers and other favored personages inside and was able to dodge the newspaper men. His plan for the relief of the money market, which he discussed at length with the financiers of the district, has proved sound by the better conditions prevailing today, and the congratulations showered upon him were sincere as well as numerous. Besides that, his mere presence on the street inspired confidence, a much-needed condition in finance at all times.

Honeymoon Spats Dangerous.

One more instance, to add to the millions of others since the world began, of the danger of hasty words in a matrimonial quarrel, came tragically to the surface in New York today. A young couple had a spat, the husband said as he was going out, that he never would return, and the girl-wife killed herself by inhaling gas. Voila tout.

Rabbi's Funeral Riot Causes Trouble.

Two captains and one inspector of police are to be put on trial next week, charged with improper conduct at the funeral of Rabbi Josephs, some weeks ago. It will be remembered that while the funeral procession was passing a large factory on the East Side the mourners got into a conflict with the men working in the building and there was a riot. In the melee the police used their clubs severely and indiscriminately, and the Hebrew population demanded an investigation. The result of it is seen in the preferring of charges against three police officials. However the trials may result, at least the fact that they are to be held shows a praiseworthy disposition on the part of the authorities to protect the rights of a class of people—the foreign Hebrews of the East Side—who are generally peaceable and law-abiding, whatever else may be said about them.

Electric Light in Each Tombs Cell.

Electric lights in prison is a luxury that would have been thought impossible even a decade ago. In the new Tombs prison, which will be brought into use in the course of a few months—probably the first of the year—there will be an electric light in each cell, with sink and toilet and an iron bedstead. Some of these conveniences are in use in other prisons, the Western penitentiary among others; but the Tombs will be one of the first to have individual incandescent lights for the use of the prisoners. The dirty old Tombs, with its bugs, cockroaches and ineradicable prison smell, with then its form down, and one of the grim landmarks of the city will pass away forever. The offices were moved into the new prison today.

Destined to Be Bishop Olmsted.

Rev. Dr. Charles T. Olmsted, late vicar of St. Agnes Episcopal church, left today for Utica, where he will be the bishop coadjutor of Central New York. He will be consecrated on Thursday evening, October 2. He has been one of the most popular clergymen in New York city, having been at St. Agnes for three and a half years. It is said that he gave away in charity every cent of his $7,000 a year salary. He will become Bishop when the present incumbent, Bishop Huntington, passes away. Bishop Worthington of Nebraska will take charge of St. Agnes congregation until a new vicar is chosen.

Sandwich Man's Wrath Aroused.

A sandwich man was standing in Herald square, in a ruminative attitude today, watching workmen on one of the big stores, when the advertising agent of a neighboring theater saw a good chance to exploit his attraction at the sandwich man's expense. So he stole up behind and planted a lithograph of the star he represented on the middle of the board, covering up an announcement that somebody's tooth powder was a joy forever. Unfortunately for the enterprising theater man, the walking advertisement saw the trick, and soon there was a fine bout of fisticuffs, which gave much pleasure to the loungers and wiped the insult from the sandwich man's escutcheon.

Pneumatic Mail Service Resumed.

When the pneumatic tube mail service is resumed tomorrow in this city the service should be much improved. There are three tubes ready for business. One runs from the produce exchange to the general postoffice; another from the general postoffice to the sub-station at Forty-third street and Lexington avenue, and still another to the Brooklyn postoffice from the main building in Manhattan. There are to be new tubes built, connecting the general postoffice with the sub-stations on the West Side. The tubes went out of use on the 1st of January because congress refused to make any appropriation for them, and New Yorkers have been complaining loudly ever since. The general expression was that it would be impossible to get along without them; but we did it somehow, just as we could get along without trolley cars, telephones, quick lunch rooms, fancy books and hundreds of other things that we have been pampered into believing are indispensable.

Angels Arrayed Against Slashers.

Although the Five Points has passed away, except as to its name, there are traces of its original sin to be observed there from time to time. A rattling fight took place last night at Mulberry Bend which ended in the arrest of 15 hoodlums. The trouble was between the East Side angels and the Five Points slashers. They used fists, iron bars, knives, and at last pistols. Then the police interfered, when a few hundred women and children had been scared nearly out of their senses. Ten of the young men were fined $10 and the rest were discharged. Yes, there is excitement at the Five Points still, if one happens around at the right time.

Possible Strike Scares Commuters.

While it is believed that the ferry engineers will adjust their dispute with their employers before morning, commuters cannot help thinking of the horrible consequence of a strike. If the ferryboats stop running, what would the Jerseyite, whose business is in New York, do? He could not walk, and it would not be pleasant to cross the turbulent North river in a skiff. The engineers said this afternoon that they would give the ferry companies until 5 o'clock tomorrow morning to yield to the demand for higher wages and shorter hours. After that, no boats. Non-union marine engineers do not exist in New York, and the consequence would be a tie-up. Commuters who go to bed in Jersey tonight will be anxious until they find themselves safe on New York soil in the morning.

Bulls Take a Long Breath.

Wall street quieted down today. It was feared for a while yesterday that there might be wild times, but they did not come, and one of the leading operators on the street told me tonight that all trouble was practically over—for the present. It was noticed that things were much calmer in Stock Exchange No. 2, in the Waldorf-Astoria cafe and billiard room tonight than they were last night. There are worse places to feel the pulse of the street than in the Waldorf western corridor about the dinner hour.

Trying a New French Comedy.

The theatrical opening of tonight was the comedy from the French, "The Two Schools," at the Madison Square theater. Charles Frohman took off "The New Clown" on Saturday night, and used yesterday at the theater for rehearsal of the new piece. Jameson Lee Finney and Jessie Busley, who were in the "Clown," also have the principal roles in "The Two Schools." The piece looks like a success.

Anthracite Becomes Jewelry.

Anthracite scarf pins were on sale along the sidewalks today. They are made of silver with a neatly cut piece of anthracite coal in the middle. The pins are sold at 5 cents apiece, although down in Wall street this afternoon some went for a dime, and even 15 cents. The joke pleased the crowd, and everybody seemed to be wearing one of the pins by the time the tide of travel set northward in the evening. The idea is new in New York, but it is said these pins have been on sale in Chicago for a week. This is one thing in which the metropolis is a little behind.

Soft Coal a Penny a Pound.

East Siders who are using bituminous coal and buying it by the pailful, are paying for it at the rate of a penny a pound. There is not much fuel in a pound of coal, and it takes many pennies to get a good cooking fire. This is a fact known to the sorrow of many a hundred tenement-dweller tonight.

Adding to the Skyscraper District.

Among the big apartment hotels in the center of the "White Light" district, one of the best known is the Martinique, in Thirty-third street. It is owned by Martin, head of the clothing firm of Rogers, Peet & Co. A big annex has been lately built to the hotel, and it is understood that most of the Broadway block between Thirty-second and Thirty-third streets will be occupied by it in due course, the ground floor being stores, with the hotel towering above it 20 stories or so. There is a subterranean passage between the Rogers-Peet store and the hotel at present. When all the improvements contemplated are accomplished, the clothing store and the hotel will be all under one roof. This is only one of many improvements in the neighborhood, but it is one of the most striking examples of the progress which upper Broadway is making toward a continuous line of skyscrapers.

RIVAL AIRSHIP'S FLIGHT.

One Arises 1,000 Feet Descends Upon a Telegraph Pole—Other Goes Up a Mile and Lands in Meadow.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Both the Santos-Dumont and the Leo Stevens airships made sensational voyages through the misty air at Coney Island late this afternoon. They started from Brighton and Manhattan beaches, respectively.

One landed in a meadow at Sheepshead bay and the other, the Leo Stevens ship, is perched on the top of a telegraph pole on the Sheepshead bay road. Stevens, who was in the car, clambered down in safety to the ground when he found that his ship was stuck. His ship had sailed across the island in a westerly direction and was about 1,000 feet in the air at one time.

Santos-Dumont's machine was sailed by Edward C. Boice, and rose to the estimated height of nearly a mile.

JOHN CHINAMAN AT A TELEPHONE

He Talks Fast and Always Gets Full Value For His Money.

"A Chinaman at the telephone is a funny thing," remarked a long distance telephone operator in the Denver News a few days ago. "You see, it is impossible to tell whether one person or half a dozen are talking, and we often become mixed up in listening to them. When one is speaking it seems as if half a dozen are talking, and we often imagine the wires are out of order. To make matters worse, the Chinese delight in talking as fast as possible, and we never know whether the Chinaman at this end of the wire is talking or if it is the one at the other end. After the conversation is ended the Chink walks out of the booth with a self-satisfied smile on his face, and pays for a three minutes' talk. We have lately discovered that he invariably says as much during that time as could have been said by a white man in 15 minutes."

To be sure the telephone company is not really "out" anything by the transaction, as it is paid by the minute, but, nevertheless in the case of Chinamen, the company would be the gainer by charging for volume instead of time. A Chinaman always begins his talk in pigin-English; he says: "Hello. Is this Sam Ling. I bettee you don't know—yi hi ki yi he yay bo benno ne," and so on, and it sounds on the wires as if several persons were at work.

An amusing incident occurred in the Denver office of the company last week. The long distance operator at Colorado Springs called Denver over one wire and informed the local office that another wire was out of order. An investigation resulted in a report being made to the effect that the wire was crossed with a dozen others, and that it would be impossible to use it until the trouble could be located. An inspector asserted that he believed the wire was crossed with one connecting with the Tower of Babel, and the "hello girls" upstairs were ready to agree with him when a Chinaman walked out of a booth, glared around the room for a minute and then said:

"He notice pay when big fool monkey with me and call me names allee samee me notice know any bettee. Me wantee talk to Sam Lee, Trinidad, not Mellcan mans and gals in Denvel."

And the mystery was explained. What had been mistaken for a crossed wire was only two Chinamen, one in Denver and one in Trinidad, each one trying to get his money's worth of conversation at so much per minute. The Mongolian received an apology, and was once more allowed to enter the booth, where he talked to his friend, Sam Lee, in Trinidad. Sam Lee is agent for the Six Companies of San Francisco, and furnishes laundrymen and merchandise for Chinamen all over the United States. He averages five talks to Denver each week, and were his conversations carried on in English his business would be very profitable to the telephone company. Sam, however, is too wise to talk English when he has to pay and converses in the language of the Flowery Kingdom. In this manner he saves a great deal of money.

AN ACCOMMODATING LANDLORD.

A Dorchester man, about whom the Boston Herald tells, in trying to escape "shop" on his vacation, went to a little hotel in Harrison, Me., and promptly made this request of the proprietor: "May I turn the map that hangs upon the wall at the head of the first landing around so that I cannot see its tracings when I pass out of my room?"

"Certainly, if it annoys you in any way," replied the owner of the place.

"Well, it does, for this reason. My business is the making of maps, and I happened to be engaged on this very one and every time it comes within the range of my vision I am reminded of shop. Now, I don't like this, as I have come 'way up here to get rid of all suggestion of work and to forget that I ever did labor, but I cannot enjoy this hallucination so long as the red and black lines of this map keep staring at me."

The accommodating landlord immediately went upstairs and turned the offending map toward the wall and it so remained until the Dorchester man took his departure.

A SURPRISED BRITISHER.

"This is my first visit to the United States. I landed in New York last Tuesday and engaged quarters at a Broadway hotel. The rumble of street cars and cabs and the noise of the crowds that thronged Broadway was terrible when I went to bed Tuesday night, but I finally managed to get to sleep." So spoke Mr. Harold W. Holmes of Bradford, England, at the Arlington, to a Washington Post reporter. "When I awakened the next morning the noise of the street was the first thing that greeted my ears. Electric lights made Broadway as light as day, and cabs and people were rushing along at a rapid rate.

"I hurried into my clothes as fast as possible. My time in New York was to be very limited, and I felt that I must get breakfast and be ready to go about the city as early as possible. My sleep didn't seem to have done me much good. I could hardly get my eyes opened, and attributed my drowsiness to the noise, thinking that I had not rested well. I rushed down to the dining room and found it in darkness. Then it occurred to me that I had better look at my watch. It was 20 minutes past 3.

"Hereafter I shall never depend on the Broadway crowds as an indication of the hour. I come from a country where people go to bed sometimes. They never do in New York. Day is 24 hours long in New York. Some sections of London seem busier than any of the New York streets during the daylight hours, but Londoners stop at night. Here the people are like Tennyson's brook."

COUNTIES TOO LATE.

Put Off Requests For Pennypacker Dates Until the Itinerary of Meetings Was Filled.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—There was a delegation of Republicans at state headquarters today from Potter, Tioga and several other northwestern counties. Assistant United States Marshal Fred Leonard spoke for Potter, and Naval Officer Walter Merrick, represented Tioga county.

In the gubernatorial itinerary thus far arranged Judge Pennypacker has not been scheduled to speak in either of the counties mentioned. The Republicans there wish to hear him, but the prospects, according to Thomas Garvin, chairman of the speaker's bureau, are not encouraging.

For the state, outside of Philadelphia, there are less than 30 night meetings possible, and these have all been scheduled, subject, however, to change if such meets the approval of Chairman Quay and the county chairmen interested. This limit makes it improbable that meetings will be arranged for in those counties which did not make early requests.

Work on the Pennypacker itinerary began early. Many more meetings could have been scheduled in September, but the county chairmen objected. They did not wish to make dates before October 1.

The western counties will engage Pennypacker's time very largely this week and next, but he will work eastward and speak at the big mass meeting to be held in the Academy of Music Saturday night, October 11. Secretary of the Treasury Shaw will be a star feature at this meeting.

State Charters Issued.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—Charters were issued today to the following corporations: Reynoldsville Clay Manufacturing Company, Reynoldsville, capital $25,000; Uncle Hiram Roofing Company, Pittsburgh, capital $1,000; Domestic Laundry Company, Pittsburgh, capital $15,000.

PERSONALS.

Gustave Andreen, president of the Augustian college at Rock Island, who has been visiting his brother, the Rev. Philip Andreen, at No. 309 Main street, went home last night. President Andreen's visit here was for the purpose of securing students, and over 200 new men were secured. The enrollment of the college is now about 700, and it will be the most successful year in its history. President Andreen was an instructor at Yale for six years and a professor for two years.

G. A. Connor, who has been purchasing agent in the office of the chief engineer of the Pittsburgh, Carnegie & Western, the Wabash extension to Pittsburgh, has resigned to become traveling sales agent of George L. Kop & Co., of Pittsburgh, dealers in drawing materials.

C. B. Tiers, president of the General Chemical Company of New York, went east last night after spending a week in Pittsburgh. "I just dropped into Pittsburgh," he said, "to see some friends and get a little relaxation from business."

C. S. Wright, freight traffic manager, and J. A. Murray, general coke and coal agent of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, are at the Schenley.

Postmaster George L. Holliday, accompanied by his son, went to Philadelphia last night for the purpose of placing his son in school.

Edward Bauterbach, a New York corporation attorney, who was in the city yesterday, went to New York last night.

H. B. Van Clave, secretary-treasurer of the Independent Glass Company, is at the Hotel Lincoln.

Neighbors Visiting Pittsburgh.

Among those at the hotels last night were the following people from nearby points:

Victoria—W. A. Placier, London, O.; A. F. Wheeler, New Castle; J. W. Doud, Wheeling; W. M. Starr, Butler.

Lincoln—Edwin S. Lee, Coshocton; Edward H. Dewey, Bradys Bend.

Griswold—E. W. Adams, East Clairdon, O.; J. M. Walsh, Youngstown; F. Myers, Butler; H. E. Evans, Uniontown; J. Kaufman, New Castle.

Monongahela—Charles E. Wells, Glovers Gap, W. Va.; T. W. Fleming, Fairmont; W. H. Miller, New Philadelphia.

Seventh Avenue—F. Chapman, Toronto, O.; A. G. Beckman, Ellwood City; J. O'Sullivan, Driftwood, Pa.; B. M. Kincaide, Altoona; G. D. Thompson, Brownsville; H. C. Christian, Huntingdon, Pa.

Anderson—S. L. Wilson, Smithfield, W. Va.

THE DEATH ROLL.

The Hon. William A. Mickey.

The Hon. William A. Mickey, aged 83, died yesterday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. H. W. Wolf, at Washington, Pa. He had been ill for several years. He was a native of Washington county, and was at one time prominent in Republican politics. He represented Washington in the state assembly in 1871, was county register for six years, and for six years was connected with the office of the county commissioners. During the civil war, when Morgan was expected to make a raid through this section of the state, Mr. Mickey one night secured the county records from the court house and took them to Pittsburgh for safe keeping. He was the father of 12 children, five of whom are living, as follows: James N. of Osage City, Kan.; Mrs. J. H. Wolf of Pringhar, Ia.; Mrs. G. H. Eagleson of Bulger, Pa.; Mrs. H. W. Wolf of Washington and Mrs. J. L. Davis of Buffalo, Washington county. His widow also survives.

A. Marshall Ross.

A. Marshall Ross died at his home in Confluence, Somerset county, Pa., yesterday, in the 61st year of his age. He served during the civil war as orderly sergeant in Company E, Capt. George F. Baer, One Hundred and Thirty-third Pennsylvania infantry, army of the Potomac, and was publicly commended and promoted by his colonel for his bravery at the storming of Marys Hill. For a number of years he devoted himself to literary pursuits, having contributed to many of the magazines and newspapers. He was especially well informed concerning the early history of Western Pennsylvania. He was a man of wide and active sympathies, his life being an illustration of the quotation which he so often made, "Write me as one that loves his fellowmen." The deceased was a brother of Mrs. Sullivan Johnson of Western avenue, Allegheny.

Simon Harold.

Simon Harold, a prominent contractor and builder, died at Beaver Falls, Pa., yesterday of paralysis, after a lingering illness. His widow and six children survive. They are Julia C., Katerina, Maud, Albert S., Mary E., Clinvaic and Alfred E. Mr. Harold was born in 1840 in Columbiana county, O., and came of revolutionary stock. He moved to Beaver Falls in 1866. He erected many of the finest buildings and extensive manufacturing plants in the Beaver valley and in the vicinity of Pittsburgh. He was a Mason and Odd Fellow, a Republican and served one term in the state legislature.

Obituary Notes.

Charles Stewart, 69 years old, is dead at the home of his son, A. T. Stewart, in Emily street, Crafton. W. G. Stewart, a real estate broker of this city, is a son.

John N. Hervey of Wilmerding is dead at Los Angeles, Cal., from consumption. He was 23 years old and is survived by his widow (nee Young), formerly of Belmont.

Mrs. Mary Smith, 58 years old, wife of W. H. Smith, and mother of R. E. Smith, both of whom are conductors on the Ft. Wayne railroad, is dead at the family home, No. 603 West Diamond street, Allegheny.

FT. RILEY WAR CALLED ON ACCOUNT OF RAIN

Gen. Bates Declines to Order Troops To March Through Deep Kansas Mud.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

FORT RILEY, KAS., Sept. 30.—Deeper quiet even than prevails upon a Sunday existed throughout the day at Camp Root. The only events were the arrival of Gov. Stanley of Kansas, and late in the afternoon, Assistant Secretary of War Sanger and Brig. Gen. Carter, the acting adjutant general of the army, who inspected the camp.

At daybreak the ground was in such a condition, after the storm of last night, that it would have been impossible to carry out the day's program with much probability of success.

Gen. Bates determined last night to call off the program. He issued orders in the morning for all commands to hold themselves in readiness for a review by the assistant secretary of war. Gen. Sanger, however, decided that the troops would have sufficient work without the review and declined the honor.

DAUPHIN COURT IN RUSH SEASON

Official Ballot Cases Will Keep Judges Busy for Two Weeks.

FIGHT FROM ALLEGHENY

Efforts Made to Block Citizen's Ticket in Several Districts. Pennypacker's Nomination by Union Party to Be Tested.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—Election cases will occupy the attention of the Dauphin county court for two weeks, and some ingenuity will have to be exercised by Judges Simonton and Weiss to get them all in before October 15, by which time opinions must be handed down. This was the last day for filing objections to certificates, and enough suits were brought to keep the court busy day and night until the expiration of the time limit.

Among the objections filed today were those of the Allegheny county machine to the certificates of the Citizens party candidates for assembly in the First, Second, Third, Sixth and Eighth districts of Allegheny county; the Forty-second and Forty-fourth senatorial districts, and H. Kirke Porter, Citizens nominee for congress in the Thirty-first district. The objections are the same in all cases, and the court decided to hear them in a bunch on October 9.

The Third Allegheny Case.

The hearing on the objections and counter-objections to the certificates of the candidates for assembly in the Third Allegheny district was concluded today, and it is expected an opinion will be handed down Saturday. The attorneys for the fusion nominees, Mawhinny and Anderson, are confident the court will sustain the nominations.

The next case taken up was that to determine whether Judge Pennypacker and his associates on the Republican state ticket or the ticket headed by ex-Gov. Pattison are the regular Union party nominees. Ex-Senator McCarrell of this city, who has charge of the case for the Pennypacker faction, said, in opening the case, that he would show that Pennypacker and his associates were regularly nominated and that State Chairman Riter, Secretary Mapes and the state committee had no authority to meet the day before the day set for the convention, pass upon the credentials of delegates, take possession of the convention hall and attempt to bar out legally elected delegates.

The entire afternoon was devoted to taking the testimony of Secretary Mapes as to the arrangements which had been made for the convention and other details.

The Closing Rush.

This is the last day for filing nomination papers in the state department, and there was a rush before the department closed at midnight. The Grimes-Flinn Ballot Reform party filed papers for legislative candidates from several additional districts, which gives the "Muddy Water" outfit nominees in about 15 counties. All of the candidates except Congressman Connell, Republican leader of Lackawanna, and the machine candidates of Allegheny county are Democrats or members of the Union party.

Papers purporting to nominate John A. Rhea of Allegheny by the Prohibition party for assembly in the "First legislative district in Pennsylvania" were received this morning. The department has no means of ascertaining for what district Rhea is nominated, as there are several First legislative districts in the state, and the papers were returned to Mr. Rhea for correction.

Gen. Koontz of Somerset filed papers as an independent candidate for senator in the Thirty-sixth district, composed of Bedford, Somerset and Fulton counties. A deal has been made with the Democrats by which ex-Senator Groff of Somerset, the Democratic nominee, will withdraw and the general's name be substituted.

Papers nominating Congressman Acheson of Washington as a candidate for congress of the "Regular" party in the Twenty-fourth district, composed of Beaver, Lawrence and Washington counties, were filed in the state department tonight by Representative Andersen of Washington.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The Lawrence county Republican committee this afternoon passed resolutions intended to promote party harmony in the Twenty-fourth congressional district, composed of Lawrence, Beaver and Washington counties. The resolution appoints John B. Brown, A. C. Hyde and George Lamores a committee to represent Lawrence county in a meeting with similar conferees from Washington and Beaver counties, to agree upon a plan to nominate a congressman with full power and authority to make a nomination provided an emergency should arise by reason of the dispute now existing concerning the nomination of a congressman.

MISSIONARY WOMEN'S CONVENTION OPENS

About 300 Delegates from Three States Attended First Session in Wilkinsburg Church.

The first session of the thirty-second annual convention of the Philadelphia branch of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church, opened in the South Avenue Methodist Episcopal church of Wilkinsburg last night. About 300 delegates were present. The sessions will continue until Friday.

The meeting last night was opened by an organ voluntary by Miss Edith Jamison. Devotional exercises were conducted by the Rev. Dr. C. W. Smith, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate. Addresses of welcome were delivered by Mrs. J. W. Miles, wife of the pastor of the South Avenue church, and Mrs. C. W. Smith, which were responded to by Mrs. J. B. Brenniser of Philadelphia. The Rev. Dr. J. M. Thoburn, Jr., pastor of Calvary Methodist Episcopal church of Allegheny made an interesting address on the work in the mission fields, and of the bright future there. At the close of the exercises a reception for the visiting delegates was held in the church.

The delegates attending represent the following conferences: Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Central Pennsylvania, Wilmington, Del.; Central New York, East German, Wyoming, Genesee and Delaware. The women of the South Avenue church are providing entertainment and living accommodations for the visitors and various committees have been appointed to look after the welfare of all delegates.

Mrs. Cyrus D. Foss, wife of Bishop Foss, of Philadelphia, and president of the society, will preside at the first business meeting this morning at 9 o'clock. At 11 o'clock a communion service will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. T. N. Boyle, presiding elder of the Pittsburgh district. The last delegations of representatives will arrive early this morning. During all sessions there will be special music, for which the best talent in Pittsburgh and vicinity has been engaged.

The officers of the Philadelphia branch are: Mrs. Cyrus D. Foss, president; Mrs. John F. Keen, corresponding secretary; Mrs. S. P. Darlington, associate corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ames Wakelin, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas H. Wilson, treasurer, all of Philadelphia; Miss Emma A. Fowler, editor of the Quarterly, and Miss C. J. Carnahan, secretary of literature, both of Pittsburgh. The officers of the Pittsburgh conference are: Mrs. William Van Kirk, secretary; Mrs. Joseph H. Brown, band secretary, and Mrs. George S. Abraham, treasurer. The district secretaries are: Miss Mary Hunnings, Allegheny; Mrs. C. M. Miller, Blairsville; Miss Laura Seelist, McKeesport; Mrs. C. E. Davis, Pittsburgh; Mrs. Wray Grayson, Washington, and Mrs. L. B. Hunter, Washington, associate secretary.

Mrs. Ross, mother of Charlie Ross, who was abducted many years ago, is a delegate from Philadelphia. Mrs. Ross, who is an enthusiastic missionary worker, is stopping with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Siverter, in Ross avenue.

Crane on His Farewell Tour.

W. H. Crane, making his farewell tour in the dramatization of "David Harum," will present the play at the Alvin next week with what is said to be an exceptionally strong company. His leading woman, Perdita Hudspeth, was a member of the Mansfield forces. Mr. Crane gave "Harum" here the season before last, when the receipts on the week's engagement touched what was then the high water mark at the Alvin, the gross takings amounting to nearly $15,000.

Miles Reviews Presidio Troops.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The troops at the Presidio were reviewed today by Lieut.-Gen. Miles, who was accompanied by Maj. Gen. Hughes and staff in full dress uniform. The display was witnessed by thousands of people.

TARIFF TINKERS NOT IN CONTROL

Tawney of Minnesota Knows of No Republican Sentiment for Revision.

NEAR SPEAKER'S STATE

As Mystified as Eastern Politicians by the Withdrawal of Henderson—Dalzell a Strong Candidate for Speakership.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE BUREAU, 603 Fifteenth St., N. W., WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.

Representative Tawney of Minnesota, a member of the ways and means committee, arrived here this morning. He has just emerged triumphantly from a fight for renomination.

As he was instrumental in securing the passage through the house of the oleomargarine bill, people interested in that industry made a determined fight to prevent his renomination. A strong candidate was put up and an interesting contest resulted in Mr. Tawney being renominated by about 4,000 majority.

Coming from a state near Iowa, Mr. Tawney was asked if the action of Speaker Henderson, in declining a renomination, had been injurious to the party. He said:

"It has not been. In fact, the Republicans of my section are as much mystified as those of the east over the speaker's action. If there was such a sentiment in Iowa in favor of tariff revision as has been alleged, it would be felt in Minnesota, as our interests are about the same as those of Iowa. Our people are prosperous and believe in leaving well enough alone. If certain schedules of the tariff should be reduced, they believe that the Republicans will do it."

"What are the prospects for electing a Republican house in November?"

"Excellent. In the west we will gain enough seats to offset those lost in the south, where the negroes have been disfranchised. I feel entirely certain that the Republicans will control the next house, but by a small majority. The reduced majority will be a blessing, as it is easier to handle the majority when the margin is small than when it is large."

"Who will be the next speaker?"

"Now, ask me something easy. It looks like an open contest. Pennsylvania should be a decided factor in the contest. If John Dalzell enters the contest and has the solid support of the delegation and of that veteran leader, Senator Quay, he will be a dangerous rival to the other aspirants.

CHARLES W. METZGAR.

MORE RURAL MAIL ROUTES.

Venango County to Be Supplied—Postmasters Appointed.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—On November 1 three rural free delivery routes will be established at Emlenton, Venango, Pa., with three carriers. The routes embrace an area of 35 square miles containing a population of 1,478. The postoffices of Monroe, Lamartine and McKleville will be supplied by rural carriers, and the offices at Marisville and Porterfield to be discontinued.

The following postmasters were appointed today: Pennsylvania—Greenwood Furnace, Huntingdon county, William H. Straub; Vistie, Huntingdon county, Frank L. Ophel; Woodale, Fayette county, Martha Kuhns. Ohio—Darrowville, Summit county, Frank R. Howe.

TELEPHONE COMPETITION.

Keystone Company Will Try to Get a Franchise in Washington.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The Keystone Telephone Company is going to make a decided effort this winter to get a foothold in this city.

The Bell company holds the only franchise here, and heretofore has been successful in preventing other companies from securing a franchise; but Representative Foerderer of Philadelphia and the other Pennsylvanians interested in the Keystone company, have canvassed the situation closely and believe that they will be able to secure a franchise at the coming session of congress.

"I AM A WELL WOMAN ONCE MORE,"

So Say Thousands of Women Who Have Been Cured of Female Weakness By Pe-ru-na.

Mrs. Mary Miller, 17 Old Shield Block, Indianapolis, Ind., writes:

"Peruna is a splendid medicine. I was troubled for five years with frequent headache, dizziness and shooting pains. I grew thin and pale. The doctors tried in vain to benefit me, but nothing seemed to do me any good until I tried Peruna. Eleven bottles made me a well woman once more. I am now enjoying perfect health, my appetite is good, my head clear and I am entirely without pain, thanks to Peruna."—Mrs. Mary Miller.

Pe-ru-na Effects Marvelous Cures in Female Diseases.

If all the praise that is given Peruna by the women could be gathered into one chorus, what a volume of thanksgiving it would make. Never was a remedy so sincerely praised by so many thousands before, in all the history of medicine.

All those women who drag around and yet not take to the bed, all those women who have weakening drains but who manage to keep on their feet, all those women who ache, tremble and throb but will not give up and become bed-ridden, all those women who stagger under their burdens with dizzy head and hot flashes, but bravely attend to their household duties as if they were not sick, all of those women whose nerves are on a keen edge, who struggle along with headache and backache, palpitation of the heart, derangement of digestion—all of this vast multitude of women are immediately restored by Peruna. It is very rare, indeed that the cure falls far short of the magical.

The first dose begins to make them feel better. The first day is a revelation to them. This goes on day after day, week after week, until they are entirely emancipated from the thraldom of disease.

Pe-ru-na a Boon to Female Sufferers

Peruna eradicates the whole system of catarrh. This explains why it so quickly and promptly cures catarrhal complaints so peculiar to the female sex.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, O.

Mrs. E. E. Richards, 243 W. 10th St., N. Y. City, writes:

"It is certainly a pleasure to recommend so reliable a medicine as Peruna. Last year my health was broken down, and it took all my courage and nerve force to drag around.

"My husband bought a bottle of Peruna for me to try; and I bless the day he did so, for my recovery started from the first dose and before a month had passed I felt like a different woman as I was well and strong."—Mrs. E. E. Richards.

Peruna seems so admirably adapted to catarrhal troubles of women that it rarely fails to instantly relieve and promptly cure.

No sooner does a woman begin to take Peruna than she feels that a cure is in sight.

Sometimes it is necessary to take it for weeks and even months, but the good effect becomes apparent at once and gradually continues until a cure is perfected.

Five Dollars Enough

TEN $5 TYPES

To Give You a Glimpse of These $5 Hats We Select Ten of Them for Detailed Description.

(1)—A Silk Velour Turban in a charming shade of blue, with a tan-and-white applique felt crown, decked with two quills caught in a bow of white ribbon, the ends of which fall over the back, parting a drooping effect.

(2)—A Tan Velvet Turban with felt crown, trimmed with tubular chenille braid in spiral effect. Two quills thrust through the crown impart a dashing air.

(3)—A Roll Turban in white felt, edged with folds of black satin ribbon. Resting on the crown is a pair of black wings caught at the junction with a long jet buckle.

(4)—A Roll Turban of green silk velvet, flared at the side, with a green felt crown. Coils of velvet and a changeable breast deck the brim. Steel ornaments beautify the back and front.

(5)—A Large Shepherdess of white felt, bound with black silk velvet. Resting lightly on the crown is a scarf of black chiffon which falls over the back in drooping effect. A glossy black parrot completes the garniture.

(6)—Large Black Velvet Hat, trimmed with stitched taffeta silk and a large taffeta bow, with two black quills thrust through the knot.

(7)—A Large Black Velvet Hat, trimmed with taffeta silk ribbon and a pair of nesting parrots.

(8)—A Flat Turban of black velvet, trimmed with two black breasts, caught in front with a black jet cabochon. A cascade of black satin ribbon imparts an additional touch of beauty.

(9)—A Black-and-White Felt Turban, the crown of which is strapped with tubular chenille braid. Two pairs of black wings, two jet buckles and two rosettes of black satin ribbon complete the garniture.

(10)—Small Black Velvet Turban, high roll effect on side, trimmed with black taffeta silk and a pair of black wings resting on the rolling brim.

MONEY comes to most men as a result of hard work—deep thought—close calculation. So when a man buys a hat he says with emphasis: "Five Dollars is enough to pay."

Money comes to most women as a result of even harder work—deeper thought—closer calculation—and only too often in response to an appeal that meets with a grudging response.

So a Five Dollar Bill means a whole lot to a woman.

With this fact looming up we organized our Millinery Department for the fall and winter business, bought the velvets, felts, feathers, ribbons and ornaments, engaged the trimmers, and laid out the working system with one fixed purpose in view—to place before the women of Pittsburgh a line of Trimmed Hats for $5 that they can wear for best with that complacency, pride and satisfaction that comes from the knowledge that one is faultlessly attired.

More than a hundred separate and distinct kinds of Five Dollar Trimmed Hats now await your inspection—your criticism—your selection, in our Millinery Show Room on the second floor. With the entire array in sight (and no two alike) you will certainly find something to your mind. Anyway, we'd like to know what you think of them.

THE RIVER INTERESTS

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

CINCINNATI, Sept. 30.—River 4.3 feet and rising. Raining. Local packets in and out on time. Capt. H. A. Hopkins of Cattlettsburg is here in quest of a light draught towboat. He inspected the Mary F. Golden today. If the boat is bought she will be taken to the Big Sandy river. Capt. William Clark, owner and commander of the towboat Bill Clark, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Adley today on a charge of violation of the navigation laws. The charges were brought to the attention of the United States District Attorney William Bundy by John M. Wright, who acted as engineer on the boat. Wright claims that in August he was the only engineer on the boat, although the law states that two engineers should be in charge. Capt. Clark gave bond in the sum of $500 to appear for trial October 9.

LOUISVILLE—River on a stand; canal, 2.9 feet; falls, 8 inches; foot of locks, 3.3 feet. Business good. Raining. Packets in and out on their time. The price of anthracite coal and Pittsburgh coal has been advanced.

HUNTINGTON—River 3 feet 5 inches and rising. Heavy rain.

WHEELING—River 2 feet 9 inches and slowly rising. Raining. Departed, Bessie Keith, Parkersburg, 6 p. m.

WARREN—River at low water mark. Raining.

BROWNSVILLE—River 5 feet and stationary.

GREENSBORO—River 7 feet and rising. Departed, Columbia down Wednesday; Woodward and Gertrude up.

MONONGAHELA—River 2 feet and rising. Rain all day. Down, Venus.

LOUISVILLE—River 2 feet 6 inches and falling. Raining.

METROPOLIS—River 3 feet 5 inches and falling. Raining. No boats.

MORGANTOWN—River 7 feet 2 inches and rising. Raining.

PARKERSBURG—River 2.8 feet and rising. Down, The Bessie Smith is due from Wheeling tonight. The Valley Belle will enter her regular trade tomorrow between Marietta and Steubenport.

CAIRO CITY—River 3 inches and stationary. Raining.

RAIN INTERESTS RIVERMEN:

Talk in October's Weather Record Would Be Cordially Welcomed.

Rain was falling at all up river points late yesterday and the rivermen are much interested as to the outcome. One thing is certain, if it rains hard enough there will be a rise, but no one looks for sufficient water at this time to cause a shipping stage in the Ohio river. It is possible that the rivers may rise enough to enable light draught packets to resume their respective trades, but this is only problematical.

Ohio river packets have been tied to the bank for two months and during that time have been put in first-class condition for the fall and winter business. October, however, may break the record this year and produce sufficient water to enable the steamboats to resume operations.

Packets Leaving Today.

Elizabeth, Morgantown, 3 p. m.

News of the Rivers.

At 9 o'clock last night the marks at Davis Island dam indicated a depth of 2.9 feet, and the river was falling.

The local steamboat inspectors yesterday inspected the F. K. Hudings and Saturday will inspect the steamer Harbor No. 25.

The Mates' Benefical association gave up its room in the McCune building and rivermen say that they have disbanded for the present.

The towboat T. J. Wood is in the hands of the boiler makers. The water on the Monongahela river has "put her out of business."

If the Ohio river should rise a foot or two it would likely put a stop to the cruise of the pilots, scheduled to start next Monday for Cincinnati.

It is understood that the owner of the Helen M. Gould will go to New Orleans and look over a boat on the ways there, with the view of buying it. The boat in view is said to be the St. Joseph.

Capt. Samuel S. Brown is taking much interest in the crusade started against impurities in Monongahela river water and proposes to have a further analysis of the water of the stream made.

A riffle in the waters of the Ohio opposite the wharf at Davis Island is the resting place of the steamer W. F. Gaylord, which lies bottom up, with the boilers, machinery and furnishings supposedly intact.

The steamers Elizabeth and Gertrude will transfer freight and passengers at Brownsville. The Elizabeth will ply between this and of the Monongahela river until there is good water in the upper pools. She may, however, be able to go through to Morgantown today.

President George Uhler of the National Marine Engineers' association is expected to come to Pittsburgh Saturday to pay the local association an official visit. Association No. 50 has moved into new quarters, in the McCune building, and an effort is to be made to build up the organization.

Rivermen hope that the government will not make the proposed marine hospital a political job. Some are afraid that politics will figure in it. No one has yet arrived from Washington to examine the sites offered and some contend that it will be a year before the building is started.

The annual meeting of the Tennessee River Improvement association is to be held at Florence, Ala., this month. President Rouhad is making efforts to have many of the best-known inland marine men of the country there. Since the association last met congress has appropriated $500,000 for improving that stream from Knoxville to Paducah, none of which is it expected will be spent on the Colbert shoals.

The big towboat Sprague, which is below Helena on her way to New Orleans to go on the docks, has 3,000 horsepower. The other largest towboats on the rivers, the Joseph B. Williams and the J. B. Finley, have each 1,500 and 1,650 horsepower respectively, so that one can judge what the power of the Sprague is. Most rivermen cling to the opinion that the Sprague is too large; that she will not do much more down stream work than the present day towboats, but that she will do good up stream work. In the times of low water pilots say that the Sprague will not be able to handle big tows in the lower reaches. It will take time to demonstrate the points of difference.

TWO CENTS

The Best Investment He Ever Made.

Last winter Mr. W. Gilbert of 1413 West Lexington St., Baltimore, Md., sent two cents to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio, for a sample of Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm, and on July 31st last he sent the following letter, which speaks for itself:

"Your Catarrh Balm has proven itself the "Excelsior" remedy. The Balm was used by my grand-daughter, 9 years old. After spending considerable money and time in treatment by three different physicians, all to no effect, her condition, when she began using your Balm, was as follows: No appetite, eyes swollen and often distended, nostrils swollen and inflamed, throat and mouth ulcerated, speech at times difficult—only a whisper; body a skeleton, no energy; breathing difficult with but little sleep, memory sometimes a blank. Since using your Catarrh Balm her condition is astonishing. 'ALL IS WELL,' and she is rapidly gaining flesh. Let me say that the 2 cents that I sent you for a sample was the best investment I ever made."

Pretzinger's Catarrh Balm cures catarrh, deafness and sore throat. Acts like magic in curing children. A free sample of the Balm can be obtained for a two-cent stamp or a full-sized jar for 50 cents, by sending to Pretzinger Bros., Chemists, Dayton, Ohio. Druggists sell it.

R·I·PANS

My symptoms were loss of appetite, a tired feeling and a great desire for sleeping. When I would go to bed I could not sleep more than twenty minutes without waking from dreaming about horrid things. I had been in that condition for almost six months, and my boss advised me to try Ripans Tabules. After I had taken them a few days I found my appetite improving, so I kept on taking them, and, thank God! I am all right again.

League Games Today.

New York at Boston.

If the baseball fans who live along the Monongahela valley could have laid hands on the weather man yesterday there is no telling what might have happened. This same weather man has a whole lot to answer for, and if he values his life he would better give the hustling little town of Charleroi a wide berth for some time to come.

Yesterday was the time set for the annual visit of the champion Pirates, and the occasion was to have been a gala one. A half-holiday had been declared in nearly all the workshops, so that the employes might be on hand for the reception. The carrying-in boys in the large glass works had trumped up an alleged grievance, and had gone on a one-day strike, just as they do when a circus comes to town. There was not a community within an hour's ride that had not sent word that it would be fittingly represented. In order that things might be run in ship-shape order, Mayor Harry Bentley of the neighboring town of Monongahela was on deck to assist Charleroi's mayor in tendering to the visitors the freedom of the towns.

Champions Were on Hand.

The champions were on hand all right, headed by President Dreyfuss. They arrived in Charleroi at high noon, just about the time Claude Ritchey was taking unto himself a helpmeet up at Emlenton. There was a delegation of about 200 rooters at the Charleroi station to meet the two-times pennant winners, and there were also a brass band and a rain storm. The band players were minus their musical instruments. The owners did not care to take a chance on having the rain take the shine off them, and they promised that if it cleared up they would make up for lost time.

But it didn't clear up. On the contrary, as the day wore on, the rain came down all the harder. At 2 o'clock it was raining, as Honus Wagner said, to beat the band, and it was decided to call the reception off. The champions grabbed their uniform sacks and made a line for the station, where a trainload of excursionists had just disembarked. The crowd wanted to hold the players there and give them a reception, game or no game, but the champs were not hankering for a blowout in the rain, and got back to the city as fast as the train could bring them.

May Get Another Date.

It was a great disappointment to the people up that way, who really meant to do honor to the pennant winners. Had the weather conditions been only half way decent, there would have been a record-breaking crowd out to see the game. It may be that another date will be arranged, as the Charleroi people are more than anxious to see the champions perform at their ball park, and test the strength of their team, which they think is a crackerjack.

President Dreyfuss yesterday expressed himself as being well pleased in the change of affairs in New York. He thinks it will go a long way toward helping out the tangled-up baseball conditions. Mr. Dreyfuss is an admirer of John T. Brush, that is, as a worker for baseball, and says that Brush will spend more money for players than Freedman would. He looks for a very strong team in New York next season. Just what effect this change will have in baseball politics Mr. Dreyfuss did not care to discuss.

Will Neither Confirm Nor Deny.

Regarding that report from Cincinnati, which had Leach and Conroy signing Pittsburgh contracts for next season, the Pirates' president did not care to talk. He would not confirm the report, neither would he deny it, and contented himself with saying that the local baseball public will be given the fullest information at the proper time.

It's a lucky thing for the champions that Manager Clarke, the team's aggressive leader, will return to the game on Thursday, because his presence will be badly needed to help the club on to that record of victories. Conroy has developed an ugly bone felon on the middle finger of his right hand, and will be unable to play. This will necessitate the placing of Wagner at short, so that an outfielder is needed, and Clarke is just the man for the place. If the weather permits the champions will play an exhibition game at Rochester, Pa., this afternoon.

BATTLE OF PITCHERS.

The Brooklyn-New York Series Ends a Tie.

BROOKLYN, Sept. 30.—In a pitcher's battle at Washington park today, the New York team defeated the Brooklyns in the last game of the season on local grounds, 2 to 1. The result makes the inter-borough series a tie, each team having won ten games. Attendance, 1,800. Score:

THE AMERICAN AVERAGES.

Delehanty Leads the Hitters, With Lajoie Second—Dave Fultz the Ross Base Stealer.

The unofficial averages of the American league up to the close of the season show that Delehanty is the American's leading batter, with a percentage of .388 in 123 games. Lajoie is second, with .371 in 87 games, and Hickman third, with .358 in 129 games. There are just 32 players who hit .300 or better.

The Athletics lead in club batting, with a percentage of .289, and Cleveland is second, with .288. The Washington club leads in long hits and total bases, with a total of 871, and Boston is second, with 847. Clarke of Washington leads the catchers, with a fielding average of .951. Carey of Washington is the real leader of the first basemen, with .992. Lajoie leads the second basemen, with .975, and Collins of Boston leads the third basemen, with .944. Wallace is the leading shortstop, with an average of .949, and Lapine leads the fielding list, with a percentage of 1000 in 21 games, but the real leader is Harry Bay of Cleveland, who has a fielding average of .977 in 107 games.

Lave Cross of the Athletics made the greatest number of base hits—193—and Dave Fultz was the champion base stealer, having 57 to his credit.

COLLEGE TENNIS PLAYERS.

The Four Players Left in the Semi-Finals Are All from Harvard.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—The second day's play of the twenty-second annual intercollegiate lawn tennis championship tournament was productive of many more results than yesterday. In the individual championships the four men in the semi-finals are all Harvard men. Today's results follow:

Intercollegiate singles, preliminary round—A. E. Thurber, Columbia, beat R. Schley, Yale, 6—3, 4—6, 6—3.

First round—R. Bishop, Harvard, beat J. Swain, Pennsylvania, 6—3, 6—3; H. Lewis, Yale, beat Burkhalter, Pennsylvania, 6—2, 6—2; F. W. Leonard, Harvard, beat H. J. Rendall, Princeton, 6—3, 4—6, 6—1; W. S. Warland, Harvard, beat M. B. Colket, Pennsylvania, 6—4, 6—2; A. E. Thurber, Columbia, beat R. King, Princeton, 6—2, 6—2.

Second round—R. Bishop, Harvard, beat A. E. Thurber, Columbia, 6—2, 6—2; F. W. Leonard, Harvard, beat H. A. Plummer, Yale, 6—4, 6—0; W. S. Warland, Harvard, beat I. J. Wright, Princeton, 6—2, 6—3; W. J. Clothier and E. W. Leonard, Harvard, beat R. Bishop and W. S. Warland, Harvard, 6—3, 6—4; Clothier and Leonard beat F. B. Alexander and Beals C. Wright, former champions, in an exhibition match, 6—2, 6—3, 13—11.

BROAD AND GRIFFIN.

They Will Go Fifteen Rounds at Meyersdale Tomorrow Night.

Fred Broad of New Kensington, who is open to meet anyone in this vicinity, meets Pepper Griffin of Philadelphia tomorrow night in a 15-round contest, at the Meyersdale opera house. The principals have been in strict training for 10 days. Both men are sluggers, always willing to mix and no doubt it will be a hard contest. Broad will leave tonight and will be looked after by Billy Corcoran and Ed Kennedy.

Football for New Castle.

NEW CASTLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The New Castle High School Athletic Association has organized for the football season by electing the following officers: President, Orien Fulton; secretary, David Harris; treasurer, Louis Love; manager, Cleveland Henry; assistant, Jay Watson. The association has supervision over all the sports of the high school and controls the football and baseball teams.

McCloskey and Zang Matched Again

Frank McCloskey and Eddie Zang have been matched again and this time there promises to be a fight. They were matched last night to go rounds at 114 pounds at Beaver Falls on October 24. Forfeits were put up for weight and appearance.

Grand Circuit Races Postponed.

CINCINNATI, O., Sept. 30.—The Oakley Grand Circuit trotting races set for today have been postponed until tomorrow afternoon on account of rain.

The Auto Races Held Over.

DETROIT, Sept. 30.—Rain has again necessitated postponing the automobile races scheduled for today and tomorrow at Grosse Pointe track, until October 24 and 25.

BASEBALL NOTES.

Messrs. Nixon and Zimmerman, managers of the Alvin theater, and Nathanial Roth, manager of the Elsie De Wolfe Company, have invited the Pittsburgh and Cincinnati ball clubs to attend the performance of "The Way of the World" tomorrow evening.

Irvin Wilhelm, the Pirates' newest pitcher from the Southern league, did not accompany the champions to Charleroi yesterday. On Monday night Wilhelm developed a bad dose of malaria, which cost him a night's rest and a doctor bill yesterday. He reported at Union depot, but was excused from duty by President Dreyfuss.

Claude Ritchey, the champions' clever second baseman, and Miss Sophia Pryor, were married at Emlenton yesterday, and immediately after the ceremony came to this city and took up quarters at the Hotel Boyer. The couple were the recipients of many handsome and useful presents, as well as messages of congratulation from the officials and players of the Pittsburgh club.

Patsy Flaherty, the Carnegie boy who was a Pirate twirler for a short time, and who was the premier pitcher of the American association, pitched for Louisville against Cincinnati on Monday and held the Reds to eight hits and one run. The Louisville team won the game by a score of 5 to 1. Cincinnati is hot after Flaherty for next season, and he has several other offers.

It was a lucky thing for Honus Wagner that he did not follow out his first intentions and make a hurried trip to Emlenton to help out his old side partner, Ritchey, in the wedding festivities, because Ritchey copped a sneak on his relatives and brought his bride to town. Wagner and Ritchey have been almost inseparable companions, as well as roommates, since they have been on the team. They are known as "the cheese sandwich brothers," because both have been known to get up out of bed and go on a hunt after such sandwiches.

REDUCED FARES

To the Big Fair at Burgettstown.

The round trip from Pittsburgh to Burgettstown will be $1.00, September 30 to October 1 and 2. This low rate is made account the forty-seventh annual fair. Excursion tickets will be sold for the six trains running from Pittsburgh Union station to Burgettstown on the dates mentioned, and will be good returning, until Friday, October 3.

HARD PRACTICE AT GREENSBURG

Players on Pittsburgh Eleven Given First Signal Work.

NEW PLAYERS IN UNIFORM

Coach Richardson Is Much Pleased With the Work Already Shown—Kirkhoff Promises to Be a Star Guard.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

Greensburg, Pa., Sept. 30.—Despite a driving rain that continued throughout the entire two hours' practice, the Pittsburgh eleven put in a busy afternoon at Athletic park. Charles L. Barney, the "strong man" of Des Moines, Ia.; William Fightner of Greensburg; C. R. Shirring of Pittsburgh, and John Lang of South Fork joined the squad today, giving Coach Richardson more than an eleven with which to work, and was the first signal practice of the year. A full hour was spent in the various formations, and the big fellows were then coached in the play of their positions.

Other players are expected to reach Greensburg before Saturday's game, but it is not thought they will be used against the Western University eleven, and the line up will in all probability be: Miller and Shrontz, ends; Lang, Fightner and McCutcheon, tackles; Kirkhoff and McNulty, guards; Barney and Shirring, center; Richardson, quarterback; Dushane and Crollus, halfbacks, and McChesney, fullback. Workmen today began the erection of bleachers. Greensburgers are taking a great interest in the eleven, and the practice each afternoon is witnessed by a big crowd of enthusiasts.

Coach Richardson is favorably impressed with Kirkhoff, who will play guard for the local eleven this season. He is 6 feet 3 inches and weighs 250 pounds, and he will be a very strong opponent for Roller when Pittsburgh meets the Philadelphia eleven later in the season. Kirkhoff, by the way, is not a novice in the gridiron game, having played on several of the big western teams during the past couple years. It is also known to followers of football in Western Pennsylvania that Roller is one of the best guards in the business and he has always made it lively for his opponent in the games in which he participated in this city.

TIP FOR THE HUNTERS.

Squirrels So Plentiful They Are Proving a Pest to Farmers.

YORK, PA., Sept. 30.—In the vicinity of Stewartstown squirrels are so plentiful they are proving a pest to the farmers, whose corn fields are being overrun by them. Although the season for shooting squirrels has not yet opened, the farmers are killing the little animals in great numbers, to protect the fields. In one field a half acre of corn was shelled by the animals as neatly and completely as if by human hands.

RETURNED THE CLOTHES.

Smallpox Infected Garments Stolen from a Doctor Are Sent Back by the Thief.

MONONGAHELA, Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Several new cases of smallpox at Black Diamond run, two miles south, have caused some alarm lest the disease be brought to this place. Health Officer John Wickersham has taken necessary measures to quarantine the affected houses and feels that he will be able to prevent a spread of the disease. He has closed the Victory school.

Several days ago a suit of clothes worn by Dr. J. T. Biddle while visiting smallpox patients was stolen. The doctor advertised the fact that the suit was liable to cause trouble to the man who took it. A day later the suit was returned with this note attached:

Dear Doctor: Here are your clothes. Indeed I did not know you needed them so badly. If I catch the small fox you will surely know me, for I am just about your size, so for God's sake do not prosecute me and I will never steal your clothes again.

THE CORONER HESITATES.

No Arrests To Be Made Until Further Investigation into Miss Williams' Death

NEWCASTLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The investigation of the death of Miss Mabel Williams of Conemaugh, who died here September 16, as the result of an operation, received new impetus when Coroner Porter arrived home from Erie county. County Detective McFate left today, under the coroner's instruction, for Johnstown, to continue the investigation. No arrests will be made until his return.

In fact, Coroner Porter may not make any informations. It has not been customary in Lawrence county to leave this duty to the coroner, and he may decide not to establish the precedent in the Williams case. However, it is said the county detective has already prepared informations, which are ready for the coroner to certify, before arrests are made.

Concert For Anthracite Miners.

A concert for the benefit of the anthracite miners will be held next Saturday evening in the Old Second United Presbyterian church, Sixth avenue and Cherry alley, under the auspices of the Welsh sympathizer in this city. The Anthracite Glee club of Wilkesburre will be assisted by local singers. The leading tenor of the glee club, Richard Williams, won the tenor prize awarded at the world's fair cisteddfod at Chicago. The arrangements are being made by a committee representing the city churches, and the Rev. William Surdival, pastor of the South Side Congregational church, is the chairman.

Made the Air Blue.

The members of the East End board of trade gave a smoker in their rooms in Shady avenue last night, which was attended by about 250. The affair was in charge of T. D. Harmon, chairman of the social committee, and was a great success. Corncob pipes and tobies were plentiful and the rooms were filled with tobacco smoke. An orchestra furnished music and vocal solos were rendered by members.

New Battleship's Swift Run.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 30.—The navy department received a cable dispatch today announcing the arrival of Rear Admiral Silas Casey, aboard his flagship, the Wisconsin, at Panama, after an almost unequaled run down the Pacific coast of 3,277 miles in one day less than two weeks. Rear Admiral Casey will assume general command of the American naval forces on the isthmus.

CHAMPIONSHIP OF WORLD WILL BE STAKE

Pirates and All-Star American League Teams Will Meet Next Week.

President Dreyfuss has had his way and the series of games between the champions and an All-Star American league team for championship of the world will be played.

On Monday Dreyfuss sent his ultimatum to Joe Cantillion, who will have the All-Americans in charge. Yesterday a telegram was received from Cantillion, accepting the terms. This means that two games will be played in this city on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week and on Friday and Saturday games will be played on the American league grounds in Cleveland. In case a fifth game is necessary, it will be played on neutral grounds.

It is understood that the men selected to preside over the games as umpires are Hank O'Day, of the National, and Silk O'Laughlin, of the American league. The Pittsburgh club will have its regular team in the field, which means that Bransfield will be back at first base and Wagner at short. This series will no doubt be one of the most interesting ever played.

SOCIETY TO SMILE ON WUP FOOTBALL

LOCAL COLLEGE RENTING BOXES FOR SEASON.

Preparations Active for Opening Game Next Wednesday With Grove City College.

The management of the Western University of Pennsylvania football team is making lively preparations for the opening home game with Grove City at the Colosseum on October 8. The boxes are being renovated and from the way the subscriptions have been coming in the students are of the opinion that the game this season will be well supported by society.

Some of the leading families of both cities have already taken boxes, and it is expected that all will be subscribed for before the opening game. No local football gridiron has ever offered the advantages to the spectators which the well banked seats of the Colosseum afford. The schedule of the university, as altered to suit the playing dates available at the Colosseum, is as follows:

October 8, W. U. P. vs. Grove City college; October 15, W. U. P. vs. Westminster college; October 22, W. U. P. vs. West Virginia university; October 29, W. U. P. vs. Geneva college; November 5, W. U. P. vs. Philadelphia professional team; November 8, W. U. P. vs. Ohio university; November 12, W. U. P. vs. Allegheny college (of Meadville); November 19, W. U. P. vs. Waynesburg college; November 22, W. U. P. vs. Mt. Union college.

MUSKETEER WON BAY SHORE EVENT

Was a Hot Favorite and Captured Race in Easy Style.

SOMBRERO'S HEAVY RACE

Had 118 Pounds Up, Yet Won the Second Event, Beating Out a Fine Field—Claude's Win a Surprise.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 30.—The Bay Shore selling stake, the feature of the card at Gravesend today, was won easily by the favorite, the Musketeer. The Masetto colt was held at the short price of 1 to 4, and simply galloped all the way and won pulled up by one and one-half lengths from Conundrum, who, in turn, was two lengths in front of Bellario.

Sombrero, in the second race, carrying 118 pounds and giving away much weight to his field, led almost from start to finish and won handily from Andy Williams, who closed very strong in the stretch. The weather was clear and track slow. Summary:

First race, 2-year-olds, handicap, about 6 furlongs—Oleflant, 113, Lyne, 5 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; Interval, 109, J. Martin, 6 to 1 and even, second; Squid, 96, Creamer, 40 to 1 and 8 to 1, third. Time, 1:12. Parisienne also ran.

Sombrero at the Front.

Second race, 3-year-olds, handicap, 1 1-16 miles—Sombrero, 118, Shaw, 6 to 5 and 2 to 5, won; Andy Williams, 107, Lyne, 4 to 1 and 6 to 5, second; Oom Paul, 97, Odom, 9 to 5 and 3 to 5, third. Time, 1:48 2-5. Francesco also ran.

Third race, the Bayshore, for 3-year-olds and upward, selling, about 6 furlongs—The Musketeer, 110, J. Martin, 1 to 4 and out, won; Conundrum, 107, Lyne, 6 to 1 and 7 to 10, second; Bellaria, 108, Michael, 7 to 1 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 1:11 3-5. Only three starters.

Fourth race, for 3-year-olds and upward, selling, about 6 furlongs—Suyy, 108, Shaw, 7 to 2 and even, won; Ocluwaha, 99, Smith, 20 to 1 and 6 to 1, second; King Pepper, 113, Gilbert, 7 to 10 and out, third. Time, 1:11 3-5. Maiden, Bluff, Setauket, Lady Sterling and Carroll D. also ran.

Fifth race, for 3-year-olds and upward, 1 1-16 miles—S. Finnan, 111, O'Connor, 11 to 5 and 4 to 5, won; Star of Peace, 104, Redfern, 4 to 1 and 8 to 5, second; The Black Scot, 113, Rice, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:50 2-5. Hot, Tribeshill, Amur, Khital, Dr. Faria, Alsike, Mary Worth and Ben Cotta also ran.

Sixth race, 2-year-olds, about 6 furlongs—Claudea, 102, Smith, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Sheriff Bell, 102, Lyne, 5 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Wild, 99, Michels, 10 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:22 3-5. Lord Turlo, Scoffer, Lowly, Examiner, First Choice, Wyefield, Hackensack and Northern Light also ran.

The Gravesend Entries for Tomorrow.

First race, selling, about 6 furlongs—Knight of Gold, 110; Rudyard, 105; Attorney, Right and True, Semper Vivax, Bernard, 102; Miss Dorothy, 101; Ella Snyder, Christine A., Isis of Wicht, Dinkasie, Albany Girl, 99; Dark Planet, Latrobe, 97.

HARD TESTS FOR COLLEGE ELEVENS

PENNSY AND CORNELL HAVE LIVELY PRACTICE.

Quakers Will Meet Franklin and Marshall and Ithacans Rochester University.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 30.—When the University of Pennsylvania football team meets the Franklin and Marshall college eleven tomorrow afternoon on Franklin field, there will be some curiosity among the followers of the college game to note how the new combination which Head Coach Williams expects to try will result. Drs. Williams and Bull concentrated all their efforts to whipping the 'varsity squad into something like playing form. Only light practice was indulged in, to sort of limber the players up. Punting, passing and running with the ball was the chief exercise. Louis de P. Vail was out and gave the back field candidates a valuable lesson in kicking goals from placement, punting and trying for field goals. The brief instruction bore fruit, as when Vail had finished, Gardiner, Hare and Howard were punting in fine style, and with a marked degree of accuracy.

ITHACA, N. Y., Sept. 30.—The thousand spectators who went to Percy field today to witness the 'varsity football team practice were badly disappointed, for when the eleven lined up only three of the eight 'varsity men were in their places. Owing to the hard work of yesterday and the fact that tomorrow the Ithacans meet Rochester university, nearly all of the old men were given a rest.

FAST PRACTICE WORK.

Grove City's Eleven Has Fun With the Scrubs.

GROVE CITY, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—The excellent work of the college football team has awakened a deeper interest in the game here than has been manifested for several years. The team played its first regular game against the scrubs yesterday, the practice games heretofore being short, and the men being shifted back and forth from team to team, in order to try them out.

In yesterday's game the 'varsity showed its metal by running up a score of 40 to 0, although they allowed the scrubs 18 players on their team. The ball was handled cleanly, only one fumble occurring, while the interference was so perfect that the scrubs could do nothing with it. The team will play Allegheny college at Meadville Saturday.

EIGHT HOUSES BROUGHT $58,000

Are Located in Atlantic Avenue and Were Bought for Investment.

TROLLEY BOOMS FARMS

Duquesne Realty Company Organizes With $100,000 Capital. Mellon Street Houses Sold for $12,000.

Further proof that good residences in the East End are coming to be regarded a first-class investment was furnished yesterday by the sale of eight houses on the west side of Atlantic avenue, near Millvale avenue, Twentieth ward, for $58,000, or nearly $7,300 each. The deal was handled by the Prudential Trust Company. The houses are eight of the twelve which C. S. Dumbleton built last year, and were sold to T. A. Watkins. They stand on a lot 240x110 feet and are built in a row. Each house contains 10 rooms and a finished attic. The walls are brick veneered and the houses have front and rear porches, giving them an attractive appearance. The first four dwellings in the row were sold several months ago.

Mr. Watkins takes these eight houses for an investment and the demand for good residences for first-class tenants in this part of the city should insure a good revenue on the purchase price.

Two Farms Optioned.

Considerable interest is being manifested among property owners along the line of the proposed street car line from West Homestead to the Brownsville road. The line will connect with the city by way of Second avenue and Homestead. It is expected to run, according to the survey, over the hill back of Calhoun park, through the Irwin and Lincoln place properties and in a straight line to the Brownsville road, striking that thoroughfare about 9.5 miles from Homestead. It will then run along the Brownsville road to a point where the Finleyville line intercepts it.

Agents of the company are said to have secured, since September 20, all the right of way needed with the exception of two pieces of land. The road will take a strip of 60 feet wide, for which from $7 to $20 a front foot is being paid.

In anticipation of the benefits which will accrue to the section through which the road will run two farms have already been optioned by well-known realty investors. One of these is the old Law farm of 150 acres. It adjoins Lincoln place, being situated on the hill above Calhoun park. The option is good for 60 days. The other farm is the Kennedy farm, which is located across the main road from the former, on the opposite side of the ridge. This is under option for 60 days at $700 an acre. Both farms are well adapted for lot plans. Another option on the Kennedy farm was secured some time ago by the promoters of a steam railroad, which was said to be a Carnegie project. The owners of the farm were paid $2,500 for the option, but no deal was closed and it is said the proposed railroad has passed into other hands.

New Company a Money Maker.

The Duquesne Realty Co., the formation of which was announced in The Gazette last week, met yesterday and elected the following officers: President, A. J. Kuhn; secretary, R. M. Fry, treasurer, J. O. Miller. The first two are members of the Homestead Realty Co., and Mr. Miller is a real estate dealer of Duquesne. The company will have a capital of $100,000, divided into 2,000 shares of $50 each.

At the meeting it was voted to accept two offers, a total of $46,000, for 18 lots situated around the Carnegie library at Duquesne. Twelve of the lots will be sold for $30,000 and the remaining six for $16,000. As the whole plot, which was purchased from the Carnegie Land Co., cost the company originally only $58,000, and as they will have over 100 lots left after making the proposed deal, it is evident their investment will prove a profitable one. As soon as the charter is secured the sales referred to will be closed.

Squared Up Its Purchase.

The deeds have been delivered in the transfer from E. M. Ferguson to the Commonwealth Real Estate and Trust Company of the Dallmeyer block in Fourth avenue. The consideration is understood to be $475,000 instead of $500,000, as first reported. In addition to the Dallmeyer block proper the Commonwealth company gets title to a plot, 38x20 feet, at the southwest corner of the building and adjoining the present holdings of Marie C. Watson in Fourth and Wood streets, Pittsburgh. This gives the Commonwealth a rectangular-shaped plot, facing 99.6 feet in Fourth avenue and extending back 85 feet. The company is well located in the Fitzsimons building, where the Commercial National bank, which is affiliated with it, will take up its quarters in a few days.

The directors bought the Dallmeyer block as a permanent home, they having already seen that the rapidly increasing business of the company would soon make necessary new and larger quarters. The leases in the Dallmeyer block expire in two years, when the Commonwealth will erect a handsome office building on the site.

A $12,000 Residence Sale.

Through the agency of George T. McDonald, Attorney Leander Trautman has sold to Jesse H. Moore a property on the west side of Mellon street, near Jackson street, for $12,000. The residence is a handsome buff brick house of the reception hall type, and stands on a lot 40x100 feet. The purchaser will occupy the property as a home.

The same broker sold for B. O. Gray to C. E. Kruger a 10-room frame house, on a lot 45x200 feet, on the east side of Robinson street, near Fifth avenue, Thirteenth ward. The property extends through to Darran street and brought $7,500.

Frances C. Cohen has sold to Patrick McAllister, the property at Nos. 1332-4 Penn avenue for $16,000. The lot measures 53x100 feet. It is improved with two brick buildings.

A 10-room residence on the north side of Locust street, near Magee street, Sixth ward, has changed hands for a consideration of $10,000. It was formerly owned by Kappel Klebansky and was purchased by Louis Raden. The lot measures 36x65 feet.

Rapid Building Project.

The Ward-Mackey bakery, now building at the corner of Liberty avenue and Thirty-first street, is progressing at a rapid rate. After a long delay the steel frame was started on August 14 and on September 25 was completed. The brick work, which was begun August 10, is now up to the third floor. The building contract is in the hands of H. C. Kreusler, who has 200 men working on the plant, under the direction of Supt. J. Harnish.

A building permit was taken out yesterday for the new St. Anne's Roman Catholic church to be erected at Gilmore and Fulton streets, Eighth ward, at a cost of $15,000.

William O. Speer has been granted permission to build two 11-room brick houses in Friendship avenue, between Evaline street and Winebiddle avenue, Twentieth ward. The dwellings will cost $18,000.

Other Pittsburgh building permits issued yesterday were as follows: George A. Jones, for five two-story frame houses in Western street, near Sylvania street, Thirty-sixth ward, to cost $7,500; Dr. Thomas F. Cochran, a two-story brick building at Sterling and Saulsbury streets, Twenty-seventh ward, $2,000; George Sinclair, a brick and frame stable in Center avenue, near Negley avenue, Twentieth ward, $4,000; George Boyd, a brick house in Webster avenue, near Thirty-third street, Thirteenth ward, $2,000.

The Pennsylvania Light, Heat and Power Company took out a permit in Allegheny, yesterday, for a one-story brick addition to the company's power plant on Ontario street, Ninth ward, to cost $10,000. The addition will be erected at once.

Five Houses Change Owners.

ACHSAH KING'S MURDERER NEXT

Joseph Allen to Be Arraigned in Criminal Court Today.

RIVER PIRACY CASE FALLS

William Harris Convicted of Shooting Patrolman Joynt. Police Could Not Convict Alice Carey of Selling Liquor.

Joseph Allen is to be arraigned in criminal court today for the murder of Achsah King in Curran's saloon, at Sixth and Wylie avenues.

In Judge Collier's branch of criminal court yesterday Harry Stinkel and his son, John H., were tried for larceny. They were arrested July 30 on Neville island while gathering, as they claim, slag from the property of the American Wire and Steel Company. The good reputation of the defendants was admitted by the prosecution. The jury took but a few minutes to acquit the defendants.

William Harris, colored, was convicted of felonious assault and battery for the shooting of Police Officer John Joynt at a patrol box at Elm street and Wylie avenue, August 6. Harris' defense was that the officer shot himself while shooting at him, and that he had only fallen asleep on the doorstep of the house where he was arrested by Joynt. Judge Collier sentenced Harris to the penitentiary for two years.

Robert Askins and George W. Danridge, colored, were tried before Judge Stowe on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes and $2 from the bedroom of some Poles on July 27. The jury on returning its verdict wrote on the back of the indictment: "We find George W. Danridge, the man with the white collar, guilty. Robert Askins not guilty." Danridge was sent to the workhouse for eight months.

The following were found guilty: Patrick Furey, felonious assault and battery, for striking Patrolman Daniel Pinkerton on the head; Lawrence Painter, assault and battery committed on Bessie Hawkins; Ida Ellsworth, keeping a disorderly house, sentenced to the workhouse for four months; George Green, misdemeanor; Anthony Herney, assault and battery on Fida Exler, sentenced to 15 days in the workhouse.

The jury acquitted: Alice Carey, alias Alice Myers, charged with selling liquor without license and selling on Sunday, dividing the costs in the case. Judge Stowe ordered that the costs placed on Police Inspector John Lennix, prosecutor, be set aside.

The following were acquitted: Alphonso Bucher, assault and battery, John A. Angell, prosecutor, costs divided; Margaret Ort, assault and battery on Patrick Pryle, costs divided; Maggie Kipp, misdemeanor, Fred Langhorst, prosecutor, costs divided; Ida Ellsworth, selling liquor without license, H. Relsmeyer, prosecutor.

The following sentences were imposed: Lydia Tracey, who was prosecutrix in a case against Louis Lawson for cutting a skirt, ordered to pay the costs; William Crane, who pleaded guilty to a misdemeanor, usual sentence; E. S. Brown, pointing firearms, Inspector Fred Will, prosecutor, three months to workhouse.

SAYS HE WAS LIBELED.

New York Man Sues W. J. Friday for $10,000 Damages—Bankruptcy Cases.

John Cornell of New York city entered suit in the United States circuit court yesterday against W. J. Friday & Co., of this city, for $10,000 damages, alleging libel. The plaintiff was employed by Merrill & Baker of New York, and avers that W. J. Friday, president of the defendant company, wrote a letter to Merrill & Baker, charging that Cornell passed a bogus check for $80.

The plaintiff says he was referred to as a "slick individual," and that the writer said that the company was anxious to locate "the man calling himself John Cornell." The plaintiff denies all the charges in the letter which, he says, are responsible for his losing his position.

Justus Mulert, receiver in the bankruptcy matter of Jacob Shapira, filed his account. Exceptions were filed to the discharge from bankruptcy of Samuel and Lillie Cosel, of Tyrone. William A. Snyder and Mildred A. Morrow of Pittsburgh were discharged from bankruptcy.

In the bankruptcy case of S. K. Spear & Co., of DuBois, the sheriff was directed to sell the property and retain the proceeds until further orders from court.

The report of the sale of the property of Thomas E. McCumpey of this city was made, and will be confirmed unless exceptions are filed within 10 days.

The grand and petit jurors for service at the October term of the United States district court were drawn yesterday. The term begins October 22. The grand jurors are:

Frank C. Orr, Pittsburgh; Frank Blessing, Pittsburgh; Izaiel Harlan, New Castle; George C. Walden, Elk county; William W. Blake, Altoona; Robert D. Crawford, Freeport; C. F. Hartung, Harmony; H. H. Barber, Greensburg; Robert A. Roehm, McKeesport; John H. Jones, Pittsburgh; L. D. Houck, New Castle; John M. Pender, Pittsburgh; Howard S. Butterbaugh, Indiana; Roland Swope, Curwensville; W. H. Fredericks, Pittsburgh; W. P. Haskinson, New Freeport; F. L. Pilfogly, Ridgway; Henry Waco, Pleasantville; William W. Porch, Johnstown; Arthur L. Lowry, Sewickley; Alfred W. Springer, Uniontown; P. L. Livengood, Elk Lick; John L. Wells, Erie.

Among those on the petit jury are the following from Pittsburgh and surrounding territory:

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

A Remedy Which Has Revolutionized the Treatment of Stomach Troubles.

The remedy is not heralded as a wonderful discovery, nor yet a secret patent medicine, neither is it claimed to cure anything except dyspepsia, indigestion and stomach troubles, with which nine out of ten suffer.

The remedy is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets or lozenges, containing vegetable and fruit essences, pure aseptic pepsin (government test), golden seal and diastase. The tablets are sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. Many interesting experiments to test the digestive power of Stuart's tablets show that one grain of the active principle contained in them is sufficient to thoroughly digest 3,000 grains of raw meat, eggs and other wholesome food.

Stuart's Tablets do not act upon the bowels like after dinner pills and cheap cathartics, which simply irritate and inflame the intestines without having any effect whatever in digesting food or curing indigestion.

If the stomach can be rested and assisted in the work of digestion it will very soon recover its normal vigor, as no organ is so much abused and overworked as the stomach.

This is the secret, if there is any secret, of the remarkable success of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets, a remedy practically unknown a few years ago and now the most widely known of any treatment for stomach weakness.

This success has been secured entirely upon its merits as a digestive pure and simple, because there can be no stomach trouble if the food is promptly digested.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act entirely on the food eaten, digesting it completely, so that it can be assimilated into blood, nerve and tissue. They cure dyspepsia, water brash, sour stomach, gas and bloating after meals, because they furnish the digestive power which weak stomachs lack and unless that lack is supplied it is useless to attempt to cure by the use of "tonics," "pills" and cathartics which have absolutely no digestive power.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets can be found at all drug stores and a trial proves the merit of one or two of them after meals will demonstrate their merit better than any other argument.

SHIRAS GOES TO WATCH CONTEST

Hearing of Ring's Attack on Him in Dauphin County Court Today.

FLINN AGAIN DISCLAIMED

The United Action of Democracy Will, It Is Believed, Be Taken Account of in Contested Nomination Proceedings.

George Shiras III., the Citizens-Democratic candidate for congress in the Twenty-ninth district, left last night for Harrisburg to attend the hearing of the contest instituted by agents of the Allegheny county machine to keep his name off the ballot in the Dauphin county court today. Mr. Shiras is confident that he has right on his side. If the court decides in his favor the decision will settle all the congressional nomination contests in this county. Mr. Shiras, before leaving last night said:

"This is really a contest to determine whether the Democrats are to be permitted to select their own candidates, or whether, at the instance of ring supporters, technical objections are to prevail and disfranchise the party in voting for the Citizens candidates for congress and the legislature who are opposing the ring nominees. Never in the history of the Democratic party were their actions more united or harmonious in convention, in their committees, and with their executive officers.

An Effort That Will React.

"This action of the Democrats in fusing with the Citizens party has been most heartily supported by the rank and file of the Democratic party. The half dozen men whom the machine has compelled to sign objections, are, with hardly an exception, men who are known as ring Democrats, or were public employes who were coerced into signing. This effort of the ring to disfranchise Democratic voters will react, it seems to me, with great force. As one whose nomination is contested in court, I have nothing to say either as to the merits or the probable result of this litigation. That will be for the court to determine."

Chairman A. C. Robertson of the machine county committee and John Bradley, chairman of the campaign finance committee, began yesterday to try to neutralize the probable effect on the campaign of Senator William Flinn's connection with the present fight. Bradley, when asked whether Flinn had contributed any money to the machine organization, replied, "Not a dollar." Chairman Robertson said emphatically that Flinn had no connection with the machine any more.

Desperation of the Machine.

"We are satisfied of the regularity of the indorsement received from the Democratic organization," said Chairman W. R. Hays of the Citizens' campaign committee. "It is only a ring trick to split up the fusion movement, but it cannot prevail. We shall rely on the law and the evidence to prove our position is correct. We have gone too far in this movement to have overlooked any technicality whereby the ring can interfere with our joint campaign. We expected that some such move would be made and have discounted it already. It is only regarded by our friends as an admission of the weakness of the ring cause.

"I am really surprised that the ring should thus show their despairing condition to the public at large. This is a fight to the last ditch with the ring, and in their desperate straits they will resort to all sorts of artifice. If they can't get the votes themselves, they will try to prevent us from getting them. They have only succeeded thus far in strengthening the cause of the Citizens movement, for they have disgusted many who still had a few atoms of sympathy for them."

More Meetings Announced.

The machine's executive committee made arrangements yesterday for mass meetings as follows: Tuesday evening, October 7, public school hall in the Third district of Wilmerding; speakers, R. H. Jackson, Harry M. Scott, Archibald Mackrell and Col. W. E. Thompson. Wednesday evening, October 8, public school hall, Brushton, Thirty-seventh ward; speakers, Thomas J. Ford, Harry M. Scott, Archibald Mackrell and Col. W. E. Thompson. Thursday evening, October 9, Kean's auditorium, Butler street, Seventeenth ward; speakers, William M. Benham, James Francis Burke, Col. Henry Hall and Thomas J. Ford. Thursday evening, October 16, Harugan hall, Spring Garden avenue, Seventh ward, Allegheny; speakers, Congressman W. H. Graham, Senator C. A. Muehlbronner, C. Samm and H. I. Riley. A rally was arranged for October 23 in Pitcairn; speakers, John C. Haymaker, R. B. Scandrett, Col. W. E. Thompson and John F. Hunter.

Robert H. Lindsay and the five other delegates to the meeting of the National Association of Republican clubs, in Chicago, will leave this afternoon.

Senator Quay Here Today.

Senator Quay will be in Pittsburgh again today. He has engaged rooms at the Hotel Duquesne.

Mass meetings of the Citizens' party were held last night, one in Baldwin township, addressed by R. U. Heath, William Boate and John Campbell; the other at No. 1115 Carson street, addressed by James W. Brown, J. H. Burtt and Joseph H. Vitchestain.

Tonight Citizens' mass meetings will be held in the Bane schoolhouse on the Hill Top, at Hays station, in the schoolhouse in Wilmerding and at No. 6260 Butler street.

Many meetings are scheduled for tomorrow, the most important being the one at Kenwood lawn, in the heart of the most thickly populated part of the East End.

Big Parade Tomorrow Night.

The biggest street parade of the season will precede the meeting. The parade will be in three divisions. The following will speak: Dr. George W. McNeil, R. H. Douglas, D. J. Hole, W. B. Rodgers, Thomas M. Brown, Daniel Ashworth, the Rev. D. H. Geisinger, Maurino Cancillero, J. M. Foster, J. J. Miller and J. R. Macfarlane. Other meetings will be held tomorrow night as follows:

Hoods' hall, Carnot, to be addressed by J. W. Brown, S. G. Porter, George H. Stengel and Joseph H. Vitchestain; at Verona, in Crookson's hall, to be addressed by W. S. Woods, R. T. McElroy, S. C. Bailey and Robert G. Wright, with the Welsh miners' quartet; at the Franklin school hall, Eighth ward, to be addressed by L. S. Levin, J. M. F. Foster, P. J. Donahoe, H. A. Clay and James Evans; at Coultersville, Snedden's hall, T. C. Jones, J. B. Hershey and A. B. Stevenson will be heard; at Glassport, to be addressed by E. M. Trich, J. P. Dunn and W. A. Carney.

Held on Murder Charge.

GREENSBURG, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Coroner Wynn this afternoon held an inquest into the death of Mrs. E. E. Miller of Jeannette, who was shot by her husband, near Burrell, on Friday night. The jury recommended that Miller be held to answer the charge of murder before the grand jury. Mrs. Miller died early this morning.

Society

THE Daughters of the Confederacy will hold their annual convention in Lexington, Va., beginning October 8. Mrs. William McCullough Grafton of Sewickley, president of the Pittsburgh chapter, has been elected delegate, but because of illness will not be able to attend. As none of the other members of the chapter can leave for the south at this time, the Pittsburgh chapter will not be represented this year.

The local chapter is small. Its members include the little band of southern women who have married Pittsburgh men and come to make their homes in the north, and others whom business interests have brought to Western Pennsylvania, together with their daughters. They are representatives of southern families whose homes were in the south prior to the civil war, and with other women of the south thus banded together have done much to relieve suffering and distress resulting from that national crisis.

The Pittsburgh chapter is composed of the following women: Mrs. William McCullough Grafton, president; Mrs. Darwin S. Wolcott, vice president; Mrs. Frank Paulson, recording secretary; Mrs. Severn P. Ker, treasurer; and Mrs. Davis A. Deane, Mrs. Robert Palmer Kelly, Mrs. Edward H. Gilmore, Miss Mena Wolcott, Miss Helen Ker, Miss Eleanor Patton Chew and Mrs. Henry T. Atwood, whose marriage took place early in the summer.

Sorosis President's Day.

President's Day will be observed by the Sorosis club this afternoon at the Hotel Schenley. The meeting will take the form of a musicale and tea. A very enjoyable program has been prepared which will be presented by Mrs. Myron Stowell, Miss Annie E. Tindle, Jean Louis Ferrero and Theodore Rentz. The ladies who assisted in the summer playground and vacation schools this season will make their reports. Mrs. Samuel A. Ammon, treasurer of the joint committee of women's clubs, will tell of the financial support given. The Sorosis gave generously to the work of the playgrounds and schools, and it is said an additional sum will be turned over to the treasurer from that club to aid in meeting the added expenses of the committee. The women from the Sorosis club who gave their time to the children in the playgrounds and vacation schools were Mrs. H. L. Wright, Mrs. Henry J. Bailey, Mrs. W. S. Berry, Mrs. C. H. Bronson, Miss Elizabeth Bronson, Miss Anna Bray, Mrs. Alfred E. Clark, Miss Alice R. Davidson, Mrs. A. V. Holmes, Miss Alfred Longmore, Miss Louisa A. McComb and others of the club who were at home part of the summer and assisted occasionally.

Allegheny Day Nursery Reception.

The annual reception and donation of the Allegheny Day Nursery and Temporary Home for Children, at No. 207 West Ohio street, will be held tomorrow, from 2 to 10 p. m. The association recently purchased a new home and the debt incurred has left an empty treasury. The managers hope that the friends of the institution will help them out of their difficulties tomorrow. Mrs. William A. Black of No. 420 Graham street, Pittsburgh, telephone No. 1082-3 East, will be glad to confer with persons who cannot visit the home but who would like to contribute supplies. Financial subscriptions can be sent to Mrs. M. L. Barr, the treasurer, at No. 4725 South Atlantic avenue, Pittsburgh. The officers of the Home are: President, Mrs. S. R. Sloan; vice presidents, Mrs. J. McConnell and Mrs. C. L. Rose; recording secretary, Mrs. A. Rodabaugh; corresponding secretary, Mrs. J. A. Allison; donation secretary, Mrs. W. A. Black; treasurer, Mrs. M. L. Barr.

Preparing for the Congress.

Notices will be issued in a day or two inviting the presidents of all women's clubs and societies to a meeting at the Twentieth Century club house, in Duquesne way, October 6, at 10:30 o'clock, to confer with the chairmen of committees having in charge the arrangements for the Mothers' congress, which will be held in Pittsburgh the latter part of the month. Plans will be made for entertaining the delegates. The Mothers' congress will be conducted in the chapel of the First Presbyterian church, in Wood street, and prominent speakers from all parts of the country will make addresses.

A Birthday Party.

A birthday party was given on Monday evening at the home of Alfred Sweitzer, Princeton place, which was very pretty and enjoyable. Among the guests were Miss Lydia Goodwin, Miss Maud Yourd, Miss Dora Gurahan, Miss Grace Reid, Miss Essie Bennett, Miss Irene Ellwood, Miss Amelia Levy, Miss Blanche Bond, Miss Nellie Lowry, Homer Searle, Will Strain, Walter Adams, Clyde Criswell, T. J. Lowther, Victor Levy, Reed Jamison, James Jamison, Lawrence Lowry, Stewart Goodwind, Albert Guthrie, Stewart McLauren, Verner Scott and the Messrs. Goldsmith.

Wedding Day Appointed.

The wedding of Miss Jean Wallace Duncan and John A. McDowell, whose engagement was announced in the spring, will take place on October 14. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Duncan and the late William A. Duncan of Allegheny. Mr. McDowell is a son of James A. McDowell of Perrysville avenue and a grandson of John A. Brashear, acting chancellor of the Western University of Pennsylvania.

Annual Reception and Donation.

The managers of the Reformed Presbyterian Aged People's Home announce the annual reception and donation day on Friday, October 10, from 2 o'clock until 10, at the Home in Lafayette avenue, Allegheny. Donations of money, groceries and useful articles for the Home are needed.

Notes of Events.

Last Saturday, in London, England, a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Edwin H. Lemare. Mr. and Mrs. Lemare will leave London for Pittsburgh early in the present month, as Mr. Lemare is most anxious to resume his work as organist and director of music at the Carnegie institute.

Invitations were received in Greensburg yesterday announcing the marriage of Miss Anna V. Frantz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Jacob F. Frantz of New Rochelle, N. Y., to Frank Good, of Greensburg, a member of the Westmoreland county bar, on October 16, in the First Presbyterian church, New Rochelle.

The women of the Second Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh have completed arrangements for an old-fashioned chicken and waffle dinner and supper tomorrow. The church is being prettily decorated. The hours for dinner will be between 11 a. m. and 1:30 p. m., and supper will be served from 5 to 7:30 o'clock.

Miss Emma C. Bott and William A. Beckman of Crafton, were married yesterday by the Rev. Father Kelly, at St. Philip's Roman Catholic church, Crafton. Miss Margaret Beckman acted as bridesmaid and J. Solsson was best man. The ushers were Eugene Bott, D. McCue and Frank Crum. The young couple will make their home in Homestead.

Miss Missouri Caughey, daughter of Mrs. Hannah Caughey of No. 8000 Frankstown avenue, was married last evening at 8 o'clock to Harry M. Brown, a popular young business man of Brushton. The marriage took place in the parsonage of the Brushton Methodist Episcopal church, the Rev. B. B. Wolfe, pastor of the church, officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are now at home at No. 4 Blackadore avenue, Brushton.

Post-nuptial cards have been issued by George S. Goodwin of East Liverpool, O., announcing the marriage of Miss Helen M. Fisher of that place, to Dr. J. Bert George, at noon on Tuesday, September 30. On account of the family of the bride being in mourning the wedding was a very quiet one. Dr. and Mrs. George left for the east, immediately after the wedding breakfast. At home cards read after December 10. The bride has many friends in this city.

BANQUETED MR. MUSTIN.

Pittsburgh Stock Exchange Honors its President for His Work in Securing Their New Home.

The handsome rooms of the Monongahela club, in the Peoples Savings bank building, were prettily decorated last night, the occasion being the banquet tendered to William Irving Mustin, president of the stock exchange, by the members of that organization. The affair was the tribute paid to Mr. Mustin for his services in selling in one day 30 new seats in the stock exchange, thereby raising $300,000 with which the Mechanics National bank building was bought and converted into the new home of the stock exchange.

The banquet was not an official affair. No program of toasts had been arranged and the speakers called upon by W. A. McCutcheon, who was nominally toastmaster, simply gave short impromptu talks. The guest list was limited to the membership of the exchange. Those present were: Frank Felton, Mr. Woods, A. M. Speer, W. J. Jones, G. C. Kuhn, N. R. Evans, C. P. Walker, W. W. Chaplin, H. C. McElderwee, J. W. Fleming, Hamp Miller, John D. Bailey, C. J. Holman, A. R. Neeb, J. H. Moore, S. P. Wainwright, H. A. Marlin, W. A. McCutcheon, William I. Mustin, A. J. Lawrence, John B. Barbour, Jr., A. E. Masten, W. E. Patrick, G. L. McFarlane, C. T. Hosg, George A. Wilson, James E. Brown, R. R. Brown, J. E. Boyle, J. M. Askins, D. M. Campbell, Mr. Kirkwood, A. A. Lappe, John M. Anderson, George I. Whitney, P. C. Way, M. D. Ullery, F. E. McClure, C. Morrow, E. C. H. Schmidt, Neville Bayley, A. C. Wettengel, A. R. Penny, R. E. Miles, W. H. Campbell, E. N. Doty, John W. Crawford, W. D. King, W. J. Burns and J. P. Mahan.

On Thursday a reception to the women friends of the members of the Monongahela club will be given.

COLLEGE IS QUARANTINED

Diphtheria Sign Is Tacked Upon a Blairsville Educational Institution.

BLAIRSVILLE, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—Blairsville is excited over the breaking out of diphtheria in the College for Women. Miss Bennie died of the disease on Sunday evening, but it is reported today that a public funeral was held at her home in Bolivar. Yesterday the board of health took up the matter and the diphtheria sign is now up at the college, as well as at the home of Alexander Jamison, on North Spring street, where three children are ill. Two of the Jamison girls were employed at the college.

There are half a dozen students ill with a throat disease, five of them having tonsolitis and one diphtheria. All are closely quarantined. It is thought the trouble will be checked and that no more deaths will result. Miss McKibben of Crafton, who was first ill with the throat disease, has been taken to her home, where her father, Dr. McKibben, is attending her.

Cured of Asthma

After Years of Terrible Suffering.

Mary Josephine Bezy, Floyd Knob, Ind., writes: "After suffering untold agonies for 32 years from Asthma, I was cured by Schiffmann's Asthma Cure. I used to be so bad that I could not move without help, but I can now do all my own work." Another writes: "My little boy 7 years old has been a sufferer for several years, sometimes so bad off that we could not hold him in bed, expecting any moment for him to breathe his last. Doctors did him no good and we had almost given up in despair, when through accident we heard of Schiffmann's Asthma Cure, tried it and it almost instantly relieved him." Mrs. D. C. Harris, Elbow P. O., Va.

Which Is the Greater Philanthropist—This Humble Coal Miner or J. P. Morgan?

"Yes, I Am Cured Myself---But, Better Still, I Am Seeing Thousands of Others Cured."—FREDERICK HAMMANN.

American Bureau, PROFESSOR HOFF CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, New York:

Gentlemen: The Professor Hoff medicine was received in due time. I am not using this medicine myself, but AM SUPPLYING IT TO THE NEEDY FOR THE SAKE OF HUMANITY. Although I must make my living by mining coal I am doing my best to get it into the hands of the consumptive poor. Yours respectfully, Ray, Illinois. G. W. MAHLER.

Recently J. Pierpont Morgan set aside from his many millions a large amount of money—a fortune in itself—to build a magnificent hospital for women, which is now one of the show places in New York City.

Mr. Morgan was very generally, and very correctly, commended for his noble charity.

The writer of the foregoing letter is not a millionaire. G. W. Mahler is an ordinary coal miner. He lives in what a rich man would thoughtlessly term a hut. His three meals a day are the plainest fare, and they are earned by the sweat of his brow.

Yet he counts himself rich—rich in that grand scale which Nathaniel Hawthorne made the standard of his beautiful "Procession of Life."

In that he has a human heart in his breast which, besides sending blood through his veins, feels genuine sentiments of mercy and philanthropy, he counts himself one of creation's capitalists.

Because he has the power to dig coal and enjoy the abundance of health visited upon him he feels himself richer than a rich man. His hut, to him, is a palace. His heart has dictated the duty and the pleasure of giving from his own store of wealth that health which he sees denied people about him. He sees the procession of needy consumptives crossing his daily walk, their grim faces set with despair, and having the power to relieve them, he does it.

Fame being the perfume of noble deeds, which is the more entitled to that fame—J. Pierpont Morgan because of his hospital costing hundreds of thousands, or G. W. Mahler, the Illinois miner?

There is a reason for mentioning this case thus prominently. It is not to give the Illinois miner a meed of praise which may prove embarrassing to him. It is to point an example—one out of thousands of similar cases—of the sort of co-operation meant by the American Congress of Tuberculosis, and by Dr. Herman M. Biggs, and by Dr. Mackenzie, when they said the fight on consumption must be made by the people at large, in all communities.

This sort of co-operative philantropy, costing no man more than an effort, is more effective than the endowment of all the hospitals in the world.

It will CURE tens of thousands of consumptives, visit untold blessings on hundreds of thousands of lives, and remove a large portion of the infectious consumption peril from the world.

Two things only are necessary, and neither of them rob a person of modest means.

First, the MORAL COURAGE to recognize consumption and to proclaim it as consumption, even though a feeling of delicacy is violated.

Second, the philanthropic spirit to put the sufferer in the way of absolute relief at an expense so modest as hardly to be considered.

This is what the American Congress of Tuberculosis said in a resolution, after considering the full report of the cure of Frederick Hammann by the Professor Hoff Cure for Consumption, in Vienna:

"That it is the duty of every government, municipality and INDIVIDUAL CITIZEN to adopt organized methods for lessening the spread of a disease which is causing, directly or indirectly, probably one-fifth of the total deaths in almost every country in the world."

There is but one way to do this—the way in which the present Census Reports of the U. S. Government show it is being done. This is by hearty and philanthropic co-operation between individuals and the American Bureau of the Professor Hoff Cure, the only medicine in the world which has successfully eradicated the disease in a great number of cases.

Before the Summer School in Philanthropic Work, conducted by the Charity Organization Society of New York, Dr. Herman M. Biggs recently dealt a master stroke in the heroic struggle going on between the world's scientists and Consumption.

As Medical Officer of the Health Department of the City of New York, Dr. Biggs knows only too well whereof he speaks when he says that ONE-THIRD OF THE DEATHS IN THE HOSPITALS ARE DUE TO CONSUMPTION!

What a reflection upon humanity this is when Dr. Biggs adds that in the present stage of the great struggle science is making with the king of diseases, EIGHTY PER CENT OF THE CASES OF CONSUMPTION ARE CURED WHEN THE TRUE DIAGNOSIS OF THE DISEASE IS MADE IN TIME, AND THE PATIENT IS MADE ACQUAINTED WITH THE TRUE CURE.

Here at last is an able physician who talks as much of CURE of Consumption as he does of its PREVENTION, and who does not mince words when he points out to the Charity Organization the duty of every man, woman and child possessing any of the sweet quality of mercy.

Everyone in America can be as great a philanthropist as Andrew Carnegie. He can not only make dozens of lives happier for many years by pointing out to some sufferer the way to rid himself of the most ravaging of ills bequeathed to humanity, but he can ACTUALLY SAVE ONE OR TWO, OR EVEN MANY, LIVES WITH LITTLE OR NO TROUBLE TO HIMSELF.

He can further the great work taken up by Professor Hoff in Vienna and prosecuted diligently by the American Bureau established in New York for the purpose of bringing about the widespread co-operation which the records of dozens of the Health Departments of the largest American municipalities show is now going on.

He can do for friends or even chance acquaintances what was done for Frederick Hammann, the first American patient sent to Professor Hoff to test the simple treatment which European medical journals had heralded as the SCIENTIFIC PRESCRIPTION which the world had awaited for a century in its discouraging fight against Consumption.

According to the precept of Dr. Biggs, it is the duty of every discerning person charitably inclined to hunt up some man or woman or child with a cough or with a long-standing cold or with "chronic bronchitis," and to have the moral courage to say to himself and to that person's friends:

Women, ever the gentler and more humane—organize circles for the cure of consumption, as well as sewing circles to clothe the heathen!

The truth is nurtured at every Christian fireside, from youth to old age, that charity begins at home. Is there any fitter subject for charity on the face of the globe than the poor consumptive?

Church clubs search for the most humane and charitable objects to be achieved. Could anything be nobler than the relief of consumptives? In every city and hamlet the need of the co-operation of church clubs is pitifully plain.

It will be remarked that other medicines have been recommended in extravagant language and have proven useless in checking the ravages of the disease which has been more deadly than all the armies of history combined.

But no other medicine ever compounded has had Health Departments issuing statements showing an ACTUAL DECREASE IN THE MORTALITY DUE TO CONSUMPTION SINCE THE MEDICINE CAME INTO GENERAL USE.

If the campaign of merciful co-operation is to extend to every community, it must find those persons who will cast prejudice aside in favor of charity—who are willing to take the initiative.

"The disease is not only preventable, but curable," Dr. Biggs declared to the Charity Organization Society. "It is simply a question of how early a diagnosis is made. It is the most insidious of all diseases. A specialist may declare no indications of it whatever, and in a few weeks it may be manifest to anyone. When there is any question one examination is not enough. When a cough continues for more than six or eight weeks, in a large majority of cases there is back of that cough a tuberculosis focus."

Upon application to Bendiner & Schlesinger, in whose well and favorably known laboratories the work of the American Bureau of the Professor Hoff Cure for Consumption is carried on, full directions for forwarding specimens of sputum are furnished free.

After such an analysis every patient may know with certainty whether or not he is suffering from Consumption, and until the disease becomes so pronounced that the merest tyro can tell it, it is only by such analysis that any certainty may be established. Physical examinations reveal nothing, and this bacteriological laboratory is kept busy by the best physicians in the country.

"When anyone talks to you about chronic bronchitis and continued colds," Dr. Biggs continued, "make up your mind that in a majority of cases a tuberculosis focus is back of it. Then is the time to establish this fact, for then it is easily curable; later it may not be. People so dread being told they have tuberculosis, and physicians are so fearful of alarming them, that tens of thousands die because their physicians have not the moral courage to say to them:

"'This is tuberculosis! Now is the time to take precautions!

"You may think I am a crank on the subject, but I speak from large experience in autopsy work, which tells the story finally and which has told this story."

SAID HE WOULD DIE.

(Copyright, 1902, by Bendiner & Schlesinger.)

Messrs. Bendiner & Schlesinger, New York:
Gentlemen: Inclosed find money order for $1.00 for a bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. Kindly mail medicine as soon as possible.
I was bedfast and the physician informed my relatives that I would die in a few weeks. I am now finishing the second bottle of the Hoff remedy, and am able to walk. Appetite splendid and have gained in flesh. My cough grows lighter each week, and I expectorate less. The medicine has worked wonders in a short period of time. Respectfully,
EDMUND BRUSSELLS.
33 South Yellow Spring st., Springfield, O.

Even in places which have become famous as resorts for the cure of Consumption the fame of the medicine is rapidly extending, inasmuch as it cures patients in such places after the climate has failed to do so.

"Yes, I Am Cured Myself---But, Better Still, I Am Seeing Thousands of Others Cured."—FREDERICK HAMMANN.

Frederick Hammann's connection with the American Bureau of the Professor Hoff Cure for Consumption is now well known to the majority of newspaper readers.

He has communicated to the newspapers during the past week his regret and displeasure that his name is being used, without authority, by alleged "Consumption Cures"—irresponsible persons and so-called research societies, whose purpose is to traffic recklessly in human hopes and human lives.

"Such use of my name," Hammann said, "is sure to result in bitter disappointment and grave danger to persons suffering from consumption who procure other medicines, thinking they are getting the remedy that is being used only by Professor Hoff and the American Bureau for the distribution of his medicine.

"With this American Bureau I am connected—I am giving my life's work to it, and I am made happy every day in the week by the knowledge that hundreds and thousands of others are being cured, simply because I was sent to Vienna by a great and philanthropic newspaper and successfully tested the proof of Professor Hoff's claim.

"I know the desperate feeling of each of these patients when he begins to take the Professor Hoff treatment. Those dark days are more vividly impressed on my memory than any other period of my life. I hope with all my heart that at such a period in their lives few have been deceived by the charlatans who are attempting to make money out of poor consumptives, and that special pains will be taken to see that no medicine is given or allowed to be given to sufferers which does not bear the triangular trademark of the American Bureau of the Professor Hoff Cure.

"No other medicine will cure consumption. Nor is anyone authorized to make a free offer of this medicine, because the Bureau itself must be self-supporting and the minimum charge which will permit it to spread its work as Professor Hoff desires it to spread has been fixed. The charge is modest enough to be within everyone's reach."

Hammann's permanent cure was further proved three months ago by the issuance of an insurance policy on his life by the New York Life Insurance Company, accompanied by a letter from President McCall, expressing his great pleasure that Hammann had become one of the policy holders.

If consumptive is doubtful that he can be cured—though ordinarily he is the most hopeful person in the world, unless his friends have frightened him to a degree where his vitality is at its lowest ebb—or if his friends express a doubt, you may truthfully say to the sick person and to his friends:

"THE RECORDS OF THE NEW YORK HEALTH DEPARTMENT WHERE THE SPLENDID WORK OF DR. BIGGS HAS BEEN CARRIED ON, THERE ARE TWO CERTIFICATES—ONE SHOWING THAT A MAN HAD TUBERCULOSIS CLEARLY DEVELOPED, SO THAT THE ORDINARY MEDICINES OF AN ORDINARY DOCTOR WERE USELESS; AND A SECOND CERTIFICATE, ISSUED AFTER THE PATIENT HAD TAKEN THE MEDICINE PRESCRIBED BY THE AMERICAN BUREAU OF THE PROFESSOR HOFF CURE FOR CONSUMPTION, SHOWING CONCLUSIVELY THAT THE MAN WAS ENTIRELY CURED."

The record of this case was thus made, taken from hundreds of others, so that sceptical people could be convinced and the efforts of the great body of everyday philanthropists, engaged in fighting consumption might be furthered. Here is the patient's own account of it:

TWO HEALTH DEPARTMENT CERTIFICATES.

Messrs. Bendiner & Schlesinger: 890 Eighth avenue, New York.
Gentlemen—I feel in duty bound to tell all suffering from consumption or bronchial affections, and to make generally known the benefit I derived from Professor Hoff's Cure for Consumption.
For two years I had been in poor health and all run down, when in the month of December, 1900, I had an attack of la grippe, which left my lungs in such a condition that I had hemorrhages until I was a pitiable looking sight, and had to abandon my work and stay indoors like an invalid.
I was from bad to worse under the treatment of one of the most skilled and conscientious doctors in New York city. He sent a sample of my sputum to the New York Department of Health to be examined, and in reply received a certificate stating I had tuberculosis.
Through the publicity of the Professor Hoff Cure given by the Journal my wife was tempted to buy a bottle for me.
On August 3, 1901, I began to take it, and before I had used my first bottle my night sweats had ceased and I had resumed my business. I continued the medicine until November 6, 1901, when another sample of my sputum was sent to the Health Department, and they sent a certificate stating that no tubercle bacilli could be found.
To say that our doctor was astounded would be putting it mildly. I have been in perfect health ever since, and this is the first winter in my life that I have not had some kind of a cold. I seem to be immune from colds this winter.
I have only taken three months' treatment of the medicine, from August 3, 1901, to November 5, 1901, inclusive, at a total cost of $5.00, and I have in my possession the two certificates from the New York Department of Health for the above dates, one stating that I had consumption and the other that I had not.
I am willing to show them to any sufferer to prove that the Professor Hoff Cure did cure me. I gain in flesh at the rate of 18 pounds, and I fully believe that I owe my present good health, and possibly my life, to my wife's investigation of the publicity the Journal gave Professor Hoff's discovery.
Hoping this testimonial will be the means of saving some poor sufferer from falling into the hands of so-called consumption cure and fake sure-thing doctors that are willing to take one's life to get money, I am gratefully yours, WHITFIELD WEBB.
P. S.—My doctor is prescribing this medicine to his patients at present.

Here is a pathetic letter from a man who looked over the chasm into the deep abyss where all is dark and silent, and who has not escaped. He is still oppressed by the memory of the awful situation in which he found himself, but his heart is filled with thanks.

"I WOULD BE GONE THIS GOOD WHILE."

Messrs. Bendiner & Schlesinger, American Bureau, Prof. Hoff Cure, New York:
Dear Sirs: Inclosed find $5.00 for which please send me six bottles of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption as I will continue to take it for some time. I am pretty well now, and have started to work once in a while, and that is something nobody around here thought I would be able to do any more. My lungs are getting real good again, and if I continue to take this remedy for about six months or a year I am sure there is hope of being completely cured, although I do not expect to be done at once, as it will take time for a case like mine. If it does cure me it will be well recommended right here in this town. It is already as the people know how far down I was, and now I am working again. I am asked daily what is bringing me about again, and I have given out the booklets.
I am very thankful that I found out about this cure or I would be gone this good while.
Yours truly, ROBT A. DIXLER, 418 Hamilton st., Harrisburg, Pa.

It takes but a short space of time for the good effects of the Hoff medicine to become apparent, as this statement shows:

PASSING IT ON.

(Copyright, 1902, by Bendiner & Schlesinger.)

Messrs. Bendiner & Schlesinger, American Bureau, Prof. Hoff Cure, New York:
Gentlemen: I inclose New York draft for one dollar for one bottle of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. I wish to try the medicine on the recommendation of a gentleman who claims to have been cured of an absolutely hopeless case (according to the statements of his physicians) by the use of the Hoff remedy. Yours very truly,
L. O. MUIR, Tucson, Ariz.

Ministers' wives secure an intimate knowledge of the trials and tragedies of life in their work as their husbands' helpmates, and their opinions as to the merits of things are usually well founded:

HAD A CHANCE TO KNOW.

(Copyright, 1902, by Bendiner & Schlesinger.)

Messrs. Bendiner & Schlesinger, American Bureau Prof. Hoff Cure, New York:
Dear Sirs: I am in a position, I believe, to speak positively of the wonderful merit of Prof. Hoff's Cure for Consumption. Having recently saved, from seeing its curative power in behalf of a young lady, a member of my husband's church, who was given up by the doctors, and given only a few days to live.
Were I not very optimistic regarding the merits of the remedy I would not write you. Very truly, MRS. REV. M. E. SIPLE, Watford, Ont.
Women have been almost as interested in this laudable co-operation as men. The work of this one will bear fruit for coming generations.

APID RECOVERY IN STOCK MARKET

ecretary Shaw's Action Purs More Confidence in Hearts of Speculators.

ONEY ONLY 2 PER CENT

Higher Interest Is Asked in Early Hours, But Close Is Easier. All Securities Regain Losses. Bears Cover Tracks.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 30.—The stock mar- which closed utterly demoralized erday as a result of stringent etary conditions and other un- favorable circumstances, made a sen- ational recovery today. The chief auses for the complete reversal were he action of the secretary of the treasury in removing the restraint on bank reserves and persistent reports from various quarters that the coal strike had at last reached the point where negotiations for a settlement were actually under way. For this last rumor there appeared to be little or no foundation, according to the individual and collective statements of the leading operators made after the regular weekly meeting.

Another influence for better prices was the decline in call money rates, though during the morning loans were made as high as 10 per cent. A large part of the day's loans was made at around 10 per cent, and the rate at the close down to 2, but the rally was nominal, no money being placed at that figure.

Opening prices were better all the way from a fraction to 5 points. Wide openings in which blocks of 2,000, 3,000 and 5,000 shares changed hands, were numerous. The greatest gains were in the standard railway shares, notably St. Paul, Louisville & Nashville (which bore the brunt of the previous day's pounding), Missouri Pacific, Union Pacific, the coalers and a number of specialities.

On the floor of the stock exchange the greatest excitement and activity prevailed during the first hour. Brokers on the short side were covering with all possible speed, and the bull faction was in absolute control. The list manifested a vacillating tendency soon after the first bulge and many of the active stocks whose initial gains had been largest receded from 1 to 3 points.

The opening rate for call money was 12 per cent, but soon advanced to 18, creating general confusion among those committed to higher prices.

The more sensational features of the market developed in the early afternoon on news from Washington intimating that the president and his cabinet had taken steps to terminate the coal strike. In spite of the absence of any confirmation, the market seized upon this announcement, and with the coal stocks in the lead the entire list shot upward. The market developed a buoyant tone in the last hour, though operations were confined largely to the coalers, which were heavily traded in and closed at practically the best prices of the day. The day's operations were in excess of 1,200,000 shares.

Secretary Shaw's visit to the street and his talks with the leading banking interests helped in no small measure to restore confidence. Local banks loaned moderately.

DRUG STORES COME NEXT.

McAleese Announces That His Purifying Program Will Stop Sales of Drug Store Whisky.

The latest idea of Superintendent of Police John McAleese has is to proceed against drug stores where a practice is made of selling whisky on Sunday. He announces that officers are now gathering up the evidence necessary to base informations on and that no time is to be lost in proceeding against the establishments which do a business in whisky behind the prescription case on Sunday. McAleese says the places he refers to are in the downtown section and also in the Fifth and Seventh wards.

Capt. Charles K. Gallant said last night that in addition to selling whisky behind the prescription cases and over the soda water fountain counters in response to the right kind of a wink several drugs stores are selling whisky by the bottle to both men and women, and it is this feature of the illegal trade that has determined McAleese to announce that he is about to move on the drug stores.

MERGER SUITS DISMISSED.

Judge Decides Power and Weidenfeld Not Entitled to Relief.

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 30.—Late this afternoon Judge Amidon of the United States district court, in the anti-merger suit of Peter Power against the Northern Pacific Railway Company, in which Camille Weidenfeld of New York sought to intervene, decided to grant the intervention.

But he also dismissed both the original bill and the bill in intervention, on the ground that the Northern Securities Company should have been represented, and that neither Power nor Weidenfeld were in a position to demand the relief sought through their complaints.

ORGAN RECITALS RESUMED.

Pending Return of Organist Lemare, Substitutes Will Play.

The eighth season of free organ recitals at the Pittsburgh Carnegie music hall will begin next Saturday evening and Sunday afternoon and continue throughout the season on Saturday evenings and Sunday afternoons. Edwin H. Lemare continues as organist and director of music at the Carnegie institute, but his return from his summer in and will, by arrangement with the mu all committee of the trustees, not take place until about the third week in October.

Local organists have been asked to substitute for Mr. Lemare, pending his return, and Walter E. Hall will be the organist for the opening recitals.

BLAMES MURDER ON DEAD MAN.

Russian Arrested for Crime Committed Three Years Ago.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, PA., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—George Sowvich, a Russian, who is accused by Mrs. Mariak of killing her husband, John Mariak, with a beer bottle, at Walston mines, April 3, 1899, was arrested this afternoon, after being a fugitive for over three years.

Sowvich had a hearing and swore that his nephew, Peter Sowvich, who died recently at Windber, was guilty of the murder. He was bound over to await the next term of court and taken to jail at Brookville.

LEGAL NOTICES.

S. K. M'MULLIN & C. W. V. FEIGEL, Attorneys-at-Law, Meeder Law building, Pittsburgh. Pa.: Notice that the following order of quarter sessions court has been filed at No. 28 September sessions, 1902, for the vacation of an unnamed alley in the Twenty-third ward: And now, to wit, this 19th day of September, 1902, upon petition of Charlotte A. Sparks, Reed B. Coyle, Emma V. Suter, J. E. Ash, E. Weber, Ella J. Ulam, S. G. Fulmer, D. W. Wylie, E. Hott, Rebecca A. Neely, I. E. Boor, Rebecca J. Jones and S. W. Jeffries, twelve freeholders of the vicinity, this day presented in open court, praying the court to decree a vacation of the following described public alley in the Twenty-first ward, city of Pittsburgh, viz.: An unnamed alley, beginning at the northeasterly corner of lot No. 41 in George Findley's plan, recorded in plan book, vol. 6, page 202, in the recorder's office of Allegheny county, Pa.; thence in width southwardly along the east side of Lake street, twenty feet; thence easterly at right angle with Lake street, of the same width of twenty feet and forming the southerly boundary of lot No. 41 (126) feet to Renfrew street, as will appear by reference to said petition.
A rule is granted on all parties desiring to be heard to appear in court on the 18th day of October, 1902, at 10 o'clock a. m. to show cause, if any they have, why the said alley should not be vacated and closed up, and the court directs personal service of this rule upon those owning lands bounding and abutting on said alley at least ten days before hearing, and this rule to be published twice a week for four successive weeks in The Pittsburgh Gazette, a newspaper published in Allegheny county.
George W. Miller, Clerk of Courts.

NOTICE is hereby given that an application will be made to the governor of Pennsylvania on the 22d day of October, 1902, by Frank P. Patterson, John D. Evans and A. M. Neeper, under the act of assembly entitled, "An act to provide for the incorporation and regulation of certain corporations," approved April 29, 1874, and the supplements thereto, for the charter of an intended corporation to be called Iron City Transfer Company, the character and object of which is to maintain and operate vehicles for the transportation, for hire, of persons and personal property, and for these purposes to have, possess and enjoy all the rights, benefits and privileges of said act of assembly and supplements thereto.
A. M. Neeper, Solicitor, 1216 Frick Building.

STOCKS BECAME BUOYANT ON DROP IN CALL MONEY.

Net Gains of 1 to 9 Per Cent Scored---Call Loans Closed at 3 Per Cent---Local Securities Dull but Firm.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

The response of the eastern stock market to the action of Secretary Shaw in coming to the relief of the money market was a rebound in values at the opening yesterday. London, of course, had a start of five hours on Wall street in operating on the news—the foreign exchanges opening that much earlier than New York—and it made the most of its opportunity. London quotations for American securities showed advances of ½ to 2 per cent over the New York parity, and foreigners were liberal buyers. On this side the opening was one of the wildest witnessed for many days. Louisville & Nashville opened at 142, St. Paul at 188½, Pennsylvania at 148, Baltimore & Ohio at 106¾, Illinois Central at 131, and New York Central at 157 ex-dividend. The stocks mentioned are the most representative investments in the world. They are always the leaders of any pronounced movement in the market, and the prices quoted showed average gains over the previous close of 4 per cent. The strength of the leaders helped the entire market. Atchison opened 2⅝ higher at 89, and went to 90½; Reading 2½ higher at 66, and Missouri Pacific 2½ per cent higher at 114, immediately rushing up to 117, but later dropping to 113. In the miscellaneous list Sugar was 2½ per cent higher at 125½, and Manhattan 3½ per cent higher at 135½. There was a general feeling that the recovery had been too rapid and violent to last, and commission houses were urgent in their advices to take profits on the bulge. The result was that a rather sharp reaction occurred just before noon, but the market continued broad, and the easier tendency in money encouraged some of the bulls to take back the securities which, with frantic haste, they threw overboard the day before.

The greatest exhibition of strength came in the closing hour of business. Reading was the prominent feature, the stock advancing to and closing at 71¾, a net gain for the day of 7¾ per cent. The only thing tangible in connection with the movement was the fact that a conference had been held in Washington, including President Roosevelt, members of his cabinet and Gov. Crane of Massachusetts, and that the subject of discussion was the coal strike. Mayor Ashbridge of Philadelphia was also seeing that a settlement of the strike would be reached by October 9, but so many dates have been fixed for this happy event and they have passed without fulfillment of the predictions, that little confidence was expressed over the latest prediction. Louisville & Nashville was also very strong, closing at a net gain of more than 5 per cent, on assurance, credited to Banker Morgan, that in the consummation of any deal the minority interest would be taken care of. St. Paul scored the largest gain, 9¼ per cent, and closed at the top. The tone of the market at the close was buoyant, with prices at practically the highest point of the day. The total sales reached 1,212,500 shares.

It was not until near the close of the day that the money market displayed any real ease. The opening rate was 15 per cent bid, indicating that the banks were not disposed to encourage a resumption of rampant bull speculation. The bulk of the renewals was at rates ranging between 15 and 18 per cent. The First National bank loaned $3,000,000 at 18 per cent, and several other leading banks put out amounts aggregating $5,000,000 at the same figure. The rate touched 20 per cent for a moment, dropped to 10, advanced to 15, and then steadily declined until the close, when the nominal quotation was 3 per cent, although there was no loan quoted below 4 per cent. Bankers very generally approve the action of Secretary Shaw in deciding that the usual 25 per cent reserve need not be held against government deposits. They do not, however, approve the policy of accepting other than government bonds as security for deposits of public money. It is not a question of safety, but one of the legality of the action. The fact that it should be adopted is regarded by some as indicating a more serious condition of the money market than anyone has yet been willing to admit. It is suggested, however, that it may have been taken at the request of bankers who are opposed to a resort to an issue of clearing house certificates. In times past when resort was made to this expedient, it is argued, the United States was a debtor nation. At the present time this country is a creditor nation, and the effect abroad of the announcement that the New York banks had been again compelled to issue clearing house certificates would be cited as evidence of financial weakness here. On the other hand, the fact that the excess of public revenues over expenditures is partly responsible for the present stringency, and that the treasury department is willing to resort to extraordinary measures to overcome the drawbacks of an antiquated law, could only be construed as evidence of the soundness of the national finances. The one thing that is inapplicable in the situation is the fact that the prevailing high rates for money in New York have as yet failed to attract any considerable amount of gold from abroad. The only reasonable explanation is that foreign bankers have already loaned as much money here as they regard as safe, or that monetary conditions abroad are not so easy as the quoted rates for money would seem to indicate.

On the Pittsburgh stock exchange there was a falling off in transactions, the sales for the day aggregating 6,188 shares stock and $8,000 bonds. At the opening the tone of the market was hesitating, traders waiting to see the course of events in the east. Later a more confident feeling was manifested, and there was a good demand for the leading specialties. Pittsburgh Coal was the leader, sales reaching 1,100 shares and the stock closing at a net gain of ⅝. River Coal common, which led the dealings the previous day, was not mentioned, but the preferred was a shade firmer on light transactions. The immediate settlement of the anthracite coal strike would not appreciably affect the demand this winter for bituminous coal, the markets for both soft and hard coal being bare, and the maximum output of all the mines being required to meet current demand. It will require many months to replace the normal stocks usually carried, and the coal companies are assured a market for all the coal they can mine and transport. There was comparatively little doing in the steel shares, but the common and preferred of both Crucible and United States were firmer. Window Glass opened at 60, dropped to 59⅝, and recovered to 60⅝, closing at the top. Westinghouse Electric was strong, opening higher, advancing to 109⅜ and closing at practically the best. Air Brake was also higher at 170@ 170½, showing a net gain of ½ at the close. A feature of the late dealings was the activity and strength of Pittsburgh Brewing, which rose to 31½ and closed at an advance of ¾. A membership in the Pittsburgh stock exchange changed hands at $11,250, and advance of $50 over the best previous price. At the close of the market there was a better tone, the absence of selling pressure being quite conspicuous.

PITTSBURGH STOCKS.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

United States Fire Proofing bonds were offered at 70¾.

London was credited with buying 40,000 shares American stocks on balance yesterday.

It is stated that the $4,000,000 gold on the way from Australia will arrive at San Francisco on the 6th inst.

At the close Colonial Trust was quoted at 570 bid, 580 asked, and Commonwealth Trust at 243 bid, 245 asked.

At the opening Hill & Co. bid 29 for 1,000 shares Pittsburgh Coal. H. M. Long was a large buyer of Pittsburgh Brewing.

Holmes & Sons were the sellers and McClure & Way the buyers of the seat in the Pittsburgh stock exchange at the record price of $11,250.

President W. L. Mustin is a bull on Pittsburgh stock exchange seats. During the session yesterday he offered to pay $500 to call a seat next year at $10,000.

Wall street had little time yesterday to give attention to anything except the money market, but several roads made favorable reports of earnings. The Union Pacific reported an increase in net for August of $163,978, and the Canadian Pacific for the same month an increase of $51,289.

The comptroller of the currency has approved of the following selections of reserve agents: The German and Mellon National banks of Pittsburgh, for the Farmers' and Drovers' National bank of Waynesburg; the First National bank of Chicago, for the German National bank of Allegheny.

J. R. Keene was disposed to think the present was a great chance to buy stocks. "The money situation alone," said Mr. Keene, "has unsettled the stock market and the underlying conditions are as safe and reassuring as ever. I think the plan of relief put forth today by the secretary of the treasury will ease the situation shortly."

The current number of the Banker has an engraving of the Hon. Thomas Mellon, founder of the banking house now known as the Mellon National bank. The number also contains an exhaustive statistical article, the first of its kind with one exception Pittsburgh leads all the leading cities in the percentage of growth in the national banking business.

The annual report of the Toledo & Ohio Central Railway Company for the year ending June 30 shows: Gross earnings, $2,877,659; increase, $256,111; net earnings, $705,556; decrease, $45,205. The Kanawha & Michigan Railroad Company shows gross earnings, $1,096,358 99; increase, $171,753 25; net earnings, $210,099 63; increase, $13,044 33.

In announcing the close of the Louisville & Nashville deal George W. Perkins of J. P. Morgan & Co. said yesterday: "The Atlantic coast line property is going to take 54,000 shares of the Louisville & Nashville stock. A syndicate has been formed to take over the shares, and the terms as previously announced—$150 a share—are right. Mr. Perkins would not say what provision had been made for the protection of the minority interest, but it was stated by another member of the Morgan firm that the rights of every shareholder in that company would be conserved.

A local coal man just returned from a tour of the northwest looking over the trade situation, reports that that section is entirely bare of hard coal, and there is an urgent demand for bituminous coal. At Detroit some dealers are exhibiting bills of anthracite as a novelty, as mementoes of other happy days. There was probably never a time before in the history of the soft coal trade when conditions were so decidedly unfavorable.

The Pittsburgh Trust Company, pursuant of its usual custom at the end of each month, last night sent stockholders a statement showing its condition at the close of September. The changes in the principal items show a net gain of more than $185,000 in deposits for the month, which is all the more noteworthy in view of the heavy checking that was in progress during the period covered, and a net gain in total resources for the month of $225,000. The net profits compared with one month ago increase $42,000, the total being $2,191,606 08. The resources foot up $18,238,484.

The effect in Pittsburgh of Secretary Shaw's ruling relieving national banks from the personal amount will be released to the market against government deposits, will be to make available for the money market here about $675,000. According to their last statements United States depositaries in this city hold $2,705,570 of United States deposits. Heretofore they have been required to hold a reserve against the same of a little more than $675,000. Now the balance will be released to the market. The New York banks hold $41,500,000 United States deposits, and will be able to release about $10,000,000. The total United States deposits held by all the banks was reported by the treasury department last night at $134,976,040.

Regarding the sudden decline in money rates, Edward Sweet & Co. wired Robinson Bros: "Early loans were made around 15 per cent, but subsequently rates declined to 6 per cent, and during the last hour the supply of money was so great that it was practically unloanable. The room was surprised at this extraordinary decline in the rates for money, the expectation being that money would not reach normal rates for some days to come. Although the situation has undoubtedly undergone a material improvement, it is not yet devoid of elements of danger. It should be remembered that while abnormally high rates prevailed for money, sterling exchange acted in an unprecedented way and failed to decline so as to admit importations of gold. It is reasonable to suppose that this was caused either by the persistence of a heavy short interest in sterling exchange or else by the fact that our credits abroad are extended to their utmost limit, consequently should rates for money become easy it is a fair presumption that sterling exchange will advance to such a point as to make gold shipments a profitable transaction."

The report of the Pittsburgh clearing house for the month of September and for the nine months of the current calendar year, printed in another column, furnishes a good indication for the present activity in the money market. The exchanges for the month approximated $180,500,000, being an increase of $41,644,804 over the best previous September record. The total for the nine months to date shows an increase of $65,000,000 over the largest previous total for the corresponding period. When the comparison is carried back to 1895, however, the showing is astounding. The total exchanges for the nine months of 1902 exceed the total for the corresponding period of 1895 by nearly a billion dollars. Pittsburgh's growth as a business center, as intimated, throws light upon the monetary situation in Wall street. Pittsburgh requires many millions to handle its manufacture and industry, and the banks here have less idle funds to send east for the use of stock market operators. What is true of Pittsburgh is in a measure true of the entire country, particularly the west, where a billion bushels more corn is to be handled this year than last year. The drawing down of country bank balances held in New York is merely in response to the increased demand for money by the customers of the country banks.

PITTSBURGH FEATURES.

September bank exchanges increased nearly $41,700,000 over same month last year.

Pittsburgh Coal led the market with sales of 1,100 shares, closing firm and ⅝ higher.

Pittsburgh stock exchange seat sold at $11,250, an advance of $50 over the previous high price.

The day's sales on the Pittsburgh exchange reached 6,188 shares and $8,000 bonds.

Bank and trust company shares dull but steady.

Fifteen stocks showed net gains, ten net losses and ten were unchanged.

Pittsburgh Brewing advanced ¾ and closed strong at 31¼ bid.

Coffee and Sugar.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Coffee futures opened steady, with prices 5 points higher, this being a poor response to firmness abroad. The spot was dull and easy. Cables from Santos, which reported a loss of one-third of present flowering and damage to many millions of young trees. The local trade was not much influenced by these reports and there followed a narrow run all day, with prices at one time about 10 points higher on bids from shorts, but later reacting and closing 5 points net higher, on the exception of Jan., which closed 10 points up. Sales only came to 22,500 bags, including October, 5.05@5.10c; December, 5.25@5.30c; March, 5.50@5.55c; May, 5.80@5.85c; August, 5.85c. Sugar—Raw firm; fair refining, 3c; centrifugal, 96 test, 3½c. Molasses sugar, 2¾c. Refined firm.

NEW YORK PRICES.

THANKS TO SHAW ARE INSINCERE

Wall Street Glad of Relief, but Inclined to Criticize the Precedent.

UNCLE SAM AS A BULL

Awkward Delay Before the Released Funds Become Available—A Price-Cutting Campaign Begun in Sheet Steel.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

New York, Sept. 30.—The monetary relief authorized by the secretary of the treasury has given rise to remarkably diverse opinions in the financial world. It is a most striking circumstance that Mr. Shaw should be criticised even in Wall street for his relief policies.

The Wall street attitude is peculiar. Wall street is glad to get the money. The relief comes almost providentially. Nevertheless, they have been saying today that the secretary suffered himself to be talked into a state of mind wherein he decided in a too hasty manner upon momentous innovations and established precedents which, at least, are not open to the suspicion of being ultra-conservative. Brokers and even bankers passed irreverent comments today, in half whispers between themselves, while openly commending the secretary for his course.

In fine, Wall street has got more out of Mr. Shaw than it expected to get, and got it easier than many dreamed would be possible. One of the big traders said this afternoon:

"Why, how are you going to stop a bull market now? Ain't the United States government behind it?"

Received With Open Arms.

The truth of the matter is that Mr. Shaw has done the speculative element a very handsome turn, which the speculative Wall street element accepts gladly but sarcastically.

Mr. Shaw lingered in Wall street today and received the open congratulations of the banking people. He was surrounded by a crowd of newspaper men in the subtreasury when George W. Perkins, one of Mr. Morgan's partners, pressed through the circle of interviewers with outstretched hand, saying loudly:

"I want to shake hands with you, Mr. Secretary, and here is E. H. Harriman, who wants to shake hands with you, too."

Similar felicitations were dealt out to Mr. Shaw at intervals during the day. Banker Fleir had him out to luncheon. But, in spite of all this, the secretary was ill at ease in talking with the newspaper men he showed signs of irritation when pressed for explanations of this or that feature of his avowed policy or when asked if he felt sure that he was within his legal authority.

Early in the morning Mr. Shaw said to the newspaper reporters that he desired slightly to amend his announcement. He desired it perfectly understood that his acceptance of security other than government bonds against government deposits was an emergency measure only, and to be employed as a last resort.

Awkward Delay in the Morning.

One large New York bank telephoned to the United States treasury at Washington this morning, asking to withdraw certain government twos and replace the same with other securities. The Washington people replied that they were without formal authority from Mr. Shaw to confirm any such transaction. There was delay. No bank cared to withdraw the 25 per cent reserves from government deposits on the mere authority of a newspaper announcement, and while formalities were being negotiated with Secretary Shaw there was further delay during which call interest rates ruled between 12 and 15 per cent.

The relief began to be available later in the day, and money finally declined to 4 per cent, which decline was accompanied by a rise in stock values comparable in its violence only to the decline that occurred in the last hour of yesterday. On transactions embracing less than 50,000 "full shares," Reading common advanced eight points, the bulk of the gain having been recorded in the last hour of trading.

The rise was attended with very positive rumors that the strike was on the point of being settled. Details were wanting. The information was widely circulated, however, and many stock speculators bought stocks on the strength of it. Their buying was not confined to Reading. It was calculated that the ending of the strike would be a broad bull factor. Up to the close of business in Wall street it was impossible to find any tangible verification of the reports.

A Price-Cutting Campaign.

The announcement from Pittsburgh, that the American Sheet Steel Company, a constituent concern of the United States Steel Corporation, has cut the price of sheets $5 a ton, produced little or no surprise in trade circles here, but a great deal of interest, nevertheless, attaches to the transaction, because it is considered the opening of a price-cutting campaign in which the steel combine has been involved. Certain independent companies have been underselling the combine on sheet steel. Their activity in this direction had begun to menace the stability of that particular market.

Steel Syndicate's Fourth Dividend.

It is announced that another dividend of 5 per cent, $10,000,000, will be distributed this week to the members of the United States Steel underwriting syndicate. This will make the fourth dividend, $40,000,000 in all, besides the return of the $25,000,000 originally advanced by the underwriters.

It will be recalled that the amount subscribed by the syndicate to guarantee the payment of the first dividend of 2½ per cent on $200,000,000 of which only 12½ per cent, or $25,000,000, was ever called.

There is no information as to how much longer the syndicate will be continued. It should have expired last May by limitation, but it did not.

New Steel Companies.

The Texas Iron Company was incorporated in New Jersey today with a capital stock of $600,000. The attorneys for the companies are Bassett & Thompson of 135 Broadway, New York city. The Bovigon Steel Castings Company is the name of another iron and steel corporation that filed papers of incorporation in New Jersey today. It has a capital stock of $500,000. The incorporators are: D. E. Evarts, Harry Hill, Harry Logan, Charles Halsted and S. C. Lewis.

World's Supply of Grain.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreets show the following changes in available supplies as compared with last accounts: Wheat, United States and Canada, east Rockies, increased, 4,301,000 bushels; afloat for and in Europe, increased, 4,400 bushels; total supply, increased, 8,701,000 bushels. Corn, United States and Canada, east Rockies, increased, 1,047,000 bushels. Among the more important increases reported this week are those of 400,000 bushels at northwestern interior elevators, 275,000 bushels in Manitoba, 191,000 bushels at Newport News, 145,000 bushels at Chicago private elevators, 140,000 bushels at Minneapolis private elevators, 135,000 bushels at Kansas City, 131,000 bushels at Omaha, 73,000 bushels at Burlington and 60,000 bushels at Portland, Me. The leading decreases are those of 109,000 bushels at Louisville and 55,000 bushels at Depot Harbor.

Drygoods Market.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—A better demand is reported today than for some days past in cotton goods and frequent complaints of scarcity of ready supplies in both staple and fancy lines. Tone firm throughout. Print cloths firm, sellers in some cases turning down bids at the quotations. Export trade is heavy obtaining orders. Cotton hosiery and underwear in fair request.

HIGHEST PRICE FOR FOUR YEARS

Wheat Soars to Greater Altitude Than Any Time Since Leiter Deal.

TRADERS ARE LENIENT

Could Have Forced Bears to Pay More to Get Out of Wet—The Available Supply All in Hands of a Few Men.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

Chicago, Sept. 30.—September wheat today sold at the highest price recorded on the board of trade since the famous Leiter deal in 1898, the price reaching 95c, and but for the leniency of the longs the price might have been advanced indefinitely, as all the available supply was practically in the hands of one or two traders. The close on September was at a gain of 7¼c, while December closed ⅛@¼c lower. December corn closed ⅛@¼c higher, with oats down ⅛@¼c. January provisions closed from 2½@7½c lower.

The all-absorbing feature of trading in wheat today was the alleged corner in the September delivery. Early in the session there were sufficient shorts who had neglected covering their contracts to boost the price from 87¼c to 90c, but at this figure there was a lull in proceedings, due to rumors of injunctions similar to the one secured in the oats corner recently. As the session advanced and nothing of this nature materialized, shorts decided further parleying was useless, and there was a grand rush to cover. The result was the price was advanced from 90c to 95c, with scarcely a sale at intermediate figures.

Shorts Able to Buy.

At 95c shorts were able to secure all the necessary stuff to satisfy their creditors, most of the offerings coming from Armour & Co., who have been leaders in the bull movement. The opening was ¼@¾c higher at 88@88¼c. After selling up to 90c, there was a reaction to 87¾c. Then on renewed covering the price advanced rapidly to 95c, and the close was at the top notch, at a gain of 7¼c over yesterday's close. Future deliveries were listless and inclined to weakness. Primary receipts were 1,983,000 bushels, against 1,607,000 bushels a year ago. Minneapolis and Duluth reported receipts of 1,070 cars, which, with local receipts of 357 cars, made the total receipts for the three points of 1,427 cars, against 1,479 cars last week, and 1,583 cars a year ago.

Corn was traded in but moderately, but there was a strong feeling prevalent throughout the entire session. Higher cables and reports of damage to the crop in Iowa from excessive rains were the main bull factors.

Close Comes Higher.

December opened unchanged to ¼c higher at 45⅝@45¾c, and on selling by commission houses there was a reaction to 45¾c, but prices soon advanced again with the top price at 46c. The close was ¼@¼c higher at 45⅞@45¾c. Local receipts were 340 cars, with 97 of contract grade.

Oats were dull, with prices about steady. The feature was the liberal receipts with poor grading. The weather was unfavorable for the movement, which was a rallying factor. The close was slightly lower than yesterday's final figures. December opened unchanged at 20¼c, sold down to 20⅛c, but rallied to 20⅜@20⅝c. The close was ⅛@¼c lower, at 20⅜@20⅝c. Local receipts were 230 cars.

The feature to the provision trade was the buying of nearby products and the selling of later futures. The opening was easier, with considerable January pork for sale. Outsiders were the best buyers, with commission houses sellers. January pork closed 7½c lower at $15.10, January lard was 5c lower at $8.85, and ribs 2½c lower at $8.05.

Estimated receipts for tomorrow—Wheat, 190 cars; corn, 90 cars; oats, 130 cars; hogs, 24,000 head.

The leading futures as corrected by John D. Armstrong & Co., 209 Sixth street, members of Chicago board of trade:

PITTSBURGH PRICES FOR FARM PRODUCTS

Canned Corn Commences to Advance---Good Hay Scarce.

Hay, Grain and Feed.

While there is a considerable quantity of hay arriving daily to-day, there is a scarcity of No. 1 timothy, and the market is steady, with quotations very firm. Bran is coming forward slowly and the market is strong, with prices slightly higher. White middlings are in sufficient supply, with the tone of the situation just about steady. Oats are coming in freely and the demand is moderate, with quotations unchanged and dealers not anticipating any immediate changes in prices. Corn is arriving in quantities just about large enough to take care of demand, and prices are steady. No new corn will now commence to run in sufficient amount to affect the market before the middle or latter part of the present month.

Receipts reported: Pennsylvania lines, 30 cars hay, 10 cars oats; 5 cars rye, 2 cars straw, 4 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car straw; new corn will not commence to run in sufficient amount to affect the market before the middle or latter part of the present month.

Receipts reported: Pennsylvania lines, 30 cars hay, 10 cars oats; 5 cars rye, 2 cars straw, 4 cars feed; Baltimore & Ohio railroad, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie railroad, 2 cars hay, 1 car straw; Pittsburgh & Western railroad, 6 cars hay, 2 cars oats, 1 car straw; total receipts, 76 cars.

Following are the official quotations for hay, milfeed and grain, as reported to and compiled by the superintendent of the Pittsburgh grain exchange:

Straw—Oat, $7 00@7 50; wheat, $7 00@7 50; rye, $7 00@7 50.

Canned Goods.

As predicted yesterday corn has commenced to feel the influence of the light packs of the present year and nearly every advancing local quotations for all grades moving forward since last reported. Tomatoes are selling at old prices here, jobbers hesitating to put figures forward too rapidly, but all assert that advances are coming sooner or later, as present prices are not profitable nor high enough to be commensurate with cost in primary markets. Inside of the next month or two material advances are expected.

Horse Market.

Tuesday is generally the most active day in the week for local horse trading, and the wet weather of yesterday came at a time when the market was most affected by the rain. Selling was slow, with few buyers looking for stock. Arrivals keep up fairly well, with some good horses being received every week. Retail prices are running about at the same figures as for several weeks.

The exchange auction was characterized by light offerings, only about 100 head being up for sale, and these were disposed of at prices which varied little from those ruling last Tuesday. There was the usual run of stock; common, medium and good, with no special features in the way of fancy horses.

IN THE OIL FIELDS

Dry holes are putting in an appearance in the Keener sand pools in Ritchie county, W. Va. Following close after the duster on the William Scott farm, on Wolf Pen run, the Big Knot run development flashes up one of the same kind, owned by M. Finnegan & Co., on the Thorton Lucas farm, nearly a mile west of the gusher district.

The Three Joes Oil Company has drilled its No. 6 on the Elroy Wagner farm into the sand and has a show for a natural producer good for 75 barrels a day. It may get another pay or have its production increased by a shot. The same company's No. 2 on the M. L. Correll farm showed light when drilled in, but a shot made it produce 600 barrels a day. The Three Joes Company has shot its No. 5 on the Wagner farm and increased its production to 15 barrels an hour.

To the north end of the pool the South Penn Oil Company has shot its No. 2 on the Morgan Hemsworth farm and increased its production from 50 barrels a day to 10 barrels an hour.

The production of the pool as shown by the last gauge, exclusive of the wells shot, was 2,125 barrels, divided as follows: Mallory Bros. & Co., 950 barrels; Three Joes Oil Company, 800 barrels; South Penn Oil Company, 125 barrels; Drillers Oil Company, 100 barrels, and Hall, Bronse & Zahniser, 150 barrels a day.

Smith, Wilson & Co. are due in the sand at No. 5 on the Dora Arnett farm. No. 2 on this farm is still holding up at 400 barrels a day. The Cleveland and Parkersburg Oil Company's No. 5 on the Thomas E. Dye farm has dropped back to 540 barrels a day. The Associated Producers have the rig up for No. 2 on the John Morine farm.

In the Cairo district the Creed Oil Company have completed No. 3 on the Creed Collins tract and has a 10-barrel pumper in the sand.

Ritchie County Wildcats.

In several districts in Ritchie county wildcatters are quite active. Near Silver run tunnel, Grant district, J. M. Guffey is starting a well on the J. E. Markey farm. On Bog Comfort run, same district, a local company is drilling a test on the Thomas Kincaid farm.

On Binds creek, Grant district, local talent is drilling a test on the B. Fox farm. On the same stream in Clay district, the Carter Oil Company is starting a test on the James Hammond farm. On Spence creek, Union district, the same company has drilled its test on the C. W. Prissey farm through the salt sand and got a show of oil, but is now drilling to the lower s

VISIT OF SIAM'S CROWN PRINCE

He Is Progressive and His Coming Is Likely to Mean Much.

F. J. TORRANCE HIS HOST

There Will Be No Formalities. Prince Chowfa Maha Valjiravudha Out for Business and Wants to See Things.

The visit of Chowfa Maha Vajiravudha, crown prince of Siam, to this country this month is generally accepted as the opening of a new era in the affairs of that kingdom. Siam is now attaining a stage in its development similar to that which Japan reached 25 years ago, and it is accepted among the manufacturers of America that there is to be a large field for the operations of American capital in that country.

Pittsburgh is one of the cities on the itinerary of the crown prince. The Pittsburgh district will be one of the sections of the country to share most in the coming development of Siam. The reports of exports published by the treasury department show no exports to Siam.

It is an open secret that the crown prince is a leader in the progressive movement which in late years has come upon Siam. His father, King Chulalongkorn, has occupied the throne since 1868, and while his rule has been far more enterprising than that of his predecessors in power, the aggressive modernising ideas have not received from him the encouragement which is expected when the present heir apparent assumes the throne.

No opportunity is to be lost to make the crown prince see such matters in a favorable light while he is in this country. He is to be entertained in each of the American cities by some representative of that city's commercial enterprise. His host in Pittsburgh is to be Francis J. Torrance, first vice president of the Standard Sanitary Manufacturing Company.

"The Pittsburgh visit of the prince is to be strictly a business trip," said Mr. Torrance yesterday. "There will be no formalities, such as a formal reception, but instead the day or so he will be here will be devoted to an inspection of part of the plants of the Carnegie and Westinghouse interests, the Standard Company, and if time allows a window and plate glass factory. We wish the next king of Siam to see what Pittsburgh is producing and how it is produced.

"The party will travel by special train and will probably reach Pittsburgh on the morning of Monday, October 20. That day and, if it can be arranged, the next day, will be devoted to seeing Pittsburgh. I have made plans for nothing more than this. It is his wish that the day be lacking in formalities.

"Accompanying the prince will be the Siamese embassy at Washington, the prince's own suite and a representative of the United States government. Prof. J. H. Gore, who was a commissioner to the Paris exposition and chairman of the bureau of awards, will be with the party."

BURGLAR IN ROOM.

Ex-Gov. Lowndes Orders Tree Cut Down by Which Thief Entered His Home.

CUMBERLAND, MD., Sept. 30.—(Special.)—A large shade tree that stood in the lawn which surrounds ex-Gov. Lloyd Lowndes' handsome residence in this city, was felled this afternoon, much to the surprise of every one. Inquiry revealed that the ex-governor had ordered the tree chopped down on account of a burglar.

His son, Richard, and wife of Clarksburg, W. Va., are his guests. This morning at 4 o'clock the son's wife, who occupied a room alone, was aroused to find a burglar in her room in the act of making away with her costly jewelry.

She called to her husband, who was in an adjoining room. He seized a pistol, but before he could get a chance to shoot the intruder escaped. It was discovered that the burglar climbed the tree to a second-story window and thus gained entrance to the house.

STILL URGING REDUCTION.

Tin Plate Workers' Committee Meeting With American Company Officials.

The result of the conference being held in New York between the officials of the American Tin Plate Company and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers is not yet known in this city. At the headquarters of the Amalgamated association it was stated that no word had been received in regard to the conference.

It is thought by some of the workers that the proposition will be accepted, and that the reduction will go through on export plates. Others, however, say that the proposition, which has been voted down on two separate occasions, will not be accepted by the committee representing the association.

Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant certainly does go directly to the root of all Throat and Lung troubles. There is abundant evidence of this in its sixty-two years' record of cures.

CONVENTION TO BE MADE MEMORABLE

STOCKMEN TO GATHER HERE THIS MONTH.

Annual Convention of National Live Stock Association to Be a Pleasant Event.

Great preparations are being made for the fifteenth annual convention of the National Live Stock association, which convenes at the Hotel Schenley October 17 and continues for two days. The meeting will close with a banquet. This is the first time in 15 years that the national convention has been held east of Indianapolis, and Pittsburgh stockmen will put forth their best efforts to have the convention one of the most successful ever held. Entertainment is being provided for 300 delegates.

The National Live Stock association is composed of members of the live stock exchanges in almost every large city in the country. The conventions settle all problems which cannot be adjusted in the smaller exchanges. At the Pittsburgh convention an unusually large amount of important business will be transacted.

The first session of the convention will be called to order in the ballroom of the Schenley on Friday morning, October 17, by William H. Thompson, Jr., of Chicago, president of the organization. Charles W. Baker, also of Chicago, is secretary, while three of the directors are Pittsburgh men.

Two business sessions will be held daily. The remainder of the time will be used by the reception and entertainment committees to show the delegates the wonders of the Smoky City. Several excursions have been planned.

The banquet at the Hotel Schenley on the closing night will be elaborate. The Hon. Frank McClain of Lancaster, Pa., has been selected as toastmaster. Following the banquet there will be a ball. The decorations will be an especial feature. Many of the delegates will be accompanied by their wives, and the dance is given specially for the women attendants.

The local reception committee is composed of 50 Pittsburgh stockmen, principally brokers from the East Liberty and Herrs Island stock yards. Simon O'Donnell is chairman. The banquet and entertainment committees also have large memberships.

General Manager Simon O'Donnell, after completing arrangements at the Hotel Schenley last night, left for Chicago. He said: "The convention this year will undoubtedly be the greatest in history. The local stockmen will do themselves proud, and we will aim to demonstrate but one fact—that Pittsburgh is the only convention city in the country."

$13.00 EXCURSION TO BOSTON $13.00
Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Oct. 6-11.
Boston Special With Through Sleepers Leaves 5:20 City Time, Every Day Except Sunday.

On account of annual convention Brotherhood of St. Andrew, the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie R. R. will sell tickets from Pittsburgh to Boston, Mass., and return, at the extremely low rate of $13.00; tickets valid for return 30 days from date of sale. The P. & L. E. and New York Central lines have been selected as the official route.

Pimply Faces are a source of mortification and unhappiness to those afflicted. Yet how unnecessary!

Munyon's Witch-Hazel Soap

applied night and morning with a light lather and allowed to dry in will cleanse the skin, soften it, beautify it and eradicate impurities so thoroughly that in a short time the improvement will be apparent to all. Sold everywhere—15 cents per cake.

I want every woman desirous of a beautiful complexion to try my Witch-Hazel Soap. It preserves the creamiest skin and makes harsh skin soft and fresh. I want every person afflicted with skin disfigurements, pimples, blackheads, eruptions, or with hard, scaly scalps to try it. It will cure any skin disorder, and it is a shampoo without an equal. I want every one looking for a medicinal soap and yet a toilet luxury to try it. Nothing else will suit them afterward.—MUNYON.

If you have blood troubles that show in eruptions and pimples, or other disfigurements, use my Blood Cure—it will drive out all impurities. If your liver is out of order and you have moth patches, sallow skin or blotchy complexion I want you to try my Liver Cure. It will give you good health and good looks. If you have indigestion and dyspepsia, preventing proper assimilation of food and causing consequent paleness and that "worn-out" look, take my Dyspepsia Cure. You can then eat all you like, of what you like, when you like—and your skin will glow with youthful freshness.—MUNYON

"THE BIG STORE"

Bankrupt Stock of Van Tine-Constable Co. 428 Penn ave

at ½ Price or less

"The proof of the Pudding is the eating thereof." If you care to find out the excellent chances presented by this Bankrupt Sale to select something unique or artistic for the home you had better come in and look over the balance of the celebrated Van Tine-Constable Co.'s Stock purchased by us from the receiver. Never before have the Rug, Carpet, Curtain, Upholstery and Wall Paper Departments seen such throngs of eager purchasers. A case in point of rapid selling: The 50 Bigelow-Lowell Wilton Rugs advertised by us at $20 each in the Sunday Papers, were all sold before 11 o'clock Monday morning. In order not to disappoint any of our patrons we threw in some of our own Wilton Rugs, although $20 was less than cost price. Of course, this was an exception. Most of the things being of an artistic nature, come ONLY ONE OF A KIND, therefore, after they are sold, duplication is impossible at any price. Hence we cannot too strongly urge upon you the importance of an immediate call. Remember, none of the articles are marked for more than half Van Tine's prices—and many of them for less.

Many New Goods in Our Autumn Opening Are Not to Be Seen Elsewhere.

That is what makes the exhibit more interesting. This is especially true of the Wraps and the Furs, the Costumes and the Tailor-Made Dresses and the Millinery.

Inclement weather though it was yesterday there was a comfortable audience throughout the day and the enjoyment was manifest.

We hope, for your own sake, you were here to enjoy the occasion. It was a pretty sight, the embodiment of refinement in personal and home things, and a splendid demonstration of how rapidly this 53-year-old business continues to grow.

Some details follow for today.

A Fine Piece of News for Women Who Have to Buy Furs.

Fur time is not here, so far as selling is concerned. But we believe many women, who really have to have a new Neckpiece, will buy now, provided they have something unusual offered them.

Here it is:

The samples from which we had our Fur Scarfs and Boas made are for sale. They comprise black, gray and blue lynx, sable and Isabella fox, minks, opossum in all the various dyes, beaver, Persian lamb, etc. Of course, there is only one of a kind. The prices are very far below what such furs will be priced in the regular season. $5 to $30.

In this connection we desire to remind ladies that, as fur will be largely used for trimming this season, we have full and complete lines of all the trimming furs—chinchilla, mink, beaver, otter, broadtail, gray squirrel, Persian lamb and all the foxes.

Prices by the yard are from 50c to $7.50.

Some Readable News of Our New Linens.

October is a great month for buying linens—a good second to January. Our imports are all in, the heaviest we ever brought over, and more diversified.

Following is a readable mixture—something about decorative linens, a little on table napery, some prices on bed linens and on lavatory linens.

75c each for hand-embroidered Linen Table Centers—18x18 inches—$1 goods.

$1.25 each for hand-embroidered Linen Table Centers—24x24 inches—$1.75 goods.

$2 each for Renaissance and Torchon Table Centers—20x20 and 24x24 inches—$2.50 goods.

$3.75 each for Renaissance Table Scarfs—20x45 inches—regularly $4.75.

$3 each for bleached Damask Cloths—2¼x2¼ yards—$3.50 goods.

$3.75 each for bleached Damask Cloths—2x3 yards.—$4.50 goods.

$5.50 each for bleached Damask Cloths—2½x3 yards—regular $6.75 goods.

$8 each for bleached Damask Cloths—2½x4 and 2½x5 yards—$9.50 and $10.50 goods.

$1 a pair for hemstitched Linen Pillow Cases—20x36 inches. $1.25 goods.

25c each for hemstitched "Old Bleach" Huck Towels—size 20x38 inches.

Imported Black Broadcloths the Handsomest Woven.

We show both satin and sedan finishes, $1, $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.50 a yard.

Handsome light weight Black Tailor Broadcloths from Austria, almost as light in weight as drap d'ete, but the most dependable material ever was. Par excellent for the tailor gown. $3, $3.25, $3.50, $4, $4.50 to $6 a yard.

Other fine materials for tailor wear are Black Cheviots and Black Unfinished Worsteds—Lupin's, Michau's and other famous French makes. They come in 52 to 58 inch widths, and sell for $1, $1.25, $1.50, $1.75, $2, $2.50, $3 a yard.

Lupin's Camel's Hair Cloths are considered the finest manufactured. We have them at $1.25, $1.50, $2, $2.50, $3 and $4 a yard.

We could go calling off the best blacks indefinitely, for there are some three hundred designs and qualities alone in the price range from 50c to $1.25 a yard. So you will readily understand why we are styled headquarters for black dress goods.

Raincoat Weather, Therefore, News of Raincoats.

Umbrellas are all right and necessary, but for the rushing busy man or woman the raincoat's the thing.

New waterproof materials, properly tailored and smart looking, are the kind of raincoats we are selling, and at popular low prices.

Men's, $18 and up to $35.

Women's, $10 and up to $28.

Misses' and Children's, $8.50 to $25.

Fall Weddings.

Silks necessary for the bridal and the bridesmaids' dresses. A collection of wedding silks unequaled in the greater city.

Cream white and delicate tints in Satin Duchesse, $1 to $5 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Crepe de Chine, $1 to $4.50 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Satin Striped Crepe de Chine, $1.50 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Moire Antique, $2 to $3.50 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Brocade in moire effects, $2 to $5 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Paillete de Soie, 75c to $1.25 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Peau de Cygne, 75c to $1.25 a yard.

Cream white and delicate tints in Zibeline de Soie, $1 a yard.

What Constitutes the Difference in Boys' Clothing.

You get something more than good material strongly put together when you buy our boys' clothing. These qualities are, of course, essential.

Here, besides all this, you get style, originality, appropriateness, suitability, the fitting of the individual boy with an individual effect. And above all the satisfaction of knowing positively that you have the correct thing at the right price—something that will stand criticism and stand wear and be liked as well in the end for its durability as it was first for its good appearance.

Youths' clothing receives the same careful attention. The style and cut of every garment is absolutely correct in every detail.

Boys' Suits from $4 to $16.50.

Boys' Overcoats from $5 to $25.

Youths' Suits from $10 to $25.

Youths' Overcoats from $10 to $32.

Umbrellas Moderate in Price.

Just the kind one needs for rainy weather.

For men our special Gloria 28-inch Umbrella is a remarkably good one. Only $1. Tight roll.

Then we have 26 and 28 inch Union Taffeta Umbrellas for men at $1.50 each. A better grade at $2.

The foregoing are just good every-day umbrellas that you won't say much about if you should have your callers help themselves to.

For something real fine we have the new London Smoke, a new colored taffeta umbrella, with a very fine tape edge, that we are selling for $5 each. The black, also, in same quality, two sizes, 26 and 28 inches, at $5 each. Best natural handles.

Women's Umbrellas begin at $1 for a good Gloria. The next best is Union Taffeta, $1.50 and $2. Neat princess handles.

The finest Taffeta Umbrellas, with tape edge and natural handles, sell for $4, $5 and up.

The New Laces

were never so pretty and dainty as this season. Our lace buyer plunged on them while abroad. The variety is almost boundless, including the latest novelty, "la Muquet" lace.

There are Lace Robes in cream and in black, that are exquisitely handsome; Paris Neckwear, dressy and chic, including the new chiffon and Ostrich Feather Boas in the new flat shoulder shape.

The least expensive to the very finest.

Velvets, Velveteens and Corduroys.

Fashion says these materials are correct for Fall costumes. We are showing the costumes and also the materials in plain and fancy effects, in all the new color combinations.

Novelties in Pannes, Paons and Velutinas, at 85c a yard, though they are worth from $1.25 to $1.50 a yard.

Goldschneider Art Wares

in delicate tints and exquisite moldings, all the rage in Paris. The specimens in our Bric-a-Brac Department exemplify the "Art Nouveau" ideas to perfection—graceful, odd, striking—and yet less priced, though effective as bronze.
